Claytona Fay Taylor To Wed Jay Evans, Jr., Tunkhannock

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Taylor of Beaumont announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Claytona Fay, to Jay Evans, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans, Sr., of Tunkhannock. Miss Taylor is a 1967 graduate of Tunkhannock High School and is engaged in secretarial work in Tunkhannock.

Mr. Evans is also a graduate of Tunkhannock High School and is a member of the National Guard in Scranton. He is a partner in the Real Estate and Construction Business with his parents.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, June 8, at 2 p.m., in Alderson Methodist Church with Rev. Fred Eister officiating.

A reception for the immediate families and a few friends will follow the ceremony at Ester's in Beaumont.

The couple have chosen as their attendants, Miss Elsie Snell of Towanda as maid of honor; Miss Shawn Taylor, sister of the bride as bridesmaid; Vanessa Smith, cousin of the bride as flower girl; Brian Cross of Tunkhannock as ring bearer; Francis Marcy, Tunkhannock as best man and Robert Gorski, Tunkhannock as usher. Mrs. Bert Cross, Tunkhannock, will be organist and soloist.

The couple will reside in one of the Evans apartments until their new home is erected.

Local Couple Wed At St. Paul's

MR. AND MRS. DONALD L. ANDREWS

Miss Valerie Lee Mallin, daughter of Mrs. Doris R. Mallin of Pinecrest Avenue, Dallas, was married Saturday afternoon, May 4, to Donald Loren Andrews, son of Mrs. Leonard Laskowski, Pioneer Avenue, Trucksville.

Rev. Durrell J. Seip, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Kingston, performed the double-ring ceremony in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Shavertown.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John W. Mallin, III, of Bloomsburg State College, wore a street-length sheath dress of Karate fabric with a Caftan of the same fabric. The rolled collar was of Tier Drop Venice lace which also bordered the elbow-length sleeves of the dress. Her headpiece was a Dior bow of the same fabric with a shoulder length veil. She carried a nosegay of white miniature carnations with a white orchid in the center.

Miss Susan Jane Allabaugh of Dallas was maid of honor and Miss Catherine Jule Wilson of Lake Teja, Dallas, was bridesmaid. Both are cousins of the bride and wore identical dresses in yellow styled similar to that of the bride. Their headpieces were yellow Dior bows with short veils. They carried nosegays of yellow miniature carnations.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Carl Andrews of Trucksville, was best man. Another brother, Leonard Laskowski, Jr., and Tex Wilson, Dallas, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of pale green and white with celery green accessories and a corsage of pale green cymbidium orchids. Mother of the groom wore a dress of aqua and white with matching accessories and a corsage of beige cymbidium orchids.

Kathe Maury Attends Philippine House Blessing

Miss Violette Malijon, an exchange student from Manila, invited Kathe Maury to attend a traditional Philippine House Blessing in New York over the weekend.

Kathe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Maury of Kunkle, is a senior laboratory student at Allentown Hospital and will receive her Bachelor of Science degree in Medical Technology from Wilkes College in June. She shares an apartment with Jeanne Polack and Mary Woznick of Dallas who are both senior laboratory students and graduates of College Misericordia in 1967.

Among the hundreds of guests were Japanese, Chinese, Jews, Italians, Philipinos, Hungarians, English, Welsh and Scotch. Many wore hand-embroidered native costumes and sandals. Weeks of preparation brought forth tables laden with Philippine delicacies and Oriental dishes, rolled beef, stuffed pork, rice cakes and even a whole roasted pig catered from Chinatown and carried in on a huge tray.

Three sponsors with lighted candles led a procession, followed by a priest chanting blessings and dispersing holy water on all the rooms.

The unique custom of throwing silver followed. In the scramble, any lucky guest acquiring a piece of silver was assured of a prosperous future.

SHAWN PATRICK LAWLER

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawler, 76 Parrish Street, Dallas, announce the birth of a 7 pound baby boy, Shawn Patrick, at General Hospital on May 5. The infant joins three older brothers, Billy, Rickie and Robbie. Mother is the former Shirley Gavanas of Kingston.

Maternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Earl H. Monk, wore a green knit suit with matching accessories and a beige orchid.

Mrs. Andrews is a graduate of Dallas Senior High School and is employed by Sisters of Mercy, Scranton Diocese, at College Misericordia. Mr. Andrews is also a Dallas Senior High School graduate and is employed at American Chain and Cable in Exeter.
