

Lake-Lehman Downs Hawkeyes In First Conference Game, 28-9

The Knights of Lake-Lehman copied their first Conference victory Saturday when they defeated the Hanover Hawkeyes, 28-9.

Hanover received the kick-off and returned the ball to its own 36. After a short gain of 3 yards, Hanover went to the air with an incomplete pass. Pape, Hanover quarterback, passed to Swartwood on the Knight's 38, and it was first down for the Hawkeyes.

A series of passes and runs by Jones and Swartwood took the ball to the Knights' 8 yard line where Lake-Lehman's Swan recovered the ball.

A pass to C. Kern on Hanover's 49 was fumbled. The Knights recovered. Four plays later and the Knights had first down.

Late in the first quarter, Dave

Eddy dropped Tom Swartwood in the endzone for the safety.

Hanover recovered the ball as the second period opened, but the Knights held them back. Lake-Lehman gained little yardage in three plays and kicked on fourth down. Hanover returned to its 21. In gains of 6 yards by Swartwood and 4 by McGlynn, Hanover had first down.

Three plays and Hanover faked a kick, but there was a penalty on the play. Then, a kick was returned by Kern but 15 yards were lost on a penalty.

Kern then dropped the pigskin on a pass play and after a penalty was called on a kick to D. Spencer, the Knights were forced to kick again. McDermott, the kicker, stepped over the endline for a safety. Lehman's kick was returned to Hanover's 48.

Two plays and a penalty later, Hanover fumbled. The ball was recovered by Lake-Lehman. A pass to Kern was intercepted by a Hawkeye who carried the ball back to the Knights' 34.

With seconds left in the first half, a Hanover pass was intercepted by Dave Eddy of Lake-Lehman.

The second half kick-off was received by B. Engle and returned to the Knights' own 48. A pass to D. Spencer gave the local team first down. Behind the passing of McDermott to Don Spencer, nine plays carried the Knights to the Hanover 4 and McDermott ran around left end for the TD. Kern kicked the PAT.

In the final period, things happened fast. After Kempinski passed to Dave Brown on the LL 23 for a gain of 29 yards, he was pushed back to the 33 for a loss of 10 yards. As the fourth quarter opened, Kempinski hit Bill Jones in the end zone and Hanover scored. Dave Fischer placed the PAT and the score was tied 9-9.

The Knights came back strong and took 5 plays to go 56 yards. Dave Spencer went over from the 1 yard line following a pass play of 40 yards by McDermott to Spencer. Carl Kern kicked the PAT and the Knights were out in front, 16-9.

Lake-Lehman scored again after Dave Eddy intercepted on his own 35 and carried the ball back to the Hanover 43. A clipping penalty was charged against the local boys and the ball was placed on their 26.

McDermott, LL quarterback, returned a Hanover punt from the 40 to the Hawkeyes 8, and after three plays, McDermott went over for the final score. Kern kicked but illegal procedure nullified the PAT. The second try was blocked.

The Knights will host Meyers Saturday afternoon.

PLAN HANGING AROUND LONG ENOUGH TO TELL ABOUT THAT BIG HUNT?

What's 70, 80, 90, maybe if you're real lucky 140 or 150 pounds of venison, steaks, roasts, stew meat and venisonburger worth?

Leave out the recreational values in your figuring. Measure it right up against the pounds of ham, lamb, steaks, chicken, hamburger and other meat the frau would have to put on the table if you hadn't connected with that buck or doe.

Let's say it averages out to $1 per pound. To you, then, the monetary value of that deer was $70, $80, $90? maybe if you were real lucky $140 or $150.

You challenge that $1 per pound value? Good! Let's make it $3, or better yet, a juicy $5 per pound. The top figure then is $750!

Isn't your life worth more than $750 to you? . . . to your family? . . . to your friends? . . . your business associates?

Of course it is, so start conditioning yourself for those late-October-November-December days when a sudden spell of bad weather puts a heavy, unexpected tax on the system.

Some systems just can't stand the added strain and simply give up. It's curtains!

Don't let that happen to you. Get yourself ready while there is still plenty of time. And if your medical chart shows any hernias or heart murmurs or slipped disks or other conditions or malfunctions it might be well to have Old Doc help in laying out your reconditioning schedule.

Otherwise just start using your legs. That's the key to getting back to good condition!

If it's to be with a golf club in your hands (and this is an excellent way) get out on the fairways. Don't cling to the driving ranges and practice putting greens. Walk! If it is to be more active participation in the early fall small game seasons, schedule plenty of tromping and a minimum of sitting around watching woodpecker holes hoping a squirrel will poke his head out.

Brisk walking, bicycle riding, climbing up and down a tall ladder, those are other good ways of getting the old pins in shape. When you get 'em to the point where they can take it, the old ticker and the lungs and the back muscles will be at a peak, too!

Hauling a buck a mile back to the car, pushing a truck out of a snowbank, or rowing a duck boat to shore in the face of a howling blizzard still won't be easy.

But you'll be around to tell how hard it was!

Pipeline Break Causes An Extensive Fish Kill

A recent report of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission included information on a pipeline break on September 12 which killed fish and other aquatic life in Shy Beaver Creek and the Juniata River.

