FISHING TIME

Fisherman had a warm day for the first dawn of trout season Saturday although those casting their lines at the Lake reported few catches after 8 a.m. and one old timer told A. J. Moreck that the wind was from the wrong direction for a good catch. Mr. Moreck, who is a confirmed fisherman had as his companion, grandson Charlie Lamoreaux, who has fished with him since he was a little tot.

Allie Daw Heffernan arose bright and early that morning and with young Tommie and Anne selected a good spot at her father's lake front home. Tommie made a fine strike but the big one escaped.

Bill Roberts and Ray Kopetchney headed for Meshoppen where they pulled in a fine mess of catfish and bluegills. Bill prefers this to trout fishing and says they were really biting up there.

William Glahn and son Billy, taking off at 5:30 for Harvey's Lake had four trout before 7 a.m., when Bill, Sr., had to return to get ready for work.

Our fire chief, Bill Frederick and family, also took time off to visit friends in Wellsboro and do some fishing in that area over the weekend.

With the good rainfall Saturday evening, the danger of fire was considerably lessened and Bill could be spared.

Some other residents gave up the lure of fishing to work all day at the Kiwanis Pancake Festival at the High School. Paul Laux, John Marsh and Tom Kreidler put in a full day dishing up the steaming pancakes and hot sausage and selling tickets at the door.

Incidentally John Marsh, who is rather a newcomer to our community has really pitched in to help in a number of worthy projects. He is with the United Fund and we are happy to have him with us.

While some residents fished and others flipped pancakes, those who stayed at home got their lawns in shape. Bill Pethick, who worked in the warm sunshine all day was surprised to find he had acquired a real burn when he settled down for the evening meal.

Also enjoying the pleasant warmth in their garden were Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce, Sr., who returned recently after wintering in Florida.

The hyacinths and daffodils are really bursting into bloom now and Herbert Hill's front lawn is alive with crocuses. Also a pleasant sight is the bed of snowdrops in Jim Alexander's backyard.

HERE AND THERE

Another landmark change as Roushey Street was diverted into W. Center in a matter of a few days. No more cutting up from Whiting's Service Station lot as many were prone to do.

There is curiosity as to whether a new bridge will be built or a new bank bolstered by a wall where Tischler's Store once stood and where some of the ground toppled into the creek. Another weak spot appears likely where Rave's shop formerly stood.

Dan Shaver, our new supervisor, is really on the ball. He spent the last two weekends looking over roads and other matters pertinent to the community, learning at first hand the many problems which face the board.

Many evenings, too, have been given in this service, much like his predecessor, Lester Hauck. These are the kind of public servants we need. All this extra time does not cost the township a penny.

The passing of Clarence Hartwell, last of his family, reminded those who knew him of a fine gentleman, who lived among us for a number of years. He was a fine engineer and a top surveyor.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Martin Porter and Mrs. Mildred Ralston in the loss of their brother, John Miles.

Speaking of the Porters, let me commend Jack Porter for the fine job he is doing as president of the Planning Commission. These men give of their time to make the township a more desirable place. It is amazing how few attend their sessions and really understand what they are trying to do.

In talking with Jim Devlin the other day, I was surprised to learn that his brother, Lee, a civilian employee at Elmendorf Airport, near Anchorage, had been in the Alaskan quake. Jim put in some anxious moments, trying by short wave to contact some operator who might be in contact with the troubled zone. It was a week later until the news arrived that he was OK and then a telephone call, radio message and air letter were received almost simultaneously.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clause had as a recent visitor their nephew, Bill Clause, who is a career man in the U. S. Army and just returned from Alaska prior to the quake. He will be stationed at Fort Meade on his new assignment.

Mrs. Jacob Laux will move shortly to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stephen Waldow, who is putting on an addition to the first floor of her home for her mother.

Mrs. David Linskill and Mrs. William Pethick visited in Barnesville and Pottsville last week.

I don't know how she does it but Mary Lou Swingle is in a sewing mood these days making several new outfits with slippers to match. She is a remarkable gal.

Saw Sally Sieber over the weekend and she tells me that Jeff and his dad were also up bright and early Saturday morning to do some fishing. Mr. Sieber was amused no end on awakening Jeff to find that the eager young fisherman had dressed for the occasion before retiring so that time could be saved

Huntsville Methodist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding last Saturday when Dorothy Neyhard was married to Thomas Cool, both of Wilkes-Barre, with the Rev. Robert E. Miss Neyhard is the grandniece of Alfred Rogers of Huntsville and her great-great grandfather, Dr. Rogers, was one of the builders of the present church during the Year 1877, so the wedding had sentimental attachments.
