DRIVE NOW ON

The combined Fire Company and Ambulance Drive is now underway. Mal Kitchen who heads the campaign here, a busy man who won't say no to anyone who needs a good job done.

Coin cards are a bit late getting out so please fill the slots already past due. This is one real worth while drive that no one should hesitate giving to. What would we ever do without these volunteers?

A NEW AMBULANCE

A new ambulance appears to be the order of the day. Repairs have been put on the present one to the extent that the boys feel a new one is much the sensible alternate. With ten years of hard service, one can hardly complain. The Association is trying to acquire another ambulance out of present funds, they have thrifty set aside for just such an expenditure.

Well, the rain came and it should raise those reservoirs a little. It is also doing a good job of taking away the snow piles and erasing the last vestiges of many a snowman which the children gleefully shaped several weeks ago.

DESERVED PRAISE

It was a nice gesture to thank Lawton Culver for a job well done at the recent supervisors meeting. Lawton works as hard as his men and without respite. It was a pleasure to get about out here in contrast to the poorly plowed roads in neighboring towns. Who said the Back Mountain has many inconveniences?

DEADLY DANGER

It is rather frustrating to a conscientious police officer to cope sometimes with the law. When a fellow insists on drinking to the extent that he no longer cares whether any other lives may be endangered or not by his inebriation and no one will help the situation by declaring him in a state of drunkenness, what is the solution? Saturday night a young father of five children became a real hazard on our highway. Loaded to the gills, he had smashed into one vehicle, injuring the occupants of that other car. He was hauled in and fined for Reckless Driving. A short time later he was back on the highway with more intoxicants under his belt and again reeling his vehicle where other motorists must take their chances in getting near him.

Again he was pulled in by an alert officer who was extremely fearful of the deadly toll he might take in innocent lives. This time the charge was "Disorderly Conduct" and since he was now out of funds, he was lodged for the night in the county jail, keeping him out of touch until the morning hours and giving him a chance to sober up.

Why these charges? Because drunken driving could not be charged as no hospital or M.D. would examine him. Is this the way to maintain safety on our highways? And what is a police officer to do? My hat is off to you, Jim Sisco.

It is interesting to note that few of these drivers are insured but they can always find the wherewithal for booze. It was just such a character that ran into the Ted Woolberts some weeks ago injuring Flossie.

LYCOMING CHOIR

Shavertown Methodist Church is sponsoring the Concert Sunday afternoon of the Lycoming College Choir at Dallas Senior High School. The original date of January 31 was cancelled for their appearance here due to the snowstorm.

The WSCS invites the public to attend. An excellent performance is anticipated from this outstanding group of young singers.

HERE AND THERE

Byron Kitchen returned home last week after spending several weeks in California and Hawaii. At Santee, Cal., he visited his son, Arthur and in Hawaii, he was the guest of his niece. He made the entire trip by air.

Airman 2nd Class Stuart Stahl is now at Little Rock, Arkansas, where he is taking special training. Ernest Langel is home after having been a patient in General Hospital for some weeks. We wish him a speedy recovery. Michael has been staying with his brother, Jerome at Runnymede, N. J., during Ernie's hospitalization.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gosart, Sr., have returned home after staying at the home of Charles Jr., Sweet Valley while the young couple were in the Southland. Mrs. Gosart is now ill with the virus.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Borthwick are spending some time in Florida, giving him a chance to recuperate in the sunshine and warmer climates of the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Columbo, New Jersey, have moved to Spring Street.

Mrs. Andrew Witalis, Colonia, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joy, Peapack, N. J., came in for the shower of Carol Pope Martin on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arja Brown entertained her mother Mrs. Ethel Shorts, Courtdale, at a birthday dinner on Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Lukasavage and children arrived Friday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler. Mrs. Butler returned with them to Wappinger Falls, N. Y., to spend several weeks.

This is the time of year that everyone begins to wish for spring-time. Unless you are able to go south or take a trip to the warmer climes, one gets in a rut. However, the days are getting longer and once in a while the sun peeps through.

Nineteen inches of new snow is predicted for next Monday, I am told, so we will have a bit of winter with us for a while yet.

It is great fun to look through the seed catalog and Tony Moreck is, among those who has already placed an order. Incidentally the lovely pink poinsettia that Mrs.

Hicks gave me for Christmas and which came from Hill's hot house is still blooming profusely giving a pleasant touch to the home. Fresh flowers, too, add a brightness to the dreary days, and I was pleasantly surprised on Sunday to receive a lovely centerpiece from Susie who was home for her birthday and who, enthused with the flower arranging course she is taking, made up a most colorful one for her mother.
