Lehman

A. F. Cilvik is resting at home after spending some time in the hospital. He is doing very well, and we are glad to see him around again.

Edward Cilvik is at home ill with a bad case of the mumps. We hope to see him around soon.

Mrs. James Davenport and Mrs. Hazel Sharochius of Exeter spent the week in Washington D. C., taking in the beautiful sights of the cherry blossoms.

Dallas W.C.T.U. Institute will be held at Lehman Methodist Church April 21, Mrs. Russell Hoover presiding. Rev. Norman Tiffany will open the meeting with prayer at 10 a.m. Members are asked to bring their box lunch, and coffee and tea will be provided.

Afternoon speaker will be Rev. Warren Hoover, Superintendent of New England Extension District of the Free Methodist Church of Clinton, Mass. Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoover. Everybody is welcome to come.

Happy birthday to: Eric Major, Julie Hoover, April Lynn Chamberlain, Debbie Cook, Harriet Kocher, Mrs. Esther Black, Dr. Lawrence W. Drabick, Lillie M. Connolly, Mrs. Alfred J. Martin, Doris Steltz, Willard Gensel, Russell Coolbaugh, and Debra Mekeel.

Greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lewis, celebrating their wedding anniversary.

Luella Neely Class met recently at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Ide. Miss Letha Wolfe assisted in serving. Mrs. Elizabeth Ide presided at a business meeting. The class donated $25 to the official board of the Methodist church. The following attended: Mrs. A. M. Major, Mrs. Ellen Lamoreaux, Mrs. Joseph Stolarick, Mrs. Sadie Johnson, Mrs. Loretta Miers, Mrs. Martha Rogers, Mrs. Ruth Terranova, Faye Brown, and Addie Searfoss.

Guest speaker at the Methodist Church Sunday was Rev. Richard Hudson, teacher of Bible at Wyoming Seminary.

It is a sure sign of spring, when you ride around and everywhere you look you see anxious people racking and digging in old mother earth. There are so many pretty birds, and we sure welcome the colorful crocuses and daffodils.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nuss attended a Blue Cross conference Thursday and Friday in Philadelphia. On the way back they stopped at Cherry Hill, N. J., to see Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oncay, formerly of Lehman, in their new home, and at Lahaska, New Hope, to visit their daughter and family.

Fernbrook

Mount Zion - Carverton - Orange

Michael Simons, son of Mrs. Margaret Simons, Wilkes-Barre, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shields, R. D. 3, Dallas, is stationed at Camp Barry, Great Lakes Training Center with the Navy. Michael spent most of his childhood in the Fernbrook area with his grandparents. George Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shields, has been transferred to Corpus Christi, Texas with the Naval Air Station.

John Gosart, 113 E. Overbrook Ave., returned home on Wednesday from a two weeks stay at the Veterans Hospital.

Adult Fellowship of Glenview P.M. Church will meet on Saturday evening at 7:45 to honor those celebrating birthdays or anniversaries in April.

George "Skip" Shaver, E. Overbrook Avenue, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaver Sr., Trucksville, spent the weekend in Bethlehem visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conklin and family.

Mrs. Ira Button, E. Overbrook Avenue, had as visitors on Monday Mrs. Edna Pace, New Jersey, and Mrs. Edith Atherholt, West Wyoming.

Jackson Twp.

CORRECTION: There will be no tickets sold at the door for the Roast Beef Supper, 5 to 7 p.m., April 25. The tickets which can be obtained from any member of the W.S.C.S., will be limited to 100.

Birthday greetings to Robert Scrutsky, Jr., who will be one year old on April 22. He is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scrutsky, Chase Road.

Boy Scout Troop 224 held an overnight camp, Friday night, April 10 on Bertram's Hill. Scoutmaster Donald Klaiser accompanied the boys.

