BY BRUCE HOPKINS

"Hail, Knight of the Woeful Countenance" It was a kind of a sur-of-the-moment-thing. Tim Lavelle came up to my room one day last month and said, "Hey I've got an idea; let's go see Man of La Mancha in Philadelphia next month."

"Sounds like a great idea," I said. "Only how do you propose that we get to Philadelphia?"

"We'll worry about that some other time. If we get the tickets then we've got to find a way, right?"

Right. We ordered tickets for five (we had found a couple other interested persons). We waited for what seemed like year for the tickets to come and when they did, I couldn't believe it. I actually had in my possession a ticket to see Man of La Mancha. I hid it away in my secret hiding place for priceless possessions and waited anxiously for November 12.

After a wait of about 18 months, November 12th arrived. Tim was right; he had found a ride.

We arrived in Philadelphia, and went our separate ways for lunch. Tim and I tried this quaint-looking Italian restaurant. Except for one couple in the corner and five waiters, we were alone in the place. A waiter, who looked about as Italian as Maurice Chevalier, came over and mumbled something that sounded like, "Whatshuntwevospaglasan-voli?" I looked at Tim, and Tim looked at me. We tried not to laugh, honest we did!

After being served a very good meal, we left Italy and headed for the Erlanger Theatre. We found the theatre, found our seats, and waited. I had sudden nostalgic thoughts of that August day when I sat in the Winter Garden Theatre waiting for the overture of Mame. I had that same sinking feeling in the pit of my stomach.

Suddenly this voice came over the loudspeaker reminding us that Man of La Mancha would be performed without an intermission. This kind of bothered me. I mean suppose I got bored or something? The lights dimmed, and the orchestra began the overture. Two and a half hour later as Jose Ferrer ascended the steps leading out of the dungeon, and as Maura K. Wedge began singing "The Impossible Dream," we almost cried! I don't think I've seen anything as beautiful and moving in my whole life. When the lights in the house came on full the five of us looked at each other, and suddenly burst into laughing. You wouldn't have believed that five guys could have possibly had such somber looks on their faces. It was hysterical.

We had supper and then tried to remember where we had parked the car. We knew it was in one of those buildings that says PARK, but there were only about 900 of them around. Finally after following the capable leadership of Tom, who lived near the big city, we figured out which one it was, got the car, and headed for Bloomsburg. After having sung the entire score from Mancha for the third time, Tim

Dallas Senior High School Girls' Hockey Team Finishes Fifth Season

The Dallas Senior High School Girls' Hockey team wound up its fifth season with a 2-2-5 record. Ten seniors finished their high school hockey careers.

The Dallas teams are made up mostly of girls who have never played hockey before. Some have had a little experience in Junior High School, but none play in the elementary schools. This year, the team played two games with Lake-

Lehm and Kingston; they played one each against GAR, Meyers, Coughlin, Clarks Summit, Wyoming Seminary. Dallas had wins from Lake-Lehman and Meyers and tied Coughlin and Lake-Lehman.

Senior girls leaving the team are Jill Danaher, Pamela Baker, Kim Roddy, Edwina Morgan, Carol Pasquini, Donna Priebe, Dawn Hanson, Debbie Carruthers, Beverly Roberts, Christine Puchalsky, Captain. Nancy

Students Give Plaque To Robert Turrell

During Education Week the sixth grade class of the Dallas Elementary School, Mrs. Oec B. Austin's class, presented a plaque on a shingle to Mr. Bob Turrell of the Shavertown Lumber Company. The plaque was in appreciation for the shingles that Mr. Turrell donated to Mrs. Dorothy Withey for a sixth grade art project.

The sixth grade pupils of Mrs. Oec B. Austin, of Mr. Sam Barbosi, of Mr. Walter Prokopchak, and of Miss Marcela Nagorski, who had all participated in this particular project signed a note of thanks in appreciation for his kind donation.

asked where the play was moving to after it left Philadelphia. "Boston, I think," Tom replied. "Hey I've got an idea," Tim said. "Why don't we go see Man of La Mancha in Boston next month?"

"Great idea, Tim. Only how do you propose that we get to Boston?" I queried.

"We'll worry about that some other time. If we get the tickets then we've got to find away, right?"

Wrong (unfortunately). I guess we'll just have to retain what aesthetic pleasure we can from having seen it once (Tim will have less trouble as he had already seen it twice in New York!).

Bowling News

George Shupp League
Jack Trudnak, Kostrobala, Dan Federici, Ed Carriero and Paul Kamont teamed up for Parkhurst Monday night to win honors with a big total of 3012 (scratch). They earned an additional 3 pin handicap from Cook's and won all 4 points.

Parkhurst team piled up games of 998-1052-965. Trudnak spilled the most pins, 224-222 (644); Kostrobala topped 212-255 (641); Federici scattered 208-214 (604). Carriero up a 200 (573) while Kamont hit 550.

Leading scorer for Cook's were S. Bonomo's 200-206 (574) and Gerard Harris' 210 (560).

Fred Adams, 216-200 (599) and Andy Matte, 207 (590) led Town House to a 4 point victory over Sportsman's Bar. Bob Fallon had 211 (565) and Chuck Glasser hit 213 (562).

