'no comment' on suspension says police chief Lange

Dallas Township Police Officer Jim Davies is back on the job following a two-week suspension without pay.
Officer Davies, formerly a policeman in Dallas Borough, was suspended because of a mix-up over who had jurisdiction of a pistol being safeguarded for a woman involved in an auto accident.
Although Officer Davies was suspended, he was not given a hearing or told what the suspension was for.
Police Chief Frank Lange said he had no comment to make regarding the story. "A lot of big people told me to just forget it." When pressed to give his version, Chief Lange said only that "The people know what it is all about."
Neither Chief Lange nor Fred Lamoreaux, chairman of Dallas Township supervisors, confronted Officer Davies with the suspension. Instead, he was informed by a fellow officer, Charles Finn.
According to Officer Davies, the pistol was found in an auto belonging to a Mrs. Howard McCern, Benton RD 1, who reportedly ran off the road to avoid an accident in Dallas Borough May 16.
That accident was one in which Mrs. Elizabeth Ross of Dallas Township lost her life on Route 118 at East Center Hill Road near the American Legion.
Dallas Township Police Chief Lange assisted Dallas Borough police officer Ray Titus at the accident and in the process discovered the snub-nosed .32 caliber pistol in the McCern auto. He told Mrs. McCern that he would take the pistol to the Dallas Township police station for safekeeping.
At the same time, Officer Ray Titus, unaware of the pistol, had gathered up the woman's personal belongings, including papers and a stereo and tapes, and stored them in the Dallas Borough police station.
Later, in the course of investigating the cause of the accident, Officer Titus visited Officer Davies at Dallas Township and was informed that the pistol was in a filing cabinet there.
Officer Davies said that he suggested Officer Titus take the pistol and put it with the other property of Mrs. McCern. Officer Davies said he was also concerned that the pistol was stolen from the station's filing cabinet.
Officer Titus said that he took the pistol with him to his home, a practice of the department as the storage cabinet at Dallas Borough could easily be broken into.
Chief Lange, when he discovered the pistol missing, informed Officer Davies to get it back or face the possibility of losing his job, Officer Davies said.
The pistol was retrieved and returned to Chief Lange who returned it to Mrs. McCern.
Officer Davies was summarily suspended for two weeks without pay.
He said that he sought assistance from the Back Mountain Police Association but was informed that the matter was departmental and should be handled as such.
