EAST DALLAS

SHAVERTOWN

With those who have to spend an entire day in the Shavertown Grade School Annex on election day, the old drafty building with its broken windows and temporary heating system is anything but comfortable. As of this writing the Democratic committee has asked that the basement of the school be made available. With an outside entrance available this would give easy access and be warm. The only complication is the serving of children for their lunches but for one time they could be served in their rooms. It seems that there should be other spots that could be used. Judy Whipple suggested the rear of the Post Office which is now empty since all mail is sorted in Kingston. A decision will have to be made soon. The people are entitled to decent quarters.

corners will be a more attractive spot after all this time.

Roast Beef

The Brotherhood of St. Paul's will hold their Roast Beef Dinner on November 9. Always delicious, a good crowd is expected. Tickets may be purchased here and there and there sart is chairman.

Water Problems

Lack of water is again plaguing residents of Mt. Airy. Something will have to be done to furnish a more ample flow or like Trucksville we will be losing many residents. The utilities must meet the demands and water is mighty important for good health.

Here and There

A native of Kingston Township, the passing of Seth Howell leaves another void in our midst. We all enjoyed chatting with him and were well aware of that very friendly smile. Seth was devoted to his family and his favorite hobby was the World Series.

The son of early residents in the area, he grew up in Trucksville. His brother was the late, Dr. Gideon Howell. It was in the next community that he met and married Mazie Hess, who spent most of her childhood at the home of her grandfather, then postmaster of Trucksville. Nearly sixty years of happy married life followed and they were planning to observe that special date this week, when advancing years claimed their toll.

For over thirty years, the Howells resided in our area and we shall miss our friend. Sincere sympathy is extended to his widow, daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Herr and Mrs. Ann Herr, Philadelphia, were recent weekend guests of Mrs. Letha Spaulding.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Martin, who returned to Washington, D.C., last Thursday with granddaughter Ann, had a nice visit with son, Atty. Jim III and his wife before they returned to Dallas, Texas. They then went on to Maryland, West Virginia and Bellefonte, stopping over to see friends before coming home again. Little Charlotte Ann visited here while her father attended a legal meeting and her mother was the guest of friends in the nation's capital.

We were so sorry to learn that Mrs. Albert Blase had suffered a fatal attack. In last week's column we knew she had entered the hospital but were sure that she would recover. Possessing a fine sense of humor and a real good sport, Elizabeth was active in her community and a pleasure to be with. She belonged to our Cancer Dressings Group in addition to her other activities but first and foremost was the welfare of her husband. The sympathy of the community is with the good doctor and members of her family.

Elda Woolbert Shaver, who, incidentally we are so glad to have back in our midst, visited her daughter in law and grandson last weekend in New Jersey, bringing back her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mae Van Campen on her return. Mrs. Van Campen was the guest of her son, James, at Tom's River. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Waldow on their 35th wedding anniversary. Ruth is one of those nice people we enjoy having around us.

Sincere sympathy is offered to Thomas Amos in the loss of his brother last week and to Mrs. Stephen Stolarick, who, also, was bereaved.

Miss Charlotte Martin, who recently attended a Dieticians Conference in California, flew on to Hawaii for a week in the glamour island before returning East. On vacation she is now visiting her brother, Attorney James Martin, III and family in Dallas, Texas. She is employed as a dietician at the Veterans Hospital in Lyons, N.J.

We were proud to read that Joan Dominick and Vincent Roman were among local students receiving commendation in the 1968 Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Beaumont

The Wyoming County United Fund is chaired locally by Elmer Boice who seeks your financial cooperation when a member of his committee calls. Mrs. Alyce P. Condon has donated her services as a token of her concern for the less fortunate and will solicit this Beaumont area.

Congratulations are due Fred Balewski and Byron Cook, Jr. who will represent Tunkhannock Area Schools in the North-east Regional Band.

Welcome home, Russ! Russell Denmon, Jr. made it for the first day of hunting season! Russell is home from Okinawa and Viet Nam for a fifteen day leave from the Marines.

