past-presidents

Six past-presidents of the Dallas Senior Woman's Club were honored last week at a dinner at the Irem Temple Country Club.

Mrs. Arthur Culver, the club's first president, introduced the guests of honor and noted that another past-president, Mrs. Howard Wiley, was unable to attend.

Past-presidents at the dinner were Mrs. Alva Eggleston, Mrs. Bettie Dixon, Mrs. Culver, Mrs. Boyd White, Mrs. Fred Eck and Mrs. Lester Jordan.

Mrs. Eck gave the invocation and paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Ross Lewin.

Mrs. John Hilsher, president of the Luzerne County Federation of Women's Clubs, urged support of federation projects and that department chairman read and use material sent them.

She also asked that all members be interested and thoroughly involved in their club.

The business meeting was opened with the singing of the "Collect" by a trio from the Dallas Woman's Club Chorale, consisting of Mrs. Joseph Katyl, Mrs. Charles Mahler, Mrs. John Kaminski, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Davidson.

Mrs. John Williams, president of the Dallas club, presided at the meeting. She thanked Mrs. Robert VanHorn for arranging the dinner, and also welcomed a former member, Mrs. Raymond Flick.

Minutes were read by Mrs. Thomas Reese in the absence of Mrs. Edwin Roth, Secretary, and the Treasurer's Report was given by Mrs. William Schilling.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Stahl, 5313 S. Crawford Road, RD 3, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., announce the birth of a son, Matthew Christian, on Nov. 13.

The new arrival, first child of the couple, weighed in at seven pounds, two ounces.

Mother is the former Sandra Welton, Oscoda, Mich. Mr. Stahl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl, Shavertown. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is completing his senior year at Central Michigan University. His wife is also a senior at the same college.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Andrews of 42 Main Street, Dallas have announced the birth of a son, Christopher Don, 5 lbs. 8 oz., at General Hospital on November 13.

Mrs. Andrews is the former Valerie Mallin, daughter of Mrs. Doris R. Mallin, Dallas. Mr. Andrews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Laskowski of Pioneer Avenue, Trucksville.

Christopher is the Andrews' first child. He is the first grandchild of Mrs. Mallin and the third grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Laskowski. He is also the fourth great-grandchild of Mrs. Earl H. Monk.

Welfare chairman, Mrs. Leonard Cowett, thanked members for bringing canned goods for holiday baskets and asked that unwrapped gifts and wrapping paper be brought to the December meeting to be sent to Retreat Hospital for Christmas.

Mrs. Eck gave a report on the Scholarship Loan Fund and stated that 14 students had been aided.

Fine Arts Chairman, Mrs. Vern Groff, announced the Club's participation in the Art Contest.

Mrs. Bettie Dixon, Public Affairs Chairman, requested that members planning to tour Natona Mills on Wednesday, November 20th, meet at the entrance at 1:30.

Mrs. Floyd Slocum, Ways and Means chairman, thanked Mrs. Ralph Fitch for handling the sale of the Vigilanti Whistles and announced that Mrs. James Houston would be in charge of the notepaper and place mats.

Thanksgiving baskets being collected

The Dallas Women of Kiwanis Club will again act as clearing house this year for reception of Thanksgiving Baskets for needy families in the Back Mountain Area.

This also includes families with children in the Lake-Lehman School District.

They would like all civic organizations, clubs, or church groups who plan to distribute baskets this year to contact either of the following women by Friday to avoid duplication of baskets.

Please call Mrs. John Blase, 675-3293 or Mrs. Tom Kriedler, 674-5231.

pink ladies

Four women from one small street in New Goss Manor, Grandview Avenue, serve as Pink Ladies at General Hospital, sharing transportation portal to portal, each Tuesday.

They are Mrs. Harold Flack, Mrs. Ted Meixell, Mrs. Monroe Houtz and Mrs. Mabel Evans.

Book Club nominates

It was a dreary day, with spiteful gusts of rain blowing from the east, but the Book Club had an unusually good turnout on Monday afternoon in Back Mountain Memorial Library Annex.

Mrs. Oran Lamb presided, receiving reports of committees. Mrs. Thomas Heffernan gave an accounting of the Book Club selections for summer and early fall.

Nominating committee, Mrs. Ralph Lewis, Mrs. Ben Edwards, and Mrs. Dana Crump, presented a slate of officers: for president Mrs. John Murphy; vice president Mrs. Joe Beckham; secretary, Mrs. James Malkemes; treasurer, Mrs. Ben H. Edwards.

The ballot was unanimously in favor.

A book review session was sparked by Mrs. Murphy, who reviewed "A Mass for the Dead," recommending it highly; gave short shrift to a new book by Slaughter; recommended "Covenant with Death," and that perennial favorite "Between Parent and Child;" and reviewed in brief "Kidnap," the story of the Lindbergh case.

Mrs. Lloyd Kear reviewed "Pine Barrens" and "Vanishing Cornwall."

Hix reviewed "Preserve and Protect," the latest political novel by Allen Drury, one of a series dealing with national politics.

A general discussion followed.

Mrs. Lloyd Kear and Mrs. Ben Edwards poured at a tea table dressed for Thanksgiving, with a mallard duck as a centerpiece, arranged by Mrs. Verne Groff.

Present were Mesdames Edgard Brace, Stanley Davies, Thomas E. Heffernan, Ben H. Edwards, Charles H. Manneer, Martin Davern, John R. O'Malia, Lloyd Kear, Howard Moyer, James Malkemes, Ralph G. Lewis, G. H. Montgomery, Virginia Lowé, James

do's and don'ts of grooming discussed

The office practice at Dallas Senior High School attended Fowler, Dick and Walker's clinic on business grooming and behavior in the Pickering Room of the firm.

The field trip was arranged by David N. Schooley, vice president and Treasurer of Fowler, Dick and Walker, and Mrs. Emma Lang, business education teacher at Dallas Senior High School.

Frank Burnside, president, and Mr. Schooley addressed the group.

Harold Trethaway, vice president and personnel director; Curtis Montz, sales promotion director; Mrs. Janie Morgan, cosmetics department buyer; Miss Maryann Lopatto, Penno-lynn Beauty Salon representative; and Mrs. Martha Smith, Training Supervisor, presented the facts on the "do's and don'ts" concerning grooming and behavior as demanded by the business world.

Gary McDade and Sharon Coolbaugh, students in the office practice class, participated in the mock job interviews.

Executive Board of Shavertown WSCS will meet Tuesday morning, November 26, 10 a.m. at Shavertown United Methodist Church. Mrs. Ted Meixell will preside.
