E. Dallas: 675-3087

East Dallas subscribers, friends, and neighbors, we finally have you a columnist, Mrs. John Konsavage, Dallas RD 1. Her number is 675-3087, which is a number to write down because the phone book company got it wrong.

Mrs. Konsavage is writing the column, starting this week, while Irene Moore is away on vacation. Writing a column from scratch is no easy job, because people get used to telling things to the same people from week to week, so if Irene's old stand-by tipsters will oblige our aspiring journalist by phoning items of interest until Mrs. Konsavage learns the ropes, we'd be mighty appreciative. And she would be glad to have your help.

That number again is 675-3087.

Property Award

Property taken from the Orchard Farm Restaurant tract at intersection of Routes 309 and 118, Dallas, owned by Michael Ferraro, for construction of new highway brought a board of review award of $24,000 plus interest of 6 per cent deduction from September 20, 1961.

Wyoming, on Sunday.

SINGING TO SAVE A LIFE

One of my friends at Valley Crest has been near the edge several times. The other day I had a call from one of the supervisors that Dr. Stroh thought if I would come up and sing for this patient the psychological value might help. So I went and did. Later I wanted to let Dr. Stroh know how much I appreciated his calling me. I spoke of it as something beyond the call of his medical duty. Which he denied. He said something to the effect that when singing serves such a psychological and spiritual need as it apparently did in this case it was within the scope of medical treatment. Anyway, I appreciated this Medical Director's extension of this form of treatment. The patient did improve!

DESCENT FROM HAPPY HILL

Our place is two or three hundred feet more or less lower than the location of the Rev. Ralph Weatherly's place known as Happy Hill. So when he comes over with an arm load of reading matter gravity helps him make the journey. Certainly not "gravity" in the emotional sense. More like levity! Does the soul good—mine, I mean. Along with The Episcopalian, The Witness, Look, Life, Newsweek, Saturday Review, the Post (not Dallas) there was a book calling Living Prophecies, being "The Minor Prophets Paraphrased with Daniel and The Revelation" by Kenneth Taylor, a special edition for The Billy Graham Evangelistic Association. It may be exciting reading, I'll see. Also friend Weatherly told me that during the Christmas season he had a visit from his son Bruce Weatherly and wife and children John, Christopher, Margaret, Mark and Peter. They are from the Trinity Church in Moorestown, N. J. Also daughter Carol who is the wife of Henry Hobart Tallmadge of Glen Ridge, N. J. with their daughters Lynn, Suzanne and Phoebe. All these next of kin brought the usual sunshine to those on Happy Hill.

SENIOR CHOIR PARTY

Mrs. Ralph Weatherly who was the former organist and choir director at Grace Church Kingston had played recently at a morning choral service. In the evening the Senior choir came up and had a party at Mrs. Weatherly's home.

Mrs. Ray Goulstone of Kingston and her daughter Mrs. Daniel Charney of Allentown were recent visitors at the Weatherlys.

SUFFERS STROKE

Last Saturday morning Louis Bell suffered a severe stroke paralyzing his speech and his right side. Louis is our church custodian and everybody feels quite concerned about him. The Bells live over next to Edward Miles on the dirt road near where we had a summer playground before we bought this place. When we were ready to move our few goods from there over here Louis Bell backed his truck up and loaded it up and moved the goods over here. He was that kind of neighbor to us. He has a nice family too. We join with many others in wishing him a full recovery. Sunday afternoon I went down to the Pittston Hospital to see him. I took his left hand and spoke to him telling him who I was. He opened one eye and looked at me but whether he recognized me or not I do not know.
