Tipperary Riding Club Enjoys Beauty Of Endless Mountains

The beauty of the Back Mountain area and neighboring Endless Mountains thrilled members of the Tipperary Riding Club over the weekend when they left Friday on a three day ride.

Formed originally by John Blackman, the group reorganized following the closing of Windy Valley Inn, where they quartered previously.

John Stahl, Shavertown, and John Carey, East Dallas, are the only remaining Back Mountain members. Billy Sgarlat, Forty Fort; William Pokorney, Kingston, and Edward Brislin, Wilkes-Barre, are also active members with the remainder of club personnel coming from Allentown and Bethlehem.

Tip Elston was elected president, John Beahm, vice president, and John Carey, trailmaster.

This is the first the group have taken a spring ride, usually setting the occasion aside until fall foliage is in all its glory, but Mr. Stahl was enthusiastic about the new springtime agenda, which found the area traversed, rampant with all manner of flowering trees and shrubs and breath taking to the spectator.

The three day ride began at Sugar Hollow, went on to Forkston and Tipperary Lodge. The second day's tour took in the Beaver Dam at Colley and Mhoopany area. Dinners were taken at Spruce Lodge, where the men and their mounts returned for Sunday dinner. Rides returned by way of Dutch Mountain. Thirty horsemen participated.

Tunkhamock is called the gateway to the Endless Mountains.

Husband And Wife Have Joint Ear Surgery

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Connelly, Lehman, returned home last weekend after both underwent ear surgery at Geisinger Hospital Center.

They have not fully recovered but the doctor promises much improved hearing in a few weeks time.

The Connellys were much impressed with the excellent care given.

Mr. Connelly was able to get about and met a number of patients who had come to Danville from European Countries for treatment.

Mrs. Connelly, however, was confined to her bed during the entire stay, having suffered an injured leg when a stone flew from the lawn mower and struck the member.

Both wish to thank all their friends for the lovely cards and flowers received during their hospitalization.

Here Immortalized The Pride of d'Albera

William Moss, former star (we think) center fielder for the Halkirk, Alberta, baseball nine, now residing on Carverton Road, Trucksville, came up with a trophy this week.

A picture of the team traveling by ox-drawn wagon to a game, misplaced for a total of 52 years, found by Bill, who put us on the spot at the Post by having us guess which one he was.

With a little logic, we should have figured he was the handsome young swain surrounded by four of Halkirk's loveliest beauties, who, in some of the early Civil War battles accompanied their heroes to battle.

We forgot to ask who won the ballgame, but frankly Bill didn't look especially business-like, grinning from ear-to-ear, and probably played a terrible game that day.
