John Coon And Family Celebrate

The children of John Coon held open house last Sunday afternoon at his home in Carverton, honoring his birthday anniversary. Many friends from far and near came to give John their congratulations and best wishes. In good rural style of neighborliness the crowd milled about the house and spacious yard recalling old times and talking of everything of common interest. John doesn't look any older than he ever did and according to report can still do a day's work. Refreshments were served by members of his family.
