Myers Family Arrive For Mother's Birthday

Sgt. and Mrs. Donald S. Myers and daughter Joy Ellen arrived here recently from Fort Bliss, Texas, just in time to celebrate the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Earl Balliet, Jackson Road, Chase.

This is little Joy Ellen's second trip to Pennsylvania. CADET THOMAS H. PEIRCE

Cadet Thomas H. Peirce (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Peirce, Rice Street, Trucksville, is coached by Cadet John H. Munson, Fort Sill, Okla., in firing the M-81 mortar at Camp Buckner, the U.S. Military Academy's combat training reservation, during the summer camp at West Point, N. Y., that ended Aug. 29.

Cadet Peirce and other West Point Third Classmen (Sophomores) were trained in the capabilities and tactical use of combat arms during the eight-week program.

Part of the program was devoted to Recono training, a combination of ranger-commando techniques. Five days were spent in the field, simulating tactical problems in counter-guerrilla operations. Cadets participated in day and night patrols, learned mountain climbing techniques, hand-to-hand combat, map reading and methods of survival.

Cadet Peirce is scheduled to receive his bachelor of science degree in 1968 and will be commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from the academy.

He is a 1964 graduate of Dallas High School.

Twelve From Area Schools Register In Bloomsburg State

Among the nine hundred freshmen students arriving on the Bloomsburg State College campus last Tuesday were twelve from Back Mountain High Schools. Lake-Lehman was represented by Janice Pios, Susan Lamoreaux and Bob Kunkle. Nine went from Dallas Senior High.

Orientation sessions were held last week with the new underclassmen completing placement tests, attending lectures designed to help make a smooth transition to college life and completing physical examinations.

All freshmen were served meals in the College Commons and all attended a series of evening social events planned by the Dean of Students, Mr. Paul Riegel. Featured were an outdoor concert, a dance, movie and swimming in the College pool.

The freshmen registered Monday of this week and have begun classes.

Girl Scout Leaders Will Train Weekends

Camp Onawandah, Eatonville, will be the site for a weekend Training Session for 39 Leaders, Assistants and Committee Women from all areas of the Penn's Woods Girl Scout Council. Two courses will be offered - Advanced Outdoor Training and Basic Troop Camp Training. The sessions get underway Friday evening and end Sunday at 4:00 p.m.

This is the second year that the weekend variety of training sessions is being offered, and the response indicates strong interest on the part of leaders. It comes at a time of year that will be most beneficial to those participating, since many troops begin to plan their year's activity in September.

As indicated by the title of the courses offered, participants will be instructed in such things as cooking, outdoor sanitation, fire building, campfire program, knot tying and pioneering. Kathy Rusnock, a Senior Scout from Sugarloaf, will be on hand to demonstrate some of the outdoor skills required for Roundup. Kathy was one of 14 Seniors who attended the 12,000 girl Roundup at Coer D'Alene, Idaho, this past summer.

Mrs. Charles F. Hensley, Wilkes-Barre, Assistant Executive Director, will be Director for the Weekend Sessions.

Hawk Mountain Bird Sanctuary Again Offers Annual Lectures

Hawk Mountain Saturday evening lectures are in full swing. Last Saturday's program dealt with the dangers of chemical poisons widely used in forestry and agriculture.

A film featuring the late Rachel Carson, whose widely read book, "Silent Spring," stressed dangers inherent in indiscriminate use of untested pesticides on wild life, was shown.

Programs are held in the Common Room on the Bird Sanctuary located five miles north of Hamburg. There is no admission charge.

Annually, bird lovers watch for the migration of hawks and eagles from the summit of Hawk Mountain, as they are borne aloft by thermals from the valley below.

Other programs are listed: September 25: "Natural Resource Conservation -- Citizen Choice and Action" by William Carroll and Robert C. Wingard, Extension Service Specialists from The Pennsylvania State University.

SPORTSMANS CORNER

by Jim Hopple

The effects of the hunter's gun on certain upland small game species is a subject of considerable study and research, Harvey Roberts, Chief of the Pennsylvania Game Commission's Division of Research said. If a general conclusion can be made it is this, hunter interest in any one game species falls off long before the population reaches the danger point.

With this in mind the Commission declared an earlier opening day for the 1965 seasons on grouse and squirrels. The seasons for these species will open at 7 a. m. EST on October 16, and will continue until November 27. The winter seasons on grouse and squirrels will be from December 27 to January 1, 1966, all dates inclusive.

The early seasons on grouse and squirrels will overlap the last two weeks of the month long archery season for deer which begins on October 2.

This Sunday from 1:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m. will be open house at the Pennsylvania Game Commission's Ross Leffker School of Conservation.

This is the school where Game Protectors are trained.

The school is located about seven miles northwest of Brockway, Jefferson County. A large directional sign on Route 28, two miles west of Brockway indicates road that leads to the school.

The Lamer Fish Hatchery will stock 40,000 legal trout and the Fish Commission 6,000 two year old trout all averaging over 10 inches in selected streams which will be open until October 31, 1965.

Trout stocked will be marked to provide needed data on the catch. An angler count and creel census will be conducted by district fish wardens.

Results of this program will be a major factor in determining whether a statewide fall stocking program in streams will be considered in future years. Cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

This week's duck hunting SUNRISE TO SUNSET TABLE is Sept.
