Last Thursday my husband Al and I spent a long, enjoyable day at the Joe LaVelle home in Springville. Leaving home at 6 a.m. and getting there one hour later, Al was in the field and had his first woodchuck by 7:15.

It was a beautiful day, but cool enough to wear a sweater all day. In the afternoon Mrs. Lavelle (Mary to all her Dallas friends) took me on a drive through the country to see all the farms and rolling countryside. On our way we stopped in Stevensville and visited an old Episcopal Church, built in 1799. We weren't able to go inside, but could see through the windows the old straight back pews, the deacons bench, the balcony around the whole church, the two pulpits, red with white cloths, the big pot-bellied stove in the rear, and most interesting of all were the big old-fashioned oil lamps hung on the posts. The church isn't being used, but seems to be kept clean, as we saw no dust. These were the most interesting thing we saw, and I hope someday to really go inside. On our way back to the farm we picked choke cherries for me and I made delicious jelly with them. Mrs. Hicks did you ever make choke-cherry jelly?

We took another road on the way home so I could see the Susquehanna County Poor Farm which is very nice, the home large and the barns very well kept.

We ate an early supper with Mary and Joe, so Joe could get back to the field, as it is the chucks feeding time. To finish the story his take for the day was 10 making 63 so far this season. We arrived home at 6:30, tired, but happy.

FARM CALENDAR

Bees Sometimes Swarm—Honeybees often get the urge to swarm at this time of year. If a swarm of bees seems to be moving in permanently on your place, call a nearby beekeeper. He may be able to move the unwanted guests, says W. W. Clarke, Jr., extension apiculturist at The Pennsylvania State University.

Get Rid of Moss—Moss on lawns is usually a sign of low fertility, poor drainage, improper watering, too much shade, or a combination of these things. John C. Harper II, extension agronomist at The Pennsylvania State University, suggests removing moss by hand raking, or by spraying with copper sulfate. Apply at the rate of five ounces of copper sulfate in four gallons of water per 1,000 square feet. After the moss is removed, correct the cause.

Keep Bugs Away—Humans can be made disagreeable to pesky insects such as black flies, chiggers and other insects. Extension entomologists at The Pennsylvania State University explain that people can now work and eat outdoors, fish, hunt, or just sit in the shade without having to fight off mosquitoes, gnats, and other annoying insects. The newest repellents are quite pleasing to people, but distasteful to pests.

Lake-Lehman High School Bulletin

Stanley J. Gulbish, director of activities at Lake-Lehman High School, has announced the following bulletin for students.

Parents consent slips for both football and girls hockey are available in the High School office from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The success of its beginning created a desire for a home of its own and from this the Academy was built in 1874. Many students throughout the state were in attendance and we are proud to report that O. Eugene Hilbert, now in his 88th year, was a student there.

All that remains today are the mammoth maples some four foot in diameter which stand on the well-kept lawn amidst the lovely flowers blooming there.

In honor of our Creator a moment of silence was observed and prayer was given by L. B. Hilbert, Sr. About a fully laden table with goodies of all description the family gathered, with the good humor of Mrs. Hilbert filling the guests with a true sense of hospitality.

Goodwin Hilbert presided at the business meeting. Donald Jones was elected new president, L. B. Hilbert, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Herbert Goodwin, secretary.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Sue Ann, Debbie and Robert, Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hilbert, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Denmon, Brenda and Cindy; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad C. Hilbert, Port Murray; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilbert, Marysville, all of New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Donnie and Kathy, Washington, RD 2; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shukis, Chris and Greg, Clarkstown; Mr. and Mrs. David
