JOTS FROM DOT

Luluabourg, Aug. 13, 1968

Dear Folks,
If I didn't tell you Happy Birthday last week, Cathy, consider yourself Happy Birth-dayed already. With entertain-ing Annual Conference, my brain probably wasn't operat-ing on all cylinders. Anyway we had a party for you Sunday night (also for Joe Davis!) made a cake with one candle. I sent you a present in Milt Cole's baggage. Maybe you will get it by Christmas!

I have been working on a midwifery book to be printed. I have been using for a long time, and am revising it, making more pictures.
Yesterday I tuned Eisen-man's piano. Last night Ethel and I have played Scrabble. Sometimes I play my autoharp and Ethel plays her violin.

Dear Folks,
We came to the lake Sat. I didn't get any mail before I left, so won't now for two weeks. Some people are going to Luluabourg tomorrow so will send this with them.

The weather has been beau-tiful the last two days. Before that it was cloudy all the time, the people said.
In the lake there are springs bubbling up like tiny volcanoes. I didn't see them when I was here before.

Luluabourg was O.K. for a change, but we spent all our money and were glad to get out of the big city and its traffic. Did I tell you about the lady who said, "My, the traffic is something there these days. Why, I saw 6 or 7 cars in a row one day!"

There was a parade Sat. celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the "Popular Revolutionary Movement." One group represented a farming project apparently, because each person carried some tool or product: one had a banana tree, another a goat, another a chicken, a real 4-H bunch. This party had posters up all around the very familiar slogans like, "No imperialists nor their lackeys allowed," yet they have others saying "Our revolution doesn't mean atheism: free-dom of religion is guaranteed."

And "Agriculture will save the country." All very interesting and someday we will see where it all leads to. I don't think the Congo is going to be anybody's "Lackey," anyway.

Lewis honored

G. Wesley Lewis, Mount Zion, was honored Friday evening by the Wyoming Conference Laymen's Association in recog-nition of his 19 years as Con-ference Lay Leader. Mr. Lewis retired from the office in May. Nearly 300 laymen and wo-men and ministers from both Wyoming and Philadelphia Conferences gathered at Elm Park United Methodist Church, Scranton, for the testimonial dinner. Church leaders from other areas also sent mes-sages of appreciation for the dedication and hard work shown by Mr. Lewis while serving as a Conference Lay Leader longer than any other man in Metho-dism.

In addition to his work in Wyoming Conference and the Philadelphia Area, Mr. Lewis has served on many General Conference boards and com-mittees.

For 37 years Mr. Lewis car-ried the mail on Wyoming R.D. 3, and is well known as a peach grower.

Principal speaker at the din-ner was Bishop Fred Corson, who also retired this year, with whom Mr. Lewis worked close-ly during his years in office.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were surprised by the presence of their sons-in-law at the din-ner. Roger Whitley and John Jenkins arrived from New En-gland Friday afternoon and greeted them as they entered the church dining room; daugh-ter Marilyn Jenkins had been spending a few days with her parents and kept their coming a secret.

Saturday night's dinner for twenty was prepared by Mrs. Saidee Cooper and helpers. Camp Meeting on lower De-munds Road last summer had an all-time high attendance. Plans for improving the grounds and enlarging the pro-gram are in process.

Pastor and Mrs. Donald Keller will have charge of the Bible School workers.