Local nimrods were unhappy with their kill the first day due to too many "posted" areas. Mrs. Violet Gary returned to Gouverneur, N.Y. with her daughter, Mrs. Jane Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dymond, Sr., Orange, were very happy to have their grandson Jerry Dymond visit them and other relatives and friends, last week. Jerry is in the air force, and flew in from Turkey on a 10 day leave.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dymond, formerly from Orange but now living in Homestead, Florida. Jerry surprised everyone by announcing his marriage to the daughter of his chaplain in Turkey, before leaving for the states.

He will be stationed in Washington for two months schooling, after which he will meet his wife, Dottie, who will fly in to New York.

No doubt they will have a wonderful reunion with his parents and getting acquainted with his bride. (We all up here are anxious to meet her too). They plan to come here for a few days before he has to leave for Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rozelle, Jerry's aunt and uncle, Orange, entertained at a family dinner in his honor last week. Guests were Grandpa and Grandma Dymond, Vivian Dymond; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dymond Jr., and family. Connie Sue, Dale, Beckie, Robin Rozelle and the host and hostess, Ray and Glenna Rozelle.

I was sorry to hear that Mathew (Mitch) Cybulski and Harold Titman are patients in General Hospital, at the time of this typing, (Thursday). I sincerely hope and pray that by the time you read this, they will be back in their respective homes, recuperating. My best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Sorry I had to miss birthday greetings when I was laid up. Greetings now to Mrs. Nicholas (Bertha) Dickson; Bobby Wagner; Gloria David Adams; Agnes Sidorek; Mrs. Fred (Alvina) Lamoreaux; Rhonda Moore; Priscilla Moore Krum; August Strazduk; George Moore, Jr.; Jean Marie Dickinson; Harry Martin, Jr.; Deborah and Sandra Moore; Sandra Edwards.

Bob and Hilda Moore, Keith, Patti and Holly; Harry and Mary Lou Thompson, Dale and Clude; and father Mr. Ehrgot, visited Betty (Ehrgot) and Bob.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Field and Denise of Jamestown, N.Y., spent the weekend with the Joseph Shalatas.

Mrs. Fred Kronetbein remains about the same since her admittance to Nesbitt Hospital, two weeks ago.

Mr. Basil Hayner, father of Mrs. Ernest Teetseh is critically ill at Wilson Memorial Hospital, Johnson City, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rish, Scranton were Sunday guests at the William Monkatchys.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Engelman and family of Athens, Pa., visited Mrs. William Engelman, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Honeywell, Jr. Carteret, N.J., were dinner guests at the Wheeler Hess home on Sunday.

Mrs. Vane Race, Wallingford, Conn., spent the weekend with relatives here and with her father Archie Eyet at Falls, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sickler, Falls, Pa. visited in Noxen on Sunday.

Lee Tracy, son of local residents, was laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery on Thursday. A well known actor of television, stage and screen, he often visited here and remembered his hometown with affection. The R. M. Scotts are his only local relatives and were mighty proud of him.

Mrs. Margaret Dilg is recuperating from a fractured shoulder resulting in a fall suffered in New Jersey where she was visiting. Hospitalized there she Helmer, and son Bobby, in White Haven, last Sunday. Nancy Gross, daughter of Emily (Ehrgot) Gross, Parsons, visited Aunt Hilda Moore and family, East Dallas last weekend.

I had a nice card and note from Mrs. Edith Rozelle McClelland, former Orange resident, but now living in Hatboro, Pa. She said she missed the East Dallas news these past weeks; and also misses her many friends back here and "would I tell every one that knows her that she was asking about them."

They have a lovely back yard with a dogwood tree that has turned a beautiful red along side of a green spruce tree, a beautiful sight. Thank you Edith for your friendly get well wishes.

I also had a nice letter from Mrs. Alma Fry, Dallas. Remember she had a broken leg a few months ago? (I wrote about her strong determination at that time). Well she told me in her letter that her "leg is perfect but when she goes to walk, she has to go slow yet as her foot had been injured so badly at that time also.

She had attended a wedding in Ashley Sept. 12 and is planning to attend the Oral Robert's Crusade, to be held at Harrisburg, November 9. Did you say "grit". She sure has what it takes to "Git up and go". Thank you Alma.

"Call to Prayer and Self Denial" service was observed Monday evening in the East Dallas United Methodist Church. Everybody was invited.

