Let Us Give Thanks

The holidays are upon us. Thursday we shall gather with our families to give thanks for all our blessings and indeed we have many. It is a good land despite the attempts of a minority to prove otherwise and as long as we keep alive our loyalties, our concern for others and a pride in family and nation we shall not fall prey to our enemies.

Winter Approaches

The brisk and unexpected winter weather caught us unprepared. Snow tires went on in a hurry, mittens and warm jackets were much in demand and folks were bewailing the slippery highways which indeed were treacherous in many areas. The youngsters, however, were getting their first opportunity to wallow in the soft white snow and sleds came out of storage. The laughter of the young fry filled the air and the tree branches were radiant with their first mantle. The birdings flocked to the feeders and a supply of sun flower seeds is on the grocery list. It is delightful to see them approach and chatter in their own special language with flashing colors brightening the cloudy days. Our parakeet who watches from his window perch is aware of their approach and sings merrily to the visitors.

Christmas Gifts

All the stores are busy arranging Christmas merchandise and the Shopping Center has many gifts to offer while the Back Mountain Lumber and Coal Company has the most delightful presents for the big day, ranging from toys for the children to the most appropriate gift for your hostess. Winnie Hoover will be happy to find just that special item for you and you will find it just delightful to browse about for something different in holiday decorating.

Thanksgiving Game

There is much favorable comment on the renewal of the Thanksgiving contest between Lake-Lehman and Dallas grid teams. The boys are all in shape and an excellent turnout is expected to cheer on their favorite.

Wholesome competition is good and everyone is planning to attend their Alma Mater's section with out of towners expected to swell the crowd prior to the big family dinners.

Here And There

Mr. and Mrs. George Searfoss and daughter Linda, Kingston, have moved into the Cortright apartment on James Street. Mrs. Searfoss is the sister of Jack Jones so the family will be closer together.

Bill Hontz will be in for Thanksgiving to spend that occasion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Obed Hontz. This is Bill's senior year at Bloomsburg.

Our best wishes for a fast recovery go to Richard Pheobe, brother of Mrs. Charles Howe and John Chappell, who is a patient at General Hospital. Mr. Pheobe was seriously injured in Wyoming but is a Shavertown native.

We were happy to hear that Wayne Miers came home after a real bad time in the hospital, that he is progressing and is glad to be back in familiar surroundings again. Drop by to see him.

Mrs. Daniel Shaver is again a patient in General Hospital where she was readmitted on Sunday with a gall bladder attack. We send our very best wishes to her for a speedy recovery.

Spec. 6 Johnson Miers has returned after being stationed in Okinawa for the past year and has been discharged after seven years of service with the U.S. Army. He and his wife are now residing at 325 Holden Street, West Wyoming. Johnson saw much overseas duty having served in Korea, Germany, France, Japan and Okinawa.

Thomas Andrew is a patient at Wilkes-Barre Veterans Hospital where he was admitted on Friday after being stricken while teaching at Plymouth Schools.

Mrs. William Ockenhouse left Saturday for a week's stay in Connecticut as the guest of her daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams. They drove down for her. Mrs. Ockenhouse recently attended the wedding of Robert Williams Jr., visited his sister, Mrs. Rita Collins in Chicago and then went on to be the guest of another daughter, Mrs. Ray Kilcrease and family at Muskegon, Mich.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Chester Molley in her recent bereavement.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Blase are wintering at Fort Pierce, Fla.

During the holidays, remember the boys in Vietnam.

Livestock Survey To Be Conducted In Area

Farmers in the Dallas Area are being asked to supply detailed information about livestock in a survey starting November 22. Postmaster Ed Buckley announced today.

Survey cards will be delivered to farm mail boxes selected at random in rural routes served by the Dallas Post Office.

These semi-annual surveys are conducted cooperatively each year by the Post Office and Agriculture Departments and serve as a basis for estimating numbers of livestock on farms; livestock production; the size of the pig, calf, lamb and wool crops; and the number of chickens raised. This information is of considerable importance to farmers, the livestock industry, industries serving agriculture, public agencies and the general public.

Farmers receiving survey cards have been urged to fill them out and return them promptly to mail carriers. Postmaster Buckley said.

DUCK POT ROAST

Look around your duck blind and if you find boards reflecting bright surfaces or white ends of broken willows flashing warnings aloft, get busy with a handful of mud. Better yet, invest 15 cents in a can of walnut stain, which lasts longer. Also, keep an eye on the shells after they are slucked from your pump or automatic. Left floating around the blind, the shining brass kicks up enough glints to warn away an incoming flight. Sometimes several shells catch in the willows or reeds of a blind where they are equally offensive.

