

Back Mountain Stars Lose To Kingston Little League

The District 16 Little League Championship went to Kingston Little League All Stars when they defeated the Back Mountain All Stars Saturday afternoon at Kingston. The score was 7-2. Kingston had 10 hits including three home runs. The winning pitcher was John Herrsher who was responsible for one of the homers. Catcher Rich Tamadini and Jeff Taren, outfielder tallied the others. Back Mountain scored in the third when pitcher Bill Lozo singled, advanced on a passed ball and went home on a single by Bob Sherry. In the sixth, Jack Fedock singled, moved to third when George Stolarick doubled and scored on a ground out. Burkhardt also pitched.

William A. Austin Attends Conference

William Arch Austin, supervisor of elementary education of the Dallas Schools, attended the American Public School Systems Summer Conference at Columbia University, New York City, last week as a delegate of the Pennsylvania Study Council of Penn State University.

The meetings were given to the newest research data concerning pertinent national school issues. Measures of quality education being developed were presented and progress reports were submitted for review.

Once again the classroom teacher became the key to any issue solution!

The 2-2-2 grouping plan for the upper six grades of the secondary school seemed to be gaining ground in lieu of the present 6-6 and 6-3-3 plans.

The delegates from practically every state in the Union were briefed on the national trends for financing public education also.

CAR Summer Picnic Held At Rogers Home

Four Back Mountain area youngsters were elected officers of the Frances Slocum Society, Children of the American Revolution, at the group's annual summer meeting at the Shavertown home of Mrs. Lewis Rogers III, senior president.

Lewis and Susan Rogers were elected registrar and historian; Shirley and Burt Bryant, Dallas, won the posts of secretary and treasurer.

Other officers elected were Helen MacLellan president, Frank Weiss vice president, and Denise Hildebrand chaplain.

In addition to electing new officers the group made plans for the coming year.

Debby Rogers, outgoing president and State Chairman of Merit Awards, outlined the requirements of the National Merit Awards contest. The state society has adopted participation in Merit Awards as its unofficial project.

Plans for the year were made with the objective of winning a gold ribbon in Merit Awards.

Membership, a chronic problem with any youth organization, was also discussed at Friday's meeting. The members proposed names of friends eligible for the organization and plans were made to contact them about joining. A goal of ten new members this year was set.

When the business meeting was over those of the group who had attended State Conference in Bethlehem this June described their trip.

It was announced that four local society members were selected for state chairmanships. Debby Rogers was appointed state chairman of Merit Awards, the project this year. Lew Rogers was made chairman of CAR-SR, and Susy Rogers will chair the committee on American Indians. Helen MacLellan is chairman of Press Relations.

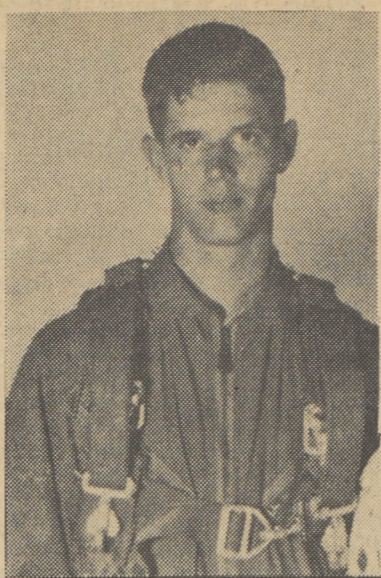

Mrs. Rogers, senior president talked for a while about the group's participation in the Endowment Fund contest. She announced that the Penna. State Society had won the national competition, contributing over $2300. The local society contributed $100 and won the Endowment pin.

The pin will be presented to Mrs. Robert Roe, past senior president of the Society and member of the Wyoming Valley Chapter DAR, in whose honor the money was given, at the September CAR meeting.

When all immediate business was taken care of the meeting was adjourned.

Prior to the business session there was a picnic lunch.
