Icy Temperatures Kill Off Aster Crop

An eighteen degree temperature put a period to a lavish crop of asters, and caused Walter Boehme to shut up shop on his roadside flower stand. It frosted down the tops of the tomato plants in some local gardens, making a protective blanket for the fruit.

A week after the heavy freeze, plenty of folks were harvesting tomatoes by the bushels, with a hot Indian Summer sun beating down on their backs.

Ever make tomato preserves? Or fresh chili sauce?

GWENDOLYN'S BIRTHDAY
Gwendolyn Morgan celebrated her eighth birthday early this year because she went back to the hospital in Philadelphia on October 15, the day before her birthday. The party, given by her mother, Frances Morgan, was held at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schmide Sr., Dallas RD 3.

Decorations were of pink and white streamers, and the cake consisted of a ballerina doll in the center and eight miniature ballerina dolls around the edges.

Present were: Mrs. Betty Lamoreaux, Linda, Jerry, Robin, Barbara, and Susan; Mrs. Mary Morgan, Hazel, David, Sharon, Brenda, and Jerry; Mrs. William McGinness, Joan, Patsy, Jimmy, and Billy; Mrs. Carl Evans, Carlene, Albin, Joe, Margaret, and Bobby; Thomas Schmide, Tommy, Allen and Nancy Lee. Gwendolyn received many lovely gifts, but her only wish for the day was that her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Schmide, could have been home from the hospital to share her joy.

Orange

Annual Three-Point Men's Supper was held at Orange Church hall last Saturday night. Fifty five were present, 26 from Mt. Zion, 19 from Orange and 10 from Carverton. The ladies of Orange Church served a delectable meal of ham, sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, gravy, cabbage salad, lima beans, apple sauce, buns, coffee and pie. Malcolm Baird led singing. Roy J. Thomas and Cornelius Hastie sang Malotte's Lord's Prayer. Nelson Lewis was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speaker, Mr. Sam Davenport, a teacher from Lehman school.

Mr. Davenport showed a tray of forty colored slides illustrating a trip he and a group of teachers made through Europe and into Russia and some satellites. He described experiences in meeting the people of Soviet Union. They found the people most hospitable, willing to go out of their way to help the visitors from America enjoy their stay and learn about the people. Also present were: George Parrish, William Reid, Utey C. Holshuh, Edward H. Miles, John Lewis Jr., Joseph F. Bruno, Thomas W. Earl, Mark Eby, Robert Krum, Elwood Lord, Ernest Gay, Roy W. Thomas, Gerald Shaffer, William Smith, Richard Dymond, James McDonald, Ernie Gay, Herbert Knorr, Raymond Rozelle, George Sutton, Coray B. Ransom, Henry E. Hess, Fred J. Risch, George Henderson, James Derr, William Bowen, L. Rozelle, William Zimmerman, Howard Perry, J. W. Perry, L. Stanley Jones, John Parrish, Kermit Sickler, Donald Seafoss, Charles Wasserott, David E. Werts, Peter Werts, Bill Hughes, Kenneth Hoover, Harold Hoover, Ralph Vosburg, Larry Earl, Philip Reid, William Hoover, Russell Lewis, George Berlew, Richard Berlew, Wm. H. Perry, Joseph J. Perry, and Charles H. Gilbert.

Mrs. Henry Hess of Orange has begun work as secretary at Kingston's First Methodist Church. I would congratulate both Mrs. Hess and that church.

Mt. Zion

In this quiet realm the sight of an ambulance gets us all agog. This time it was nothing to get excited about. Our Tommy Lloyd, remember, has a lot of hardware holding his ankle bones together until they are properly knitted. And plaster cast besides. So he gets a ride to the hospital to get stitches removed and whatever else needs to be done. Not just once but several times. Meanwhile he can be at home, watch the world turn, greet his friends, roll around his house while mending.

A most pleasant time came the other day from the Suffolk Jewish Center where Rabbi Gabriel Maza and his wife Edythe, formerly of Pittston, now are happily at work. We used to enjoy their lively fellowship when in the pastorate at Pittston and have continued our acquaintance since they left by including them on our Gilbert Story and Jots from Dot mailing list. Which they enjoy. About which he writes: "Edythe and I read every word of Dots." Then this delicious blessing on our life's program: "We hope you can pay for your new heating unit, preach with health, sing with joy and save the Congo, that land of life and tragedy." I like friends who wish us all that!

The Dallas Post should send me a bill for the results as if it had been a classified want ad. That crazy dream I wrote about in my column last week — remember about the pianos out in the street? — and then "hinted" that Mt. Zion needed one for its Sunday School room. Well, Eudora Baird has offered us their piano which the Mt. Zion Church is very glad to accept and will get it moved soon.

FISH FREEZE

Keep fall fish fresh all winter by laying in emptied cardboard milk cartons, cover with water and freeze. Block ice freeze lasts longest, keeps flavor in for months.

Displays Art Work

Mrs. Robert Crosson, Shavertown is proving her fine ability as an artist and craftsman.

She has a vinyl cut and charcoal drawing on exhibit at Canton, Ohio, Art Exhibit and three other productions at Everhart Museum of Art in Scranton.

Also adept in weaving, samples of her place mat designs were selected for showing at the Texas State Fair in Dallas, and she captured a blue ribbon for Swedish linen entry.

NEWS OF FOOD

For a bewitching Halloween party, serve jack-o-lantern cake with orange icing. Trace jack's features—and add any message you like—with Cake-Mate gel in a handy squeeze tube.

Pretzels can add zest to turkey stuffing; many people also include them in salads and dessert recipes. Yet few know that a pious Italian monk invented the pretzel—nearly 1400 years ago!