With the ducks safely in your kitchen, all plucked and drawn, here is a savory way to prepare them, especially those on which the moisture-retaining skin has been badly torn from shot, or in plucking. It is duck pot roast.

For each duck, melt 1 tablespoon shortening in a Dutch oven and when hot, brown each bird, (which has been dredged lightly in flour), on all sides. For each bird add 1 cup boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon whole spices, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped celery and 1 carrot, whole or split. Cover pot and simmer 2 hours, then add 1/2 cup red wine for each bird and simmer 1 more hour. After birds are removed, make a gravy from the liquid by thickening with flour, then straining.

DEEP-FRIED WALLEYE: TOMATO SAUCE

On a recent jaunt into Canada, Earl Warren of Racine, Wis., came across this excellent and simple recipe for deep-fried walleye fillets with tomato sauce.

Cut walleye fillets into convenient pieces, season with salt and pepper, and dip in an egg-milk mixture (2 eggs beaten into 1 cup of milk). Roll in crushed corn flakes and deep-fry in peanut oil.

The accompanying sauce is made by coarsely chopping 2 medium onions and simmering with 1 medium can of tomatoes 1 hour. Seasonings include salt and pepper to taste and 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate. Serve hot over fish.

Pennsylvania State Center Is Reaccredited

Congratulations are received by George W. Bierly, right, director of the Wilkes-Barre Center of Penn State, from Nunzio J. Palladino, dean of the College of Engineering at Penn State, following re-accrediting of two-year engineering technology programs at the local campus. Re-accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development are the programs in drafting and design technology, electrical and electronics technology, and surveying technology.

Pa. High School Home Economic Depts. Plan Farm Show Exhibits

Selection of nine Pennsylvania high school home economics departments to prepare special window exhibits for the 1968 Farm Show, January 15-19, was announced recently.

According to Horace L. Mann, Farm Show director, this will be the 45th Farm Show where school home economics exhibits have been entered in competition for prize money that now totals $455.

The window exhibits selected were chosen by a committee after reviewing display plans submitted by schools throughout the State.

Each exhibit is to convey one central idea based on an approved method or practice in home economics education. Top prize is $75 but each entry will receive an award of not less than $40 from the Farm Show Commission. In addition, a special electrical award of $50 will be given the exhibit demonstrating the best practical use of electricity.

The nine schools selected are located in eight counties. They were certified to the Farm Show Commission by Mrs. Clio S. Reinwald, coordinator of Home Economics and School Food Service, State Department of Public Instruction. The schools, counties, exhibit titles and teachers include:

Williamsburg Community High School, Blair County, "Take Steps to Open the Door to Community Beauty," Mrs. Adele Logue.

Upper Perkiomen High School, Montgomery County, "Are You a Good Hostess," Mrs. Ariene Slotter.

Mifflinburg Area High School, Union County, "Happiness is What You Eat," Miss Donna Bingham.

Millville Area High School, Columbia County, "Accessories from the Barn," Mrs. Catherine Mondan.

Blue Mountain High School, Schuylkill County, "Choose a Date to Redeccorate Your Habitat," Mrs. Marion Shollenberger.

Garden Spot High School, Lancaster County, "FHA Versus Dim Futures," Mrs. Betty Smoker.

Benton Area High School, Columbia County, "Some People Call it Junk," Mrs. Ruth F. Dildine.

James Buchanan Jr. High School, Franklin County, "Push Button Beauty," Mrs. Betty Wilson and Mrs. Betty Menhorn.

Trinity Area High School, Washington County, "Beauty and the Bud," Miss Dorothy Sten.

FACIAL BLOTCHES AND THE PILL

Q. I have been taking "the pill" for about two years and have developed brownish blotches on my face and neck. If I stop the pill will the blotches go away?

A. Blotchy discoloration similar to that which you describe may occur during pregnancy, and tends to persist. So, apparently, do blotches arising during oral contraceptive administration, even after stopping "the pill". Discuss the condition with your doctor.

COOKING UTENSILS

Q. Is it safe to cook food in copper utensils?

A. Copper cooking vessels are safe to use in that they do not impart harmful quantities of copper to food. However, copper reacts with certain food elements and for this reason copper vessels are seldom used in the preparation of food.
