SHAVERTOWN

Highway Danger
 One can easily tell its summertime. Not only do we have the damndest humidity but the buzz of traffic and the screech of near wrecks and the crash of collisions is becoming a common occurrence during both day and nighttime hours.

It seems that no one is safe anymore, particularly near the shopping center and down near the Birch Grove area. This latter section is a puzzle. Is there something in the road composition that is more hazardous when wet or does oil from the berms ooze out onto the highway? Most of the mishap victims say they were not speeding. Certainly it is becoming a critical danger point and should certainly be looked into.

There are many many folk who dread to travel the thoroughfare and in a suburban community this should not be so. We had heard also that there was some possibility of a green arrow being placed at the Center Street intersection.

Firemen's Bazaar

Shavertown Fire Company is planning a big parade and bazaar next weekend. Plan to attend. Shel Evans has donated his lot for the purpose and parade is 7 p.m., Saturday evening.

Summit Meeting

Everyone is wondering what the outcome of the big summit meeting will bring. Mr. Kocoyin appeared to be quite congenial but these men are beautifully versed in deception to gain their own ends and I hope we make no promises that we will regret later.

On the other hand greater understanding can come about through meeting face to face and perhaps the citizens of Glassboro were using good psychology when they cheered the Soviet leader.

It was certainly a pleasant change from the scene of mob violence and riots which have been flashing too often across our television screens.

The Civil Defense weasel and duck which bears the wording Back Mountain Rescue Squad is in the process of being changed to Kingstown Township.

There's no doubt about it. We have a fine Little League team this year. Come out and watch the boys. They desire and deserve your support.

Here And There

We were happy to hear that John Curtis is on the mend after undergoing surgery on June 6 at Georgetown Hospital, Washington. His mother was down with him during the crucial period. John who has completed his freshman year as a pre med student at Georgetown Medical College will arrive home soon to spend the summer months and complete recuperation.

Ray Malkemes is home from the hospital and recuperating. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lapp, Besthesda, Md., came in to spend the weekend with him and Mrs. Malkemes.

Daughter Carol Hess tells me that she and her family will soon be living in Rome, N.Y., where her husband will now be working. Right close to the folks which makes it very nice.

Charles Puckey is home after having been a patient at Wilkes-Barre Veterans Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Boudereaux, Irvington, N.Y., have moved to Goeringer Avenue.

Mrs. Brad Blaine and little Brad are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Antainitis.

How glad we were to hear that John Butler, Jr., and Paul Campbell were not more seriously injured in their recent accident. Mrs. Butler was away at the time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Peter Luke, Wappinger Falls, N.Y.

Another busy weekend, for on Sunday morning we took off bright and early to Dobbs Ferry, to bring back our little Fritzie from the heat and humidity of that area to stay with us while his mother goes to the hospital. Our first view of Children's Village will be recounted next week since this column goes to press early.
