Shavertown

Here And There
The bright sunny weather after days of rain certainly brought out the motorists on Sunday, giving us a preview of our busy highways during the summer months.

Pioneer Avenue as usual drew its share of the traffic, some observing the speed limit but others taking advantage to whiz by, far in excess of it.

At Shavertown Methodist Church, parents turned out in great number for Childrens Day with the youngsters presenting a fine program directed by Mrs. Donald Edwards, who does such a great job with the children in many lines of endeavor.

Everyone will be glad when the Center Street corners take on a different appearance. Right now, with a muddy road swinging up to Roushey Street, more of the bank caved in where Tischler's Store once stood and Hall's Parking lot a far cry from the wide smooth pave which once fronted it, what a disheveled scene it presents to visitors. But this is the price of progress.

Elsewhere, the forsythia flowered and tulips opened their bright petals in many a garden and everyone who could, spent some time outside, grateful for two days in succession without rain.

A hand printed sign across from Druid Hills drew the attention of all passersby over the weekend, when the ambitious sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Devlin took advantage of the ample night crawler supply to set up a business. Everyone admires a boy with a little ingenuity and we hope much profit was realized, what with so many eager fishermen around.

The Ladies Auxiliary put on a nice party Saturday evening. Mayetta Roberts made and donated one of the prettiest ceramic cookie jars I have ever seen, and Marie Heidel won the prize which everyone was anxious to receive. Eleanor Frederick's lovely velvet pillows went to Mrs. Earl Henwood, and many a mother went home with attractive dollies for the young fry while the wax begonias pleased other winners.

Our very deepest sympathy goes out to the family of David Joseph. To those of us who knew him well, there will be only one Dave. A former resident of our community, many will long remember his whole hearted effort in aiding the churches and service clubs throughout the area. Few have given more of themselves for so many.

Mrs. George Wolfe is making good progress at Mercy Hospital, where she underwent surgery on Friday.

Note From MacArthur
Mrs. John Rogers, who is so active in Shavertown Methodist Church, Dallas Senior Woman's Club and many other activities was delighted beyond words when she received a thank you from the Douglas MacArthur family last week.

Betty who admired the famous general as many of us did, had sent a get well card when MacArthur entered the hospital and a message of sympathy when he was called before his Supreme Commander. Betty says the note will become one of the family treasures.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to John Butler in the recent loss of his brother, Edward.

Mae and Harold Ash are celebrating the birth of their first grandchild to son, Bob and Janie. The little boy enters a grand family.

We were sorry to lose one of our good neighbors, the Jim Alexanders on Monday. However, we are happy that they will remain in the Back Mountain area and wish them much happiness and contentment in their new home.

Mrs. Demmie Watson, San Diego, Cal., is visiting her mother, Mrs.

Ruth Shaver. On the way east, Demmie stopped to take in the sights at the New York World's Fair.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Yeust on reaching their 45th wedding anniversary.

The John Boltons who celebrated their 50th year of wedlock were kept busy last Wednesday, greeting the many friends who flocked to their home to extend greetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schneider, who took a brief weekend off in many long months to attend the wedding of a niece in New York were shocked and saddened when her mother passed away suddenly during their absence. Mrs. Schneider has cared for Mrs. Rushton for several years, devoting her full time to her parent. Our sympathy goes out to her.

Harold Raynor returned home on Saturday after being a patient for several weeks at Nesbitt Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pramick have purchased the former home of Hilda Stephenson Hughes on Perrin Avenue.

Mrs. Edna Johnson entertained a number of friends on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrew left Saturday to meet their first grandchild, little Eden Elizabeth, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daniels, Philadelphia.

Not only did Mary Ruth give birth to a beautiful daughter but she was also awarded an art scholarship to study in Europe within the same week.

Although I had hoped to cover the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival as a pleasant prelude to a 30th anniversary, such was not possible with Fred off and so the buggies in rather sad shape, so we settled for a night out with Billy and Susie who took us to a lovely dinner. Freddie called from Illinois to extend greetings and a few more bushes and trees were added to the garden, an anniversary ritual we started several years ago.

We have much to be thankful for and although material wealth is not ours, what greater blessing could we ask than the love and devotion of our beloved children, who give life its impetus and furnish the rays of sunlight which pierce many a shadow.

Much pleasure was derived also from the many lovely cards we received from our friends and neighbors and to them we say a sincere thank you.

Birthdays
Greetings this week to Lila Looz, Sandy Moyer, Brenda Clause, Dale Nygren, Frank Fritzinger, Rick Rudy, Gail Rosaire Bynon, Tamara Lengel, Linda Sue Ell, Mrs. Willy Pierce, Sr., Jack Williams, Sally Gill, Robin Templin, Jeff Seiber, Jack B. Kitchen, Lester Schramm, Sr.

RECEIVES FIRST COMMUNION
Andrew Stash, son of Mrs. Betty Stash, Davenport Street, received his First Holy Communion at Gate of Heaven Church, on April 26.

A party was held in the afternoon at his home.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beline and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Chimola and family, Wilkes-Barre, Mr. and Mrs. George Vedor, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kmush and daughter, Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gabel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beck and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Santa Crouse and family, Mr. W. J. Gabel, Dallas; William O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. James Musto, Exeter; Betsy, Marianne, Mrs. Betty Stash and the guest of honor.