The week before, top scorers were Al Wendell hitting 203-226 (598) and Steve Bonomo with 202-217 (565) for Cook's; Jim Lohman, 203 (575) for Town House; Al Kalasky.

Then again, Boston isn't THAT far away... SEE YA!

John Martin Shoots Ten Pound Turkey

John Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Martin, Wyoming R. D. 3, enjoyed a delightful farewell surprise on Thursday, when he shot his first wild turkey — a ten pounder — just prior to leaving for the service! John, who has hunted ever since he could carry a gun, had plenty of rabbits and ducks "under his belt" — but never a turkey!

A graduate of Dallas High School, class of 1965, John was employed by Mar-Vail Industries in Exeter before leaving for Fort Jackson, S. C. He will be serving there with the Army National Guard for six months.

McCrorys Present Five Year Pins

A. L. Clifford, district manager, presented five-year pins to a number of local employees at a breakfast in the McCrory Store, Wyoming, recently. They were Mesdames D. Soltischick, E. Montedonio, R. Belles, T. Coolbaugh, R. Coburn, H. Makravitz, E. Lange, I. Davis, M. Ondish; and J. T. Craumer.

The five year pins are attractive gold circlets set with three rubies. Diamonds, emeralds or sapphires decorate pins for longer years of service. Five shares of stock are given to twenty-five year employees.

T. Jones, Kanasky Star Lake-Lehman Finishes Season With 26-7 Win Over Seminary

Lake-Lehman Knights closed out their campaign Saturday on a winning note with a 26-7 win over Wyoming Seminary at Nesbitt stadium. It was the third victory of the season for the locals and gave them a 3-5 record for the year.

Terry Jones was the top scorer of the afternoon as he garnered nineteen points, while Bill Kanasky was the top ground gainer in the contest.

Terry Jones' three touchdowns and one PAT pushed his scoring total to 67 points on the season and gave the Lake-Lehman versatile halfback undisputed possession of first place in the scoring race among non-conference teams.

Ed Booth of Pittston Area tied 19 points Saturday to tie the injured Dave Kaschak of West Side Catholic for second spot with 63 points each. Booth has two games remaining, one against Scranton Tech on Saturday and another against WSC on Thanksgiving. It's doubtful if Kaschak will see much action in the Thanksgiving contest other than for kicking.

The deepest penetration by Seminary in the opening session was to the Knights 19 before a fourth down pass went astray to halt the Sem drive.

Lake-Lehman took over and drove to the Seminary 3 as the quarter ended, but on the first play of the second period, Terry Jones was stacked up short of the goal line.

Midway in the period Seminary had their backs to the wall and were forced to punt with Wheeler getting off a poor kick to WS 20 yard line.

Runs by Kanasky, Kent Jones and Terry Jones moved the ball to the home team's six-yard line from where Terry Jones cut over tackle for his first TD of the afternoon. A bad snap from center prevented the try for the PAT.

Late in the opening half Sem's Frank Franconi broke through to block Dave Suencer's punt with the Knights of Seminary taking over on the L-L seven-yard line.

After Joe Wilson picked up short yardage, Dan Walsh skirted end on a reverse for the tally. Wallace Johnson gave the host team a 7-6 halftime lead as he crashed over tackle for the PAT.

Following a pass interception by Seminary and a fumble recovery by Lake-Lehman to get the second half underway, Lake-Lehman drove 46 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

It took the Knights eleven plays to rack up this score as once again Kanasky, Terry Jones and Kent Jones moved the ball on the ground to reach the one from where Terry Jones crashed over for the six-pointers. T. Jones' attempted PAT was wide.

Seminary Threatens With Dan Wheeler picking up good yardage on another reverse plus a fifteen-yard penalty against L-L Seminary drove to the visitors 26 before the attack fizzled.

The Knights of L-L immediately drove 74 yards in six plays as Bill Kanasky carried four times for 54 yards, going 16 yards on his final carry into paydirt. T. Jones booted the PAT to make it 19-7.

Seminary took the ensuing kickoff and marched to the Lake-Lehman 24 before a fourth down fumble halted them again after picking up the first down. A 17-yard run on a fake punt by Dan Wheeler was the key play in the drive.

Knights Go 76 Yards

This time the Knights used twelve plays to drive 76 yards for their final score with Terry Jones capping it on his two-yard burst over tackle. A pass K. Jones to Marty Cipolla provided the PAT.

Terry Jones was the workhorse in the drive, gaining 33 yards on nine carries, including the final six times to reach paydirt. Kanasky also chipped in with runs of 17 and 12 yards plus a pass to Marty Cipolla for 14 yards accounted for all the yardage.

The game ended with a pass to Jim Newman good for 14 yards to reach the Lake-Lehman 40.

Statistics

Lake-Lehman racked up 15 first downs, passed 12 times, completing 4 and had one intercepted. Lake-Lehman netted 262 yards from scrimmage on the ground and an additional 22 in the air.

Wyoming Seminary chalked up 8 first downs, passed 17 times, completing 7 and had none intercepted. Sem netted 96 yards on the ground from scrimmage and added 51 yards through the air.
