SPORTSMANS CORNER

by Jim Hoppie

REEL BAG: wrap reels in old heavy woolen socks. Keeps scratches and mars off.

TALCUM: talcum powder dusted on rubber or skirted lures will keep them from sticking.

SPOON SCALER: a big spoon makes a good fish scaler.

SAFETY PIN: a few safety pins can serve as an emergency guide or tip. Will keep glasses or hat from blowing away (on a string) and can hold small hooks in a neat package.

PORK RIND: if you coat the rim of your pork rind jar with petroleum jelly the corrosive brine won't leak out and rust hooks and lures.

TOBACCO: buy a corn cob pipe, pack of tobacco and matches, wrap in a plastic bag and put in your tackle box. Now if cigarettes go over the side or run out, you've still got a good smoke.

If you have any outdoor tips send them to Sportsman's Corner, 166 Davenport Street, Dallas, Pa.

TEEN TALK: If you are a young person and would like to start a rock and roll combo or have just started one call me at 674-3529.

Next week we will be featuring an interview with a member of Dallas Senior High School's football team.

NOTICE TO MOTORIST

Motorists today were advised that they had better "fight than switch!"

The advice came from Harry H. Brainerd, Commissioner of Traffic Safety, who said that car owners had better fight a suggestion from a cigarette manufacturer that they "cut out and paste on your car window" an advertisement placed in state newspapers.

Brainerd stressed that compliance with the suggestion would be in direct violation of Section 822 (a) of the Vehicle Code.

The section prohibits "any sign, poster, novelty or other personal property or other material placed upon, hung or attached in such a position as to interfere with the vision through the front windshield, side wings, side or rear windows."

Only the state inspection sticker and other devices, certificates or papers expressly approved for display by the Secretary of Revenue may be affixed to a car window or windshield.

All car owners are urged by Brainerd to "join the unswitchables" - those motorists who have refrained from affixing unauthorized signs or posters to car windows and windshields, thus complying with this provision of the Vehicle Code.

"We have no quarrel with any manufacturer's desire to promote the sale of his product," Brainerd stated, "but we must object in this case because the suggestion would encourage Pennsylvania drivers to violate the state's Vehicle Code."

Well Balanced Diet

An adequate lunch for the school child is important to his well-being and to his mental aptitude. He may be able to buy his lunch at the school cafeteria or lunchroom. However, if your child must carry a lunch or return home for his noon meal, take a tip from the pattern for Type A Federal School Lunch, suggests Mrs. Janet Miller, extension home economist, Luzerne County.

Type A lunches must include a protein food, vegetables and/or fruit, whole grain or enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, and milk. The meal should supply one-third to one-half of the child's food needs.

Protein might be supplied in sandwich fillings using chopped or ground meats, egg, peanut butter, cheese, or baked beans. To make lunch-packing easier, many fillings can be made ahead and refrigerated or frozen. Filled sandwiches can be frozen for quick packing, points out Mrs. Miller. Vegetable sticks, fruit, and a one-cup serving of milk complete this nutritionally adequate meal.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

What is the difference between a Registered Pharmacy and a Cut Rate or Patent Medicine Store ? ?

1. Penna. Pharmaceutical Laws Require that every minute a pharmacy is opened, a registered pharmacist must be present.
2. By complying with #1, only "pharmacies" have the "privilege" of selling insulin, exempt narcotic cough preparations such as cosanyl, Cheracal, Terpin Hydrate and Codine, and certain stomach mixtures with paregotic.
3. Where adhering to this law is a hardship or physical impossibility, the Pa. State Board of Pharmacy does not require maximum hours per day --- that is a pharmacy can open at 12:00 noon and close at 3:30 p.m. if so desired.
