SHAVERTOWN

Dangerous Turn-Off

At a busy intersection like Center Street, there have been repeated requests for an arrow or some other type aid in turning off the main thoroughfare which gets really tough to do during the nicer seasons.

The State Highway Department apparently wants a few fatalities before it will rectify the situation. A green arrow at Harris Hill and Pioneer enables the motorist turning off some chance. Why not here? One of our most respected residents was hurt badly last week when she attempted to reach her home.

One hears constantly about traffic safety and certainly motorists should take every precaution with so many cars on the road but we need some definite aid from officials. Let's see how many more will suffer before something is done.

Cleaned Up

Road Superintendent Lawton Culver was on the ball as usual in the clean-up Drive early this week. Now with a lot of rubbish out of the way there is also encouragement to paint up and fix-up so that we might have a fine looking town.

Again at the corners there are two empty lots which could be made more presentable and pleasant to passersby, but I understand requests by residents to do some beautifying have met with negative results and the old creek wall still poses a greater danger.

Guest Preacher

William Bispels was guest speaker at St. Paul's again on Sunday. We regret the proper spelling of his name was mistakenly entered previously. He will be ordained in Easton on May 26 and some of the congregation plan to attend.

Add the name of Beverly Whitting to the list of Shavertown Cancer volunteers.

Here And There

Mrs. Letha Spaulding who was injured in an accident at the Center Street intersection last week underwent surgery on Friday to correct a painful condition of her knee. Her daughter Jean came in from Philadelphia upon receiving news of the accident to visit her mother at Nesbitt Hospital. Over the weekend her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell arrived from New Jersey.

We trust that a speedy recovery is in the offing for Letha who has countless friends in the Back Mountain and is a real friend to those in need of aid. We would also vouch for her ability as a good driver for she has traveled widely all over the States.

Incidentally the two Brin children, who were also injured in the other car are still hospitalized.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Emma Stahl and John Stahl in their bereavement. Mrs. Grant Holmes and Wesley Stahl came in from Maryland to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Voelker spent the weekend at Penna. State University where a Mother's Day affair was sponsored by Robert Jr.'s fraternity.

Mrs. Alice Reese was admitted to the Intensive Care Unit at Nesbitt Hospital on Friday after being stricken ill at her home. We wish her a speedy recovery.

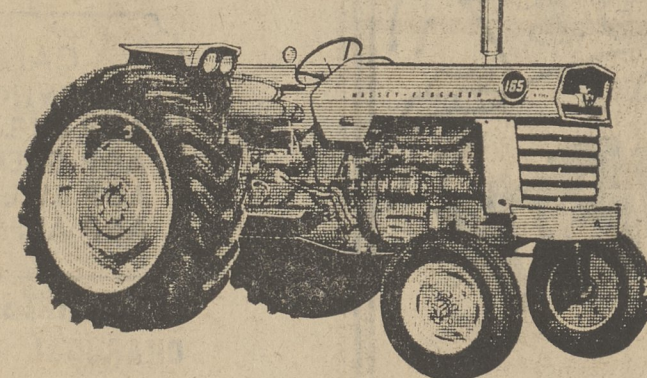

Mrs. Paul Daily flew to Ohio last week to join her husband there on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morton will shortly begin construction on a new home at Orchard View Terrace.

Sally Sieber was hostess to a number of local card club members at her home in Chase on Tuesday.

It was our 34th wedding anniversary on Saturday and what better way to spend it than with our beloved daughter and her husband so for the first time in many moons we left for Allentown. The young couple have purchased a home in Orfield and it was a pleasure to see it and meet her new neighbors.
