

East Dallas

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Matukitis who celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rushnock and their two children, of Patterson, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moss this past week end. Mrs. Rushnock is the former Melvina Moss. Mr. Rushnock's brother who lives in Luzerne is quite ill.

Mrs. Carl German of Lake Catalpa Road, had minor facial surgery performed last week. Emily Goldsmith, Demunds Road, underwent surgery last week at Nesbitt Hospital. Miss Goldsmith is Librarian at Junior High School.

Mr. Samuel Higgins made the sick list last week and spent several days in bed - either he caught up with the bug, or the bug caught up with him—at least they met, and the bug won. Sam landed in bed.

Robert Moore, Ransom Road, spent two days last week in Linden, N.J., attending the Hermes School where they train individuals on the assembling of their typewriter. Bob took this training in the interest of servicing Hermes typewriters.

Bob and Hilda Moore had visitors this past week end including Mary Lind (Irene Moore's sister) of Bloomfield, N.J., also Bob's mother, Irene Moore, and his brother David Moore, Passaic, N.J. and his two children David, Jr. and Kim Ann.

Elmer Miller of Sutton Creek Road, visited his niece in Allen-ton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, Sutton Creek Road, are vacationing in Miami Florida. After having a few cold days, the weather is now good, and they are sight-seeing by plane.

I understand a survey is being made of the Centermoreland telephone subscribers to determine the percentage interested in a monthly increase in order to have toll-free calls to Kingston, and Wilkes-Barre.

Ray Goeringer of Lake Louise has added a bulk milk tank to his equipment.

A warning to all those who have any intention of using the school road at any time—as you leave the school make sure you come to a complete stop at the first stop sign. This stop sign, although to some people may seem unnecessary, does not seem so to the authorities, as you will find out to the tune of a ten dollar fine. A few more have been added this week to the list of apprehended offenders.

The vandals are at it again. On Tuesday of last week the mail box belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Guilford of Ransom Road was smashed in like an accordion. The Guilfords heard the noise but thought it was a screen door that slammed. Mrs. Guilford had to hammer out the front of the box so that the mail man could deliver the mail. About two months ago several mailboxes on Ransom Road were mutilated in the same manner.

Walter (abe) Prokopchak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prokopchak, is riding in style these days, having just acquired a Chevrolet Corvette sports car. Not content on having just a Corvette, he got the best—fuel injection, four-speed gearshift, luxury interior, etc. He is now contemplating what he can do to add to the car. Can't you just hear him, when he is "old" and married, telling his children how hard he had it having to ride around, in just a Corvette.

Mr. and Mrs. John Savickas of Dallas, took their daughter Debbie and Ruth Higgins to Philadelphia on Saturday to the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, for a Science Open House.

Take note - "Little boys who constantly whine probably become groan men."

Choir practice for East Dallas Church has been changed from Saturdays to Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock — therefore choir practice will be held tonight.

The Pancake Supper served by the men of E. Dallas Church proved quite successful having served about 150 people. This meant that thirty-five pounds of flour were used, twenty dozen eggs, seventy-five pounds of sausage and about thirty pies. Sounds like everyone had plenty to eat.

Mrs. Anna Compton, Maplewood Heights, underwent surgery this week in the Nesbitt Hospital.

Carl McMichael, Lehman Avenue, Dallas, brother of Mrs. Nesbitt Moore, Ransom Road is a patient in Mercy Hospital. He has been in traction for two weeks and will remain in traction for several weeks longer.

Dallas Girl Concludes Interesting Letter

But not everything is all work and no play. One of the most interesting features of school life is the fraternities. (I must add here though, that outside of the fraternities school life is completely separated from social life, etc. That is, whereas in the United States your entire social life usually revolves around the school, here the complete opposite is true. Your social and family life have absolutely nothing to do with the school.) To continue -- there are five different fraternities in the Kantonschule including the Wengia, the political fraternity, Dornachia, concerned with intellectual discussion and debate, etc. Every Friday or Saturday night they have what is called a "Knipe" which translated into plain English means nothing more than a beer party. Attendance is restricted to members of the fraternity, but sometimes around 11:00 p. m. they come to serenade a girl. The girl is then expected to serve refreshments, usually black coffee.