The break occurred near Cherry Tree, Huntingdon County, permitting thousands of gallons of fuel oil to be discharged into the creek and on into the river, covering a distance of 18 miles.

The fish kill is considered to be the heaviest on record for the section of the Juniata River. The pipeline is owned by Buckeye Pipeline Company and the extensive kill includes smallmouth bass, walleye, pickerel and other species normally found in that vicinity.

Robert J. Bielo, executive director of the Commission, has indicated action will be taken for recovery of damages to fishlife and possible other prosecution under authority of a new law passed by the 1967 Legislature.

Pickett Trains For Olympics In Mexico City

John Pickett, Dallas High School senior, who only a month ago won a berth on the U. S. Olympic team in kayak racing, has arrived safely in Mexico City.

John is residing in Olympic Village with athletes from all over the world. He will train there until the Olympic Games begin on October 15. The canoe and kayak races will start on October 22.

Mexico, the historic grounds of the Aztecs, is the scene this year for the most controversial Olympics of the ages. Modern Olympiads, which promote much good will among nations, have always been controversial, but there will undoubtedly be more at Mexico City.

Several nations threatened to boycott the games in Mexico City when South Africa entered. Later, in an emergency session, the International Olympic Committee turned South Africa down, due to complaints about its apartheid policies. Some Negro athletes in the United States will not participate, protesting against race discrimination.

Many argued against the Summer Olympiad being in Mexico, claiming that because of Mexico City's 7,400 foot altitude, athletes would suffer injuries while competing.

However, officials claim other athletic events have been held in Mexico City successfully. Also, skiing events are usually held at high altitudes.

So, the games are being held in Mexico and Mexicans have spent much time and money preparing for them. The Aztecs Stadium will accommodate soccer competition. The track and field events will be held at the University Stadium. Water polo events will be held in the University's pool.

Two new structures have been erected for the Games. The basketball competition will take place at the Sports Palace and a 40,000 stadium was built for field hockey and fencing. Both are in Mixhuca Sports City.

Cycling will be held at the Velodrome; pentathlon at Military Polygon; boxing at Mexico Arena and volleyball at Churubusco Auditorium.

The rowing events will take place

They took up the sport recently, receiving some quick pointers from John Pickett before he left for the Olympics in Mexico City last week.

G.A.R. Wins On Dallas Gridiron; Mountaineers Meet WVW Friday

The Dallas Mountaineers met G.A.R. on the Dallas field Saturday afternoon in the first Wyoming Valley Conference game of the season and came out on the short end of a 21-0 score.

Costly mistakes by the Mountaineers throughout the game led to their downfall.

The game, played before a capacity crowd, was only minutes old when G.A.R. held Dallas on downs. Morris' kicked to G.A.R. 33 yard line. Three plays later, after bull-like charges by Kislin, G.A.R. fullback, Zaklukiewicz, scampered 30 yards for a touchdown. The PAT kick by Roebuck was good, and G.A.R. led 7-0.

After the kickoff, Dallas' offense was contained by a strong G.A.R. defense and Dallas lost the ball to G.A.R. via a fumble. After a series of running plays, G.A.R. fumbled but recovered on the Dallas 26 yard line.

Several pass attempts were incomplete. Dallas took over, but unable to gain, was forced to kick. A short punt went to the Dallas 48, from where G.A.R. scored on a pass from Zaklukiewicz to Swanski. Roebuck's PAT attempt was good and G.A.R. led 14-0 in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, both teams battled defensively. After attempts by Morgan, Morris and Martin to gain on the ground, Dallas was stopped by the rugged G.A.R. defensive line and was forced to punt. The Dallas defense held the Grenadiers, who were forced to kick. The ball went out of bounds on the GAR 37.

After several incomplete pass attempts, Dallas kicked into the end zone. Putting the ball into play on their own 20, a G.A.R. pass was intercepted by Bittenbender of Dallas on the GAR 43. Unable to gain, Dallas' kicked again into the end zone. The ball was put into play on the GAR 20. On runs by Kislin, Gallella, and Zaklukiewicz and passes to Swenski and Piekara, G.A.R. moved the ball to the Dallas 6 yard line where the first half ended, G.A.R. leading 14-0.

About half way into the third quarter, the Grenadiers moved the ball to the Dallas 21 on runs by Kislin, Januzzi and a 15 yard face mask penalty. From there, G.A.R. quarterback Zaklukiewicz hurled a touchdown pass to Ken Bradshaw. The PAT attempt by Roebuck was good.

Dick Morgan, Dallas quarterback, gave the tough GAR team a rugged battle in the third quarter. Morgan ran 29 yards and threw a pass to Bill Martin taking Dallas to the GAR 26. Morgan, hurt on the play, was replaced by Lefko who guided the Mountaineers to the GAR 6 where GAR defense dug in and GAR took over.

The balance of the game saw each team trying to gain an advantage but without success.

GAR gained 198 yards rushing with 15 first downs. They completed 5 of 17 passes for 134 yards with one interception.

Dallas gained 76 yards on the ground with 7 first downs and completed 5 of 15 attempted passes for 65 yards with one interception.

Dallas was penalized 50 yards on 6 rule infractions to GAR's 30 yards on 4 infractions.

Dallas travels to Wyoming Valley West stadium in Kingston tomorrow night. Game time, 7:45.
