Mormon Elders Enter Mission Field As Integral Part Of Their Education

Introducing two young Mormon elders to the community: Every three months, the Back Mountain sees fresh faces in the Mormon ministry. An elder who has arrived within the preceding six weeks remains, while a newcomer starts his three-months labor. This system insures having one elder who is already acquainted with the area and with the members of the congregation.
It is termed "laboring," rather than ministering.
The two elders now in residence are Vaughn Densley and Andrew Barnum.
Both of them expect to return to their university studies upon completion of their two year experience in the Cumorah Mission, subdivided from the former Eastern States Mission because of rapid expansion.
Elder Densley has completed his freshman year at Utah State University, and will be a sophomore at Brigham Young University in the fall. He has already labored in Newburgh, N. Y., Buffalo, and Rochester. He hopes to teach after winning a doctorate.
Elder Barnum will take a degree from Brigham Young. His field is music, his specialty percussion. He has one more year to go in the mission field.
Elder Berg, formerly here in the Back Mountain, is now assigned to duty in Fulton, N. Y.

BRONSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Alfred D. — Mildred A. Sweet Valley

He Isn't Retired,

Rev. Charles Frick, former pastor of Huntsville Christian Church, was astonished to find that he had retired in the Easter tabloid.
For from being retired, he is as active as ever, taking the pulpit of the Benton Christian Church each Sunday, attending to his pastoral duties, and planning on a garden patch this spring.
On Easter Monday, he planted his tomato seeds in a cold frame, to be ready for transplanting after danger of frost is over.
The by-line on his Easter message in the Dallas Post referred to his having left Dallas, not having left the ministry.
The Dallas Post has been buzzing with telephone calls ever since the issue, from former neighbors who were worried about his health. Anyone who could survive the accident in New Orleans some years ago, and come out of it without using a cane, is practically indestructible.
He will be 89 on his next birthday.

For 32 years he was employed by the Noxen Tannery. For the past three years he was one of the custodians of the Lake-Lehman school district. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and president of the Noxen Credit Union.
Students at the High School held him in high esteem.
On the day of his funeral, at morning exercises, a moment of silent prayer in his memory was observed, and five students attended his funeral.
He leaves a son, Stanley Chase; sisters, Mrs. Ruth Cwate, Meshoppen; Mrs. Gladys Hackling, New Jersey; Mrs. Esther Hackling, Vestal, N. Y.; Mrs. Sophia Hackling, Beaumont; Mrs. Louella Erikson, Long Island, N. Y.; brother, Edward, New Jersey.
