"LET US GO OVER TO BETHLEHEM"

By Rev. Andrew Pillarella

The greatest story ever written in all the literature of the world, is the Christmas story. In it we are told that the everlasting Creator of the heavens and the earth took upon Himself a human nature, experiencing human disappointment, pain, suffering and death, for the purpose of redeeming man from his sin. Atheists, communists have become Christians thru reading this marvelous story of God's love.

Luke tells us that shepherds were, thru the night, watching the Temple animals when suddenly there stood before them an angel and the splendor of the Lord shone round about them. They were terrified, but the angels said: "Do not be afraid; I have good news for you. There is a great joy coming to all people. Today in the city of David a Deliverer has been born to you — the Messiah, the Lord!"

This is a personal message. "Un-to You!" It comes not to the powerful, the wealthy, the privileged class, but "to you." This story always thrills me because the shepherds did something that we all should do and often do not. One translation has it — "Let us now go even to Bethlehem;" another, "Come, we must go straight to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened." Is the story that we have heard true? Is the vision an hallucination, or is it real? "Let us go to Bethlehem and find out!"

 The shepherds did not postpone their search until a more convenient time. They did not say: "Let's get some sleep first, and then in the morning we shall go and investigate." They said: "Come, we must go straight to Bethlehem." The shepherds followed the tiny clue they had, and their search was rewarded. They found the Babe lying in the manger. Having ascertained that the heavenly message was true, they returned to their fields "praising and glorifying God for what they had heard and seen."

In this simple story we have the secret of transforming religion, of transcendent life that no hurricane or nuclear explosion can touch. "Let us go to Bethlehem! Let us do something!" A hearsay religion is a poor tool in the hour of crisis. A transforming faith is the result of a personal experience. The shepherds saw the Deliverer, the Lord.
 Each one of us must go to Bethlehem and have a spiritual encounter with Christ. We need not travel to the Palestinian Bethlehem, but to the spiritual Bethlehem. Indeed our journey to Bethlehem must be a spiritual one. Paul exhorts us—"Let Christ be born in you."

Death Of Sandra Strazdus' Mother Casts Gloom Over Dallas Post Staff

The death of Sandra Strazdus' mother, Mrs. Anna Strazdus, cast a pall of gloom over the office of the Dallas Post. It seemed cruel that so young a girl should lose her mother, and just before Christmas.

But Mrs. Strazdus had been increasingly ill, and out of Nesbitt Hospital for a year, and it was not possible for her to recover her health.
 Her last admission, from the home on the Martz Road, was by ambulance Monday night. She was placed under oxygen immediately to ease her labored breathing. The Dallas Post, where Sandy is employed as the bookkeeper, hoped against hope that Mrs. Strazdus would make it, realizing all the time that it was impossible.

She was buried Saturday morning at Fern Knoll. Divine Liturgy was sung at St. John's Church, with parastas services the evening before at a Plymouth funeral home.
 Mrs. Strazdus was a lifelong resident, born in Dallas, daughter of Mrs. Sophie Welitchko and the late Andrew Welitchko. She was a member of St. John the Baptist Russian Orthodox Church in Edwardsville.

 In addition to her husband Louis, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Peter J. Gaughan, Washington, D.C.; two grandchildren; three brothers: William E. Oliver, Wilkes-Barre; Frank, Plymouth; and Joseph, Reading.