Leader was Mrs. Florence Martin. Scripture was read by Priscilla Martin Coolbaugh; A talk "Urban Ministries in Asia" by Mrs. Louise James. Educational work and Building fund; "Vashi School for Girls," by Blanche Flaux.

Several hymns were sung followed by a social hour in the dining room.

Present were Florence Martin, Priscilla Coolbaugh, Jeanette Dickinson, Janet Kasmak, Mary Ann Lilley and Myra Carlin from East Dallas. Blanch Faux, Emily Davenport, Dymond Hollow; Mrs. Zana Dymond, Vivian Dymond, Ruth W. Schoonover, Ethel Cooper, Ruth B. Schoonover and Louise James, Centermoreland.

I was sorry I was unable to be there, but I want to thank all, for their little notes they all wrote separately on a table mat. Sure made me feel great.

Again I thank friends who continue to send me get well cards. I am improving every day but have to be very careful.

NOXEN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bigelow have returned from a visit with their son Charles and his family, at Barker, N.Y. and Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bigelow at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richards on Sunday were Mrs. Cheeta Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hahn, Sharon, Tommy and Timmy, Moosic, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dunlap, Clarks Summit.

Mr. Harry Traver discovered four balloons on the property of George Orcutt, while hunting this week.

They were let out from the Ridewood Elementary School at Baltimore, Md. on October 16, 1968.

The name on the balloons was Lori Galaway. She asked to have the balloons returned.

Mrs. Evelyn Nabone returned to her home at Iselin, N.J., after spending ten days here, with her son Joseph and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Field and Denise of Jamestown, N.Y., spent the weekend with the Joseph Shalatas.

Mrs. Fred Kronetbein remains about the same since her admittance to Nesbitt Hospital, two weeks ago.

Mr. Basil Hayner, father of Mrs. Ernest Teetseh is critically ill at Wilson Memorial Hospital, Johnson City, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rish, Scranton were Sunday guests at the William Monkatchys.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Engelman and family of Athens, Pa., visited Mrs. William Engelman, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Honeywell, Jr. Carteret, N.J., were dinner guests at the Wheeler Hess home on Sunday.

Mrs. Vane Race, Wallingford, Conn., spent the weekend with relatives here and with her father Archie Eyet at Falls, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sickler, Falls, Pa. visited in Noxen on Sunday.

Lee Tracy, son of local residents, was laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery on Thursday. A well known actor of television, stage and screen, he often visited here and remembered his hometown with affection. The R. M. Scotts are his only local relatives and were mighty proud of him.

Mrs. Margaret Dilg is recuperating from a fractured shoulder resulting in a fall suffered in New Jersey where she was visiting. Hospitalized there she was brought home by Ted Woolbert over the weekend.

With the stairs ice coated on Tuesday morning, Mrs. Ann Updyke, also suffered bruises in a fall at a neighbor's home.

William Gilbert and son, Billy, Washington, D.C., were guests last week of his mother, Mrs. Fred Bonfig.

Ann Balavage was among the lucky winners at Acme last week and Ida Clause was awarded 10,000 stamps. Nice going, girls. This makes four in the immediate vicinity who were awarded prizes.

Tom Cole, Pottstown, a former young man who attended school here, was in town for several days hunting and visiting old friends.

Sincere condolences are sent to the family of the late Marcus Ludt, who made a valiant comeback after several serious illnesses. Our sympathy goes out to his family.

Mrs. Harry Beck is a patient in General Hospital and we hope for a speedy recovery.

Taking advantage of the hunting season, we took off Friday night for Orefield. Since pheasants are more prevalent there, Fred, Billy and Fred Jr., thought to try their luck with the birds. It also gave me time to spend with Susan and Dottie and the chance to visit an old friend in Phillipsburg, N.J.

The buying of the hounds is echoing across our valley and the beagles are at the height of their glory but we are rather sorry for the other game which is unaware that bow and arrow hunters are stalking. If it is a quick death we have no objections but if only wounded that puts a different light on the whole picture. I, for one, could never become a hunter for animals like the children are precious gifts of the Creator.

Trucksville

Trucksville Fire Company will meet in the municipal building tomorrow night at 8. William Long will preside.
