Tex Breaks Crown Record With A Big 710 Series

Tex Wilson broke all records set at Crown Imperial Lanes Friday night when he toppled 710 pins in three games. Tex who just recently joined St. Paul's Lutheran Brotherhood League to fill in for Alton Whittaker for the remainder of the season, not only topped the league's record high series with his big score, but also the high game. He piled up 279 pins during his second game. Throughout the night, he missed in only one frame and split in another, both in the first game.

Tex's average has been going steadily down recently and he seemed to be in a kind of "rut" with his bowling. He was pleased when he finally wound up that first game with a 187 and certainly "came out of the woods" with that 279. That's where he told himself to settle down and chalk up at least a 234 to wind up the evening with a nice round 700. But, he did more than that when he spilled 244 and beat the records previously set by Danny Richards, 707; Charlie Williams, 708; and Bob Moore 704.
