

A Bicycle Built For Two

Gus and Rosemary Kabeschat are shown above ready for a pleasant excursion through the Back Mountain country. Their daughter, Sandy, is patiently waiting while Mom and Dad get the "bicycle built for two" in position.

The Kabeschats Enjoy Traveling By Bicycle

When most people, on Sunday afternoon, are out driving in their cars on the busy highways, Gus and Rosemary Kabeschat and Sandy can be found clocking up the miles around the Hedden Circle on their bikes.

The Kabeschats, avid bike enthusiasts, have had many pleasant picnic outings traveling to the country side on their bikes. But, they usually travel in early Spring and late Fall before the summer traffic starts and after the summer rush on the highways.

The story of the "tandem bike" that Rosemary and Gus now use is a humorous one.

It was a Father's Day gift to Gus, from Rosemary and Sandy, but the big problem was where to hide it until unveiled on Father's Day Morn of last year. Next door neighbor, Miss Margaret Wood, came to the rescue and it was delivered to her home and stored in her storage room. Of course, the big mystery in the neighborhood when it was delivered was, "What is Miss Wood going to do with the "bicycle built for two. The Bob Botsfords, across the street, wondered for weeks until Miss Wood wheeled it out of hiding, Father's Day Morn, and parked it in the Kabeschats' driveway adorned with a great big bow.

However, more than the fun factor that the bikes give is the health factor, for Gus and Rosemary agree it's the best exercise ever, and usually after bike riding, you can walk for miles. Many an evening after the bikes are wheeled in, that's just what they do.

Electric Home; Everything Nice

Electric Home; Everything Nice

What are total electric homes made of? Well not exactly of sugar and spice, but they do have the right ingredients to make living in them a joy.

A total electric house, according to the Live Better Electrical Program of the Edison Electric Institute, is one with flameless electricity as its only source of energy. One in which all appliances, lighting and heating are powered electrically.

It is insulated for the local climate requirements and wired, not only to meet present needs, but future demands as well. It has lighting standards, for every area, outdoors as well as indoors.

Bikes In Boom For Americans

Right behind the first crocus, the door-to-door seed salesman, Junior's first cursh, and other sure signs of Spring, will come an army of 55 million bicyclists. For the ever-growing two-wheel set, Spring is their time. Away hockey sticks and sleds, away boots, skis and galoshes, and out with the faithful two-wheelers.

Spring biking gets an added boost this year in the person of the youngest of the young-in-heart, Dr. Paul Dudley White. As National Chairman of American Bike Month this May, Dr. White is calling for all America to join him. He says, "The bicycle can undoubtedly add years to life, and health to those years. Some of the happiest hours of my life have been spent on a bike. It has kept me young in mind and body." It will do the same for you.

Dr. White has joined the campaign this May because he believes in its merit. He believes it is worthwhile. He also believes, as he has said so often, "Cycling is one of the best ways to achieve and maintain physical fitness."

Throughout May, Dr. White will be campaigning for more cycling for fun and good health by people of all ages, and for increased cycling facilities - more bike paths and trails in our parks and recreation area, more bike tracks, more safe cycling routes in our towns and cities - more opportunity for America's legions of riders to enjoy their health giving sport in safety and pleasure.

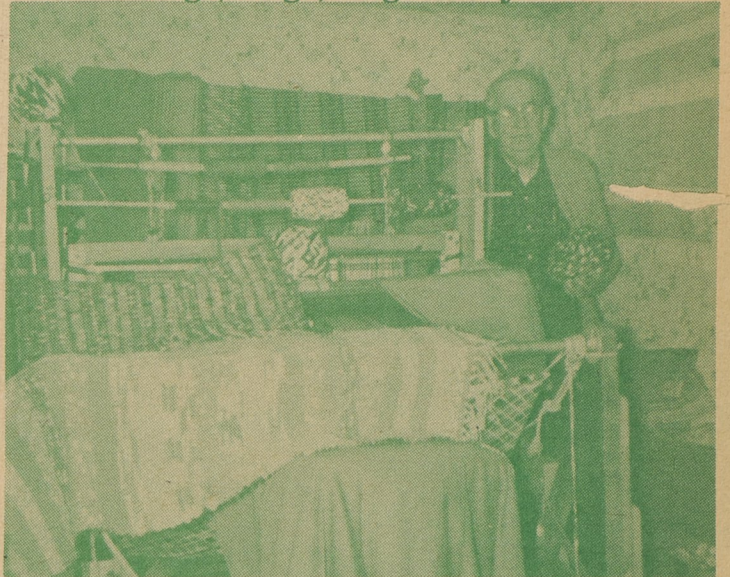

The whole nation, we think, not just bike riders and their parents, should salute Dr. White for his unselfish dedication to the health and happiness of others. And wouldn't American Bike Month be a good time for us to look around our own town, survey our own facilities, and see what we can do to make our own area a safer and happier place for our many riders?

A total electric house is also composed of more abstract things; it must be highly efficient, and give you comfort as well as convenience. It is a house in which these abstract terms will mean even more in the future.

A total electric house is not made of gingerbread but it does epitomize another kind of good taste—the sense of a well-ordered life—and a well-managed one. It is slickly efficient but not gadgety—flameless electric appliances, whether they heat, cook, wash, dry or heat water, fit compactly and blend superbly whether in use or not.

The air in a total electric home is different. It smells fresh and clean.

Rugs, Rugs, Rugs Everywhere!

Mr. Kerlin is pictured with many of his brightly colored rugs and the loom that he uses in making them.

Weaving Attractive Rugs Is Mr. Kerlin's Hobby

Need new woven rugs to brighten your kitchen or bath room? E. R. Kerlin makes lovely ones on his twenty-six inch loom at his home in Kunkle.

Mr. Kerlin, a resident of Kunkle for over fifteen years, is former salesman for Miller Chemical and Fertilizer Corporation. In the winter of 1960, he contracted a heavy cold and was a patient at Creson State Hospital for over a year.

Helped by the prayers of members of Kunkle Men's Bible Class, his loved ones and skilled state doctors, he was able to return to his home in the spring of 1962 in fair health. He is now able to drive a car and weave—an active hobby that keeps his mind off himself and is a small source of revenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kerlin are active members of Kunkle Methodist Church. They have three children, Charles and Mrs. Donald Lungen, Falls, and Mrs. Ruth Shank, Big Pool, Md., six grandchildren and a brand new great grand daughter, the "apple of their eye."
