Let's get this nation back to God!

Surely you don't think the churches can save this nation.

Intimidated by walthy members, embarrassed by the poorer members, brain-washed by cultural values, restricted by social concepts of "Christianity", and powered by pietistic selfishness, they compete with each other more than they wage war against evil and inhumane laws or economics.

Yet, many equate church membership with true Christian BEING.

Let's get this nation back to God!

Surely you don't think education will transform human nature. An educated thief is not made honest — only more efficient; nor is a well-adjusted person able to conform to a sick society. Yet many people spend more time learning facts than learning truth.

Getting this nation back to God depends on whether God wants it back!
