roads opened to hunt gobblers

N. J. Molski, supervisor of the Game Commission's Northeast Division, reports that several roads on state game lands will be open to vehicular traffic during the upcoming Spring turkey season. The roads will be open from Saturday, May 3 to Saturday, May 10, weather permitting.

State Game Lands No. 57, Cider Run Road from Bowman's Run to Beach Lake will be open, as will State Game Lands No. 57, road from Forkston to Beach Lake.

State Game Lands No. 57, Bowman's Creek Road from the gate above Noxen to Mountain Springs, will also be open.

Supervisor Molski stated that the roads are being opened as a convenience to sportsmen to permit them to penetrate the more remote areas. He reminds all hunters that no overnight camping will be permitted along these roads during the turkey season.

Dallas sluggers end first half stars in 3-2 win

By JIM ZBICK

The Dallas Senior High baseball team completed the first half of the season, losing only to District 2 defending champions of Nanticoke in the opening game, 12-4.

Loose field play, which has caused most of the problems the team has been beset with, proved in this situation to be the team's downfall.

Seven errors allowed eight unearned runs to score and this proved to be the team's undoing.

The squad bounced back from this defeat to win the next three outings, downing West Side Catholic, Lake-Lehman and West Side Tech to win three games in five days.

Dallas golfers drop out of first

Dallas dropped out of first place in the Wyoming Valley Golf League when the boys lost to the Spartans, 13½-4½.

Dallas and Valley West were tied last week after Dallas, defending champion, lost to Wyoming Seminary, 12-6. The Mountaineers have a record to date of 6 wins, 2 losses. Valley West has 8 wins.

Dallas came back against Meyers with a 14-4 victory after dropping the previous match to Valley West. Valley West took over Meyers, 16-2.

Albert Michaels of Valley West turned in the best game of 72 against the local boys. Bob Zagorsky fired a 74 and Adam Serafin, 75.

Mike Evans shot a 79 for Dallas. Gary Dymond, Dave Newhart, Herb Fehlinger and Don Anthony each turned in rounds of 80.

Mark Gonsky had a 76 for Meyers. The week before, Jerry Stankiewicz of Coughlin had the low round of 66. Dallas' Gary Dymond posted a 71.

Serafin of Valley West shot 68 and 74 while Al Michaels fired a 70. Seminary's Pete Drolle had a 77.

Dallas golfers came through Monday afternoon with two more victories.

The Mountaineers defeated Hanover, 10½ - 7½ and then took West Side Central, 11-7. Hanover beat Central, 10-8.

Dallas meets Coughlin and St. Mary's at Lehman today. They will participate in the Districts at Wilkes-Barre Municipal Course on Monday or Tuesday. The Mountaineers will then go to Happy Valley next Wednesday for rounds with Meyers and Wyoming Valley West, and return to Lehman with G.A.R. and Wyoming Seminary next Thursday.

The team banged out nine hits, good for seven runs, and held off a late Central rally in the sixth inning to record first league win with Rodgers besting Herscher. Rodgers allowed five hits and struck out eight enroute to this victory.

Next team to fall before Mounts was their rival, Lake-Lehman, as Belles went four for four to pace a nine hit attack against Spencer and Sponseller. Bill Martin pitched good ball, spacing three hits and striking out 11 Knights on the way to his first win of the year.

Playing for the third time in five days, the team erupted for five first inning runs and then held off a late rally for a 6-4 win over West Side Tech. Mark Rodgers picked up his second win of the week, but got a strong relief job from Bill Burdock in the last two innings to sew up this victory.

The big blow of the game was Bob Dover's double in the first inning which plated two runs which turned out to be the margin of victory. Fine unassisted double play by second baseman Bill Martin killed a fifth inning Tech rally.

The second half schedule started out with a game at home with Lake-Lehman Monday. Dallas plays Wyoming Valley West at home today. They host Nanticoke Monday and travel to Kirby Park to meet West Side Catholic Thursday, May 15. The local team returns home Monday, May 19 to play West Side Tech again.

antique car show May 25 at Kingston

Antique car buffs are getting their vehicles ready for the big date, Sunday, May 25, at Scandlon Field, Kingston, where the Eighth Annual Antique Car Show will be held. The whole family should enjoy the day. There will be entertainment, a ladies' fashion show, a shaded picnic area, refreshment stand, a model contest for the younger set and a "Big Flea Market."

Facing Dallas for the second time in a week, Lake-Lehman was able to atone for an earlier 9-3 set-back by squeezing past the Mountaineers, 3-2, last Monday on the Dallas diamond.

The Laker's crafty curveballer, Dale Sponseller featured in the victory by tossing a four-hitter besides scoring the winning run late in the ball game. The contest remained scoreless through the first three innings as Sponseller and Billy Martin locked up in a tight pitching duel. Lake-Lehman finally broke through for a pair of runs in the fourth. Consecutive hits by Don Spencer, Bill Engle, and Bill Lozo filled the bases. A throwing error plus Dale Sponseller's run-producing single gave the Knights a 2-0 lead. Lake-Lehman picked up its final and winning run in the sixth.

Dale Sponseller worked Martin for a two-out single and scored seconds later on Ron Sorber's single to right field. Sponseller was running with the pitch and came all the way around to score.

For the second year in a row, William Guyette, right of Guyette Communications, Shavertown, received recognition for outstanding marketing in the Wilkes-Barre - Scranton area. The international award was presented Mr. Guyette by L. K. Kendall, district manager of Dukane Corp., Washington, D.C., at a dinner held at Brothers 4, Dallas. The award is a singular honor in that of the 483 world-wide distributors of Dukane Communications equipment, only 14 awards are given.
