

EAST DALLAS

Twentieth annual Ryman reunion was held Saturday, August 7, at Lake T. J. This year's officers were Inez Ryman, president; Lois Ryman, vice president; Diana Pickett, secretary and treasurer.

New officers elected were James Carroll, president; Esther Ryman, vice president, and Janet Carroll, secretary-treasurer.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ryman, Esther Ryman, Bouloni and friend, Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll and daughter Janet, all from Johnson City, N. Y.

Mrs. George Moore, Wyoming, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Arch Austin, Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. Caddy Besteder, Tunhannock, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson H. Ryman, daughters Lois and Inez, Joe Hardisky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickett, Diana and John, East Dallas, Mrs. Mary Valentine, Auburndale, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Souder returned to their home in Old Bridge, N. J., after a week of camping out in tents, at Red Rock. Their son Mark visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moss, Upper Demunds Road, for a week — before his parents, sister Donna and brother Charles, picked him up to accompany them on their camping trip. On their way back home, they let Donna have her turn of a week with Grandpa and Grandma Moss. She was lucky to have last week as she was treated to the "All Charge" Centermoreland Barbecue and Auction.

Folks of East Dallas wish to extend a hearty welcome to the William F. Snee family, which includes five daughters, who have moved into the Richard Potter home on Ryman Road.

Daughter-in-law Hilda and I visited Warren Cease and son and Ann Spencer one evening last week. We would have stopped to get acquainted with our new neighbors but no one was home. In all these years that is the first visit at Cease's and it certainly was a treat. Such a beautiful spacious home and grounds. And what a warm welcome was extended, as "they are always glad to have visitors," they both said.

Then on to Ann Spencer, where we also received a royal welcome. We were glad to visit a few minutes with Pauline and Arthur Magee who were just leaving Ann's place.

Mrs. Clinton (Reba) Cobleigh was among the group with her children. Some who have no children won't do a thing but as I have read one time, "If you want anything done, ask the people who are the busiest. They know how to make the most of time and are willing."

Reba Cobleigh and Betty Kintzer (our Barbecue dinner Chairman for East Dallas) deserve a lot of credit, as do all the workers.

Reba could have been down hearted over recent catastrophes with her children, but not her. Last week her daughter Cindy, while riding her bike, was scared by a huge dog, fell off of her bike and knocked out three of her "second" teeth. A son Jackie just had the east removed from his arm which had been broken at school. Another son, Jerry, fell and had quite a scraped elbow and Peggy stepped on a nail. But they were all a happy bunch just the same.

Warning Against Hitch-hikers

"Hitch-hiking is inherently dangerous to both the hiker himself and the motorist," said Edward P. Curran, Safety Director of Keystone Automobile Club. "The hiker is in constant danger of being run down along the highway and the motorist can be in danger of losing his life to a bandit posing as a tired hitch-hiker."

"The bars against hitch-hiking have been let down by many motorists to give rides to young men in uniform and to college students going home for vacations. The motive is commendable, of course, but this

Douglas and Charles Wasserott have returned home after an enjoyable week at Sky Lake, Windsor, N. Y., Methodist Church camp. Charles also attended boy scout camp at Aachela for a week.

Mrs. Helen Ferrell and son Brian of East Dallas, accompanied by her sister Eleanor Boyle and her son James Boyle, of Philadelphia, attended the World's Fair recently and a good time was had by all.

Friend and wife Maevis, Apalachin, N. Y., were weekend guests of sister, Myrtle Miller. They all attended the Barbecue. Mrs. Howard Krum of Mt. Zion visited with Myrtle Miller, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Brice, attended the funeral of Edna Ross, Binghamton, and visited with relatives in the Triple Cities.

Their sister Ruth (Ross) Cox and family live in Endicott. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ross, Binghamton, Howard and Beatrice Ross, Vestal.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Brice, sons Vincent 8, and Victor 3, Apalachin, N. Y., (they have another daughter, Kathy, 10), Mr. and Mrs. visited Mr. and Mrs. Winfield L. Thomas Cox, sons James and Gary, Brice for the weekend, and attended the Auction at Centermoreland. Miss Donna Ross, Binghamton, spent a week with "Punch" and "Bessie" Brice, East Dallas. She was joined later by her sister Jo Ann, mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ross, who then, all went to Florida for a week.

Lightning Damage
Harry and Elly Siley, Bernardsville, N. J., Thomas and Janice Siley, Philadelphia, spent the weekend with parents Russell and Helen Siley. They had quite a scare when lightning struck the transformer in front of the Siley residence and smashed the pump motor or some parts all to pieces. So they had to carry water all weekend.

Mrs. Gladys Brice accompanied her daughter Barbara and family (Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips) as far as Harrisburg to visit with daughter Beulah Besteder and family. Barbara and family then went on to their home in Maryland. Beulah's daughter Sandra is coming along well after her terribly long serious illness.

