What Is Child Guidance?
What is child guidance? It's the process by which adults assist children to become self-reliant, explains Mrs. Marguerite L. Duvall, extension family life specialist of The Pennsylvania State University.

Guidance is long term, says Mrs. Duvall. In the beginning you have almost complete control of your child. He is dependent on you for food, physical comfort, and social stimulation. As he grows, you work yourself out of a job. He gradually assumes responsibility for his own behavior.

Guiding a child is more than knowing what to do to keep him under control and make him mind. Many times during a day you probably will ask yourself, "Should I let him?" "Can I stop him?" and "How can I get him to do or not to do certain things?" Tied up with your answers to these questions is your attitude about your child, the goals you hold for him, and your feelings about yourself.

The kind of person your child is becoming is more important than the ways you're using to keep him in bounds, Mrs. Duvall points out. Wise guidance is the tool that helps a child to gradually gain confidence in his ability, to make his own decisions, and to act on his own without a helping or hindering adult hand.

TRAINING TOOL FOR BIRD DOG PUPPY
By Bob Bartos, Manager Friskies Pet Foods Research Center

Once your bird dog puppy has mastered the command "whoa", you can make considerable progress with his field education with a single tool right in your own backyard.

The tool is a bird wing attached to about 8 feet of fishing line and a rod. Alternate between casting the wing in the air and dragging it along the ground to get the puppy to chase it, but don't let him catch it. One of your aims is to get him to realize that chasing and pouncing won't get him the bird. Keep him racing around until he's tired. At that time he'll slow down and stalk in instead of chase. You should then quietly command "whoa", and accompany this by the hand signal.

He'll "whoa", but he'll also try to reach the bird. He'll stretch, the result, a point. Once he's slowed down and is "whoaing", introduce a new command... "go in eezzy", delivered in a slow, soft voice. Move in on the bird yourself at a slow creep. If he doesn't stalk while you, repeat the command. When he joins you, give him the "whoa" vocally and with hand signal. Continue this procedure, moving towards the bird with a "go in eezzy" and stopping him with the "whoa".

Once he's mastered this step, hold him on point and stalk in ahead of him, moving slowly so that he doesn't break. You're now teaching him to hold the point while you go in to flush the bird.

Feeding tip: Overfeed rather than underfeed while the puppy is growing and developing. The best way to make sure your new pet is getting the nourishment he needs is to feed him Friskies Puppy Food which contains all the required protein plus 15 added minerals and vitamins.

First Auction Casualty
Bob Scott, Mt. Greenwood Road Trucksville, has already made his contribution to the 19th Back Mt. Library Auction—a chopped off thumb!

Saturday, while making his usual collection of doll beds for the auction block, he, an old timer at the buzz saw—caught his right thumb in it—and good!

Dr. Gallagher fixed him up—with a very professional apparatus—gave him nerve pills, and sent him home. Enroute he stopped in the Dallas Post for sympathy—which he surely got! We hope it won't stop his cradle making routine!