The family, as a unit, plays a very important role in Swiss life. Families are close and as a rule spend much more time together than the average American family. (Please forgive me for generalizing. The words "average" and "typical" have been overused and their true meaning lost -- if ever anything is "typical". Everything I write is only my opinion formed from observation and thus not always exact.) Walks, family trips or just sitting and talking are considered very important. A good example of this is Christmas which is a family day all over the world, but more especially in Switzerland. My Swiss father told that not even a very close friend would even think of coming on Christmas.

Speaking of families, my own Swiss family is just wonderful. They have done everything possible to make me feel at home and a part of the family.

Of the difficulties in living in a foreign country, the language barrier is the most outstanding. Switzerland presents a double barrier because Swiss German is almost an entirely different language than high German. My Swiss father put it very aptly when he said that when a Swiss speaks high German, the Germans think he is speaking a dialect and when he speaks Swiss German they think he is speaking Chinese. Added to this is the fact that Swiss people absolutely loathe the speaking high German though everyone has been most considerate in this respect. Now Swiss German is no longer a mystery to me and I can understand almost everything that is said in the "Altagsprache" or everyday language though I still cannot speak it very well.

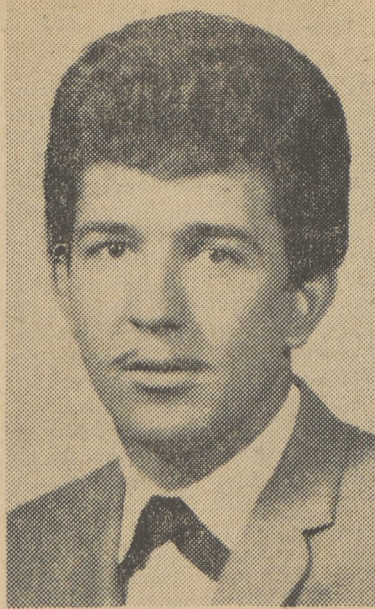

You're really proud when you can go into a store and buy something without the clerk ever knowing you are an American. Unfortunately this is not always the case. One of the other exchange students told me of an experience which she described as the "supreme humiliation." Upon her asking for something in a store, the clerk first replied in Swiss German. She didn't understand. Then she tried French with the same result. Finally the clerk came to the conclusion that she was an American and so spoke English.

I can't close until I mention the Swiss food. When you think of Switzerland most people think of cheese. And they're right. You haven't lived till you've tried Fondue, Switzerland's national dish, or Raclette, a dish consisting of melted cheese and potatoes. Unfortunately I am also fascinated by the pastry shops of which there are many!

In closing I would like to thank my sponsors who have made possible one of the most exciting and interesting years of my life -- the Dallas Rotary Club. The exchange program is a wonderful idea and I only hope that it continues to grow so that more students can have the same opportunity. The work and effort that have been put into it are worthwhile because the value of the knowledge gained, the friendships formed and the unity between families and thus between countries, which is created, is inassessable. I can only tell you how grateful I am and say once again -- thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Sheryl M. Stanley

Joins Burtons Luster

MR. CARLO
Mr. Carlo, artistic hair stylist, has recently joined Burton Luster Hair Fashions, located in Dallas Shopping Center.

With an already enviable reputation as an artist, Mr. Carlo is the recipient of much praise for his talent in hair styling and his keen observation of individual culture problems. He will provide consultation time and suggest the proper hair fashions for the customers. His Coiffure artistry includes hair piece and transformation designs.

Burton Luster, high in his praise of Mr. Carlo, says, "The public will recognize immediately this man's talent and be amazed at his work." Mr. Carlo's appointments will start immediately.

Accreditation Important In Elementary Schools

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is giving increasing importance to accreditation of elementary schools and now accredits more than eight hundred after approving 101 at the recent meeting of the Association in Louisville.

Trustees of the Association have proposed that its program dealing with elementary schools be raised to the status of a commission on elementary schools comparable with existing commission on secondary schools and colleges.
