DEFACE CONVERTIBLE

The Seiple family live down the road a piece from here. Along the road in front of their house stood the little Triumph convertible, innocent, doing nothing to nobody. On a Thursday night while the family was at church, vandals came driving by, smashed eggs all over the thing, and then plunged a fist through a window, damaging the whole top. Now that sort of deed is not a comfortable memory for a gang or an individual to keep thinking about. Those who damaged that convertible ought themselves to get converted!

PRINCE AND THE STINKER!

The other morning I heard our neighbor's big shaggy red dog barking furiously. There in the road was Prince, barking for all he was worth. Horrified I noted the half-grown black skunk bravely facing the big dog. Not budging an inch, except that every moment or two he stood on his front feet and histed his hind feet and tail into the air. Now why skunky didn't turn around and let Prince "have it" I don't know. Unless he was still too young to know his full powers. Finally I yelled "Prince, go home!" He trotted off up the road. The young stinker trotted up the back, pausing often to lift his tail and hind feet menacing into the air. But do you know, I caught but little scent over on our porch?

OH YOU BEAUTIFUL!

Our amaryllis has been getting a fat bulb all winter, lifting itself half way out of the soil. According to our home experts here the thing to do is to feed that bulb like crazy.

They did. Now come two blossoms at the top of a big round tube. They are red like my tie or my sport shirt. But not pink like salmon. They are red. Six big petals stretch out to make the blossoms fully 7 inches across. Now that the blossoms have come the fat bulb is shrinking back to normal. Our home plant fanciers have brought this beauty out to the breakfast table so we can see the loveliness of these two major productions while at meals.

Mrs. William LaBar has returned to her home on Apple Tree Road after having surgery at Nesbitt Hospital. Ira Crawford, Sutton Creek Road, Mt. Zion, was admitted last Thursday to Valley Crest Home.

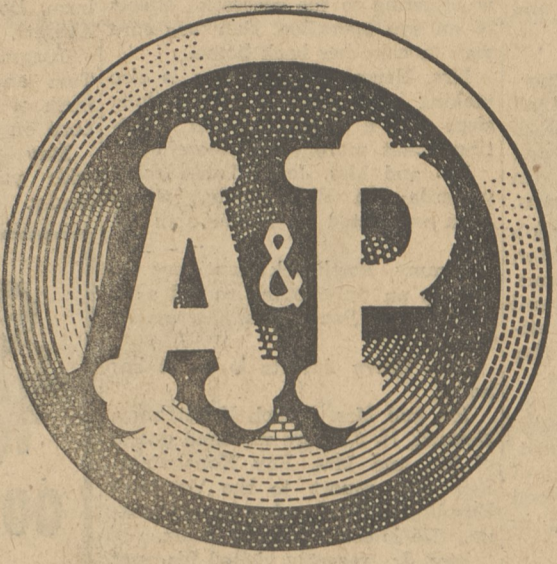

Mrs. Richard King and Mrs. Ralph Swan have been appointed leaders of the first Brownie troop. It will meet on Mondays, and after the first four weeks there will be an investiture ceremony for the new troop members.

Somehow we missed seeing the geese fly south last year. They must have gone just the same, for last Saturday we saw two flocks going back north, having some difficulty with the wind. (I was going to call them a "gaggle of geese", but looked up the word in the dictionary and find they are called that only when at rest. Gaggles don't fly, they just sit and gaggle!)

for negro work in our Methodist Board of Home Missions. In that capacity he got to know a lot of people, among them the Rev. William Reid, father of pastor William Reid Jr., and also by Rev. George M. Bell both of whom had a part in the service. Catherine went with the following: Karen Hronich, Jackie VanTuyle, Nadine VanTuyle, Linda Dymond, Lana Best, Mike Bell, Mal Harris, Hal Seiple, Brad Earl, Larry Earl, Bill Miles, Timmy Earl, Donnie Daniels, Tom Marcy, Mark Anchunas, Joey Anchunas, Wayne Scull, Wayman Smith, and Donnie Parry.
