Boy Scouts Aid

Last week I was unaware that Boy Scout Troop 231 had done a magnificent job in helping out at Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs. Borthwick, beautification chairman, reports the boys arrived with Scoutmaster Bill Frederick to lend a willing and needed hand. Certainly they did their share, both in beautifying their community and helping their fellow citizens.

More progress was made this weekend and with the weather finally clearing many visited the grave sites of their loved ones. Dan Shaver had boys mowing the lawns, many trees which detracted with their withered branches were cut down by Herman Conch, trucks continued to fill the roads and already there is a marked change.

The Stevens family from Wyoming also brought several scouts over on Sunday to lend a hand.

In Thick Of Battle

Last week we mentioned Vietnam, that dread battlefield. Mrs. Helen Misson was rather terrified last week when she read that Bienhoa had been bombed for son Bobby is there. Several days later she received a letter telling her he was alright but to send over some goodies as he was on K-rations. We were happy to hear he escaped the catastrophe and that another boy from home, Larry Richards, Trucksville, is also in his immediate vicinity and the two have met.

Organ Dedicated

It was an impressive service on Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran when the new organ was dedicated. The magnificent numbers given by the choir under the outstanding direction of Gordon Wolverson and the superb organ music played by Mrs. George Voorhees added a very special touch.

Air Rifles

The air rifles are doing some damage again, I am told, putting neat little holes in some very expensive windows and certainly both alarming and perturbing several residents. They are outlawed, you know.

Friday will tell the results of the supervisor contest in our township. Military ballots may also come in but it is expected that the absentee tally will govern the outcome. At present count the total stands at 621 for Dick Mathers, 617 for Ted Poad, which shows that both men have a lot of friends.

Here And There

Mrs. Henry Metzger was painfully injured last week when a car struck the automobile in which she was riding with her son Donnie in Court-dale. Mrs. Metzger's face struck the windshield necessitating 21 sutures to close the lacerations. Donnie came to close the lacerations. Donnie came to close the lacerations. Fernbrook

Eureka! The sun broke through the clouds of dismal gray at last — just when the most patient among us was beginning to tire of the steady diet of rain! Some good can be found in almost anything, and the rain earth receives now, will be beneficial to us when the hot, dry, summer season rolls around.