Robert Sherwood, Chase, celebrated a birthday Wednesday, April 8. Florence Keefer, Wilkes-Barre, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hughes from Chase Manor, Mrs. Robert Sherwood, daughter Denise and son Scott were present. Instead of the usual cake, there was an apple pie (favorite of the honored guest) all decorated gaily, with lighted birthday candles.

Emergency Drivers' Film Is Scheduled

All Back Mountain fire companies and ambulance associations are invited to attend the showing of two important films of interest to emergency organizations. Tuesday, April 21, 7:30 p.m. in the Dallas American Legion.

To be shown, through arrangements by Dallas Community Ambulance Association and the state police are: "Five Points To Look For", concerning emergency vehicle driving, and "Broken Glass", on impact of auto accidents.

Latest procedures and regulations for driving emergency vehicles will be reported by Corporal John Loftus, Wyoming Barracks, followed by a question and answer session conducted by a lieutenant from the barracks.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Some days ago our friend Cleve LaBar of Kitchen Road was taken to Nesbitt Hospital by ambulance. He was weakened by a persistent virus which needed hospital care. His daughter, Mrs. Roy J. Thomas, had been caring for him at home.

And while we are writing about the LaBars I want to tell you about the nice letter I got from Gene LaBar, "our marine". He's back in Okinawa after going about the Pacific a bit. It's worth quoting: "During my travel in Taiwan, Hong Kong, and China I feel I have seen just how bad off a person can be. I have seen the tremendous gains of a so-called backward people and I have seen how pitifully poor, dirty, and plain miserable they can live, and yet they smile and go on spending their entire life on a small junk. I have covered some ground since last March 9th when I left home, it goes like this. Pa. to Illinois, California, Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa and since I have been here Korea, Taiwan or Formosa, Hong Kong, and China."

Gene further tells me that he has taken lots of slide pictures and wants to show them to his friends "back home" to the "people of our church or charge". He says "I will be back in the states in the next 60 days or less and will take pleasure in coming back to my home."

I hope some kind of meeting can be arranged so Gene can show his pictures and tell about them. I hope somebody will contact me about it so I can write him.

Our friends Charles Banks and daughter Christine from West Pittston came up the other day to see Cathy. This time Charlie brought along a gadget he had made to find worms with. You stick the rod into the ground, and it has a wire connected to the house current. It's made in such a way that only a trickle (or I should say "trickle") of electricity goes into the ground. It tickles the earth worms and they climb the nearest stairs to the surface. Then they become bait for this avid fisherman. It is always a pleasure to have the Bankoses come, and Christine and Cathy have a great time chatting.

The doctor told our Cathy she could have bathroom privilege and so she borrowed Mrs. Mary Lewis' walker to steady herself with on her first walking. Mrs. Lewis told me she had been wishing she could do something for Catherine. Then after a day or so Catherine was carrying the walker instead of the walker carrying her, and so it was time to return it with our gratitude. But Cathy was still upstairs over last weekend. No pain, no itching, in that leg for which we rejoice with her. Also we hope with her that she can be allowed to sing in the oratorio Sunday, for it's the concert dedicated to the memory of our late President Kennedy. Mrs. Balshaw told me that in arranging the seating plan for the concert Mr. Balshaw is saving a seat for her. Her screen is about covered with get-well cards.

Catherine heard and saw a flock of wild geese going north last Saturday morning early. Wonder what day that flock.

Rev. Arthur Mayo, formerly of Truckville Methodist, came over the other day to borrow some African artifacts for us in a service where a speaker from Mozambique was to be on the program. He is now pastor at Clarks Green.

One of the Protestant patients at Valley Crest who enjoys reading "The Dallas Post," noted that my column was "short and sweet". Perhaps my reading public will be interested in knowing that there are now 103 on my list of Protestant patients up there. Some there are especially glad to see The Dallas Post, such as Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Annie Derby, Larry Hummel and Mildred Parent.