It was like "Old Home Week" at Centermoreland. Most all of Gladys Brice's family were there, Barbara, Alice, Louise, Elton and families.

Despite the long looked for rain there were over 500 dinners served and the auction started a little after seven with quite a good crowd Friday, Saturday, beautiful and sunny, brought people in swarms. Over fourteen hundred dinners were served Saturday.

The refreshment stand did a tremendous business. Besides the local members helping, Jeanette Dickinson's niece Mrs. Maisie Cochran, daughter Audrey, Pittston, aunt, Mrs. Edith Tompkins, Rhode Island, joined right in. Jean Wilson and her mother Mrs. Monk, who are members of Shavertown Lutheran church, also helped out wonderfully, many more whom I don't know by name.

Betty Kintzer asked me to tell all her helpers how much she appreciated their faithful and hard work. But it was all so satisfying. There were two friends of Louise James from Demunds helped the two days in our small goods booth, also Jean Somers from Harding, Jessie Moore's sister. I wish I could name them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moss returned to their home on Upper Demunds Road after driving to Old Bridge, N. J., to take granddaughter Donna Souder to her home after vacationing here last week.

The Junior Choir of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Wilkes-Barre, enjoyed Thursday August 12 at Carl Gries's cottage. Mrs. Gries has been in the choir since she was seventeen years old and has directed it for the past thirty years. Some record!

Last Monday morning, 8:15, I was out front when I could hear a horse coming afar off. Finally I spied him coming around the corner at Ray Moore's. (Bob told me later he passed it on his way to work, running up by Pete Fritsky's.) He had about a half yard of rope hanging from his halter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson, knowing they had riding horses, but he didn't belong to them. I do hope the owner caught him, as I would hate to read that he was struck by a car or truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony De Costa, Massachusetts, and children, are visiting Janet's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Moore and relatives.

Miss Enola Gay, daughter of Ernest and Marietta Gay, Ransom Road, is on a two weeks vacation down at Massapequa Park, Long Island, with her aunt Mrs. Robert Dymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Baird and son Artie, have returned home after visiting son Barry and family in Newark, Del. They then went on down to Rehoboth Beach and visited daughter Sandy in Queens Hospital, N. Y., then on to the World's Fair.

Sympathy and all of East Dallas, is extended to Mrs. Charles Lipp over her recent bereavement, also to the family.

Airman Philip Cawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cawley, East Dallas, was sent to the Philippines four months ago, and August 1 he was sent to the trouble spot in Vietnam. I wish him well.

Cathy Cawley, his sister, has accepted a position as a dental assistant in Kingston shopping center for Dr. Lubin. Cathy previously attended the Career Academy in Washington for a six month course.

The quilters of East Dallas church will get into the harness again today (Thursday) in the social room. They were too busy preparing for the Barbecue and Auction to quilt the last two weeks.

Keith and Patti Moore have returned home after visiting their aunt Betty Helmer, and family in White Haven, for a few days.

Baer Family Reunion
Third annual reunion of the William E. Baer family will be held Labor Day, September 6, at the home of Gilbert and Pearl Ide, Idetown.

Secretary Mildred Ide Thomas requests that each family bring its own picnic lunch and table service, with dinner to begin promptly at 12:30. There will be games for all.

SPORTS' CORNER

by Jim Hopple

Well folks here we are back with a new column. If at anytime you do anything that would be of interest to SPORTSMAN'S CORNER, let us know about it.

Since there has been talk about bobcats in the area, I feel that we should open this column with a story on these cats.

The cougar is the last of the big hunting cats, but there are a number of smaller cats in all parts of the world that are just as savage in their ways as their more alarming relatives. They are usually called tiger cats when they have striped coats, and leopard cats when their fur is spotted, while the common wild cat of North America has been given the name of bobcat, because it has a queer little short tail only a few inches long.

Bobcats are small, about three feet long, twenty five pounds, fearless hunters that may attack animals many times their size. They usually feed on rabbits, ground squirrels, mice and birds. The bobcat prefers hunting on the ground (although it can climb trees) and usually hunts within the same area of 4 to 5 square miles of forest, or semi-arid tablelands. It dens in hollow trees or other protected places and is rarely seen. Two to four young are born in late spring and stay with their mother till fall. By that time, they are ready to leave so they can hunt.

A picture and story of the hunter safety instruction program presented to Dallas High School students appeared in the August issue of the PENNSYLVANIA GAME NEWS. Take a look and see if you are in the picture, boys. The club advisor is Edgar Hughes and the instructors were District Game Protector Edward Gdosky and Conservation Information Assistant Steve Kish.

Any information you might have for this column may be called to 674-3529, or written to SPORTSMAN'S CORNER, BOX 408, Dallas, Pa., 18612.
