

Were You Present At Role Call

Getting the school picture taken was a serious business for these students at Kunkle.

Ross Township's one-room schools were the last in These youngsters posed proudly on the steps of their modern brick school house. Anyone recognize them?

All that's left of Mt. Zion School building in this picture are still part of the community.

This group was among the last to attend Bunker Hill School.

The automobile, almost hidden by pupils at Carverton's Mountain School, was still a new and not always dependable means of transportation.