A neighbor told me that the Harold Eustices celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Thursday. I was not able to get their line to check on the story. But I remember I did the ceremony, and I think I am right in the statement that theirs was the first wedding in Mt. Zion Church in 30 years! There have been several there since that time.

Last week I wrote about our Apostle Plant that blossomed once a year, and for one day only, and how we had it upstairs for Cathy to see. A letter from our friend over at Beaumont, Mrs. Ada Stone, told how she had such a plant, and it bloomed two or three times in a year. She lost it in the fire. Now, last Sunday ours put out another blossom as if for Cathy's special benefit, for at the time Cathy couldn't focus her eyes or mind on it with her fever. Now she has this edition in her room and has reveled in the beauty of it as seen through her hand lens. Multitudes of tiny hairs, each carrying a droplet of fluid, and giving out a faint perfume.

Sunday afternoon we were delighted when my brother Donald from Binghamton, and his daughter and her husband Mr. Stern A. Lyon drove in for a visit. We all had a good visit together. And also Miss Esther Saxe of Berwick, a teacher over in Dallas, who was formerly one of Catherine's teachers "way back when," drove in to see Cathy and bring her a couple of plants, a violet and an alyssum.

Of course we had to show Esther the violet alyssum and the citrus grove - and the tropical hibiscus (the gift of another former teacher to Cathy, Miss Pearl Averett). And the African plant we call "witch plant" because Cathy grew it from one of the dried rattling seeds in a witch doctor's gourd of witch "medicine" that Dottie brought from Southern Rhodesia.

And Linda Dymond was "just going by" on her Sky-flier bicycle (or probably it was her brother's), and dropped in for a chat upstairs with Catherine.

Professor Joseph Kanner, Wilkes Talks To Junior High School Pupils

In afternoon assembly at Dallas Area Junior High School, grades 7, 8, 9 sat bewitched during a talk on extrasensory perception, given by Professor Joseph Kanner of Wilkes College psychology department.

ESP is defined as the ability to know something by means other than the senses. Professor Kanner explained it as talking with the mind rather than with the voice.

Veteran's Loans

While eligibility for GI loans has been running out for World War II veterans daily since July 25, 1962, the same formula does not apply to unmarried widows of World War II veterans whose death was due to service-connected disabilities.

These widows have the maximum entitlement for the World War II group which extends until July 25, 1967.

Eligibility for Korean Conflict veterans does not begin to expire until January 31, 1965 and their maximum entitlement extends to January 31, 1975. Unmarried widows of Korean Conflict veterans whose death was due to service-connected disabilities enjoy the maximum entitlement to the 1975 date.

The same formula is applied to determine the eligibility of both World War II and Korean conflict veterans. Veterans of World War II with 90 days of active service and a discharge other than dishonorable have entitlement for 10 years from the last discharge from active wartime service plus an additional year for each three months of such service.

or mental telepathy. The youngsters, murmured agreeably when asked whether they would like the power to read their parents' and teachers' minds.

They shook their heads and called out, "no, no," in answer to whether they would grant parents and teachers the same privilege.

Conjuring up images of brain energy pushing bodies away from gravity, electromagnetic waves or impulses raising up buildings or floating tables and glasses around in space, Professor Kanner asserted "the human body manufactures enough energy in 24 hours to lift the Empire State building 3 inches."

Professor Kanner distinguished between Newton's world of fixed and predictable values and the world of Einstein, where time and space are shattered, where there is no yesterday or tomorrow, only today.

We are still in the dark about the world of science in the future, he concluded. Scientific evidence may prove the impossible possible. So far, say psychologists, the answers are all in the mind. "Only education can take you out of the darkness."

Speaker was introduced by Mrs. John P. Whitty, social studies teacher. Arrangements were made by Alfred Camp, music supervisor in the junior high school.

Looks Good In Crew

Report from the athletic department of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., indicates that George Jacobs, Jr., Pioneer Avenue, Shavertown, class of 1966, is a likely prospect for first boat on the crew team. George has been a member of the wrestling team.
