

Purely Personal

A call to the Dallas Post one evening last week from Mrs. Warren Easley, a former resident of Dallas now living in Kingston, revealed that she had lived here for 36 years. She noted that her husband died 20 years ago June 23 and that she is a faithful reader of the Post's "Only Yesterday" feature.

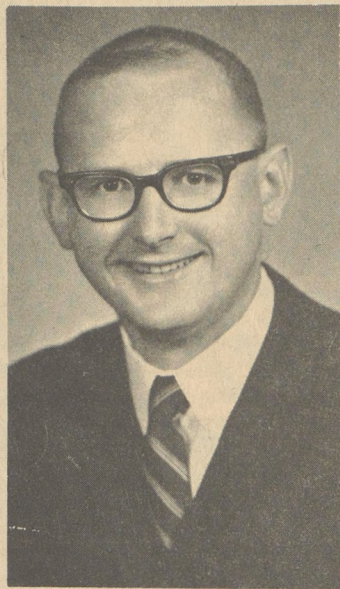

Another phone call Friday evening to the Post came from a Mr. Roberts, Baltimore, Md., asking if the Post could help in locating "a major in the U. S. Army and a Dallas school teacher" who were to be married in a Dallas church. He said no other information was available to him other than a name he had of a certain "Lt. Gale McAdams." After making four random phone calls to area churches—and receiving no answer—pay-dirt was struck on call number six to Gate of Heaven Church. Msgr. Francis Kane answered and said yes he had a wedding for Saturday. The major was Hugh Fitzpatrick and the teacher was Miss Susan Fleming, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Robert Fleming, Dallas. That information was phoned back to Mr. Roberts in Baltimore who, over some stormy telephone lines, was able to convey that he was in the laundry business and that he had a uniform belonging to the major or to Lt. McAdams which he was or had put on a Greyhound bus coming this way. Because of the cost involved in the call and because there was an electrical storm brewing Friday night, the story is jumbled but we think something got to the church on time.

Mrs. Helen Thompson of Irvington, N.J., is a house guest of Arline Bessmer, Huntsville Road. Mrs. John R. Austin, of Ithaca, N.Y., who recently spent two weeks with Miss Bessmer, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Margaret Girvan, long-time resident of Dallas, and more recently living in Kingston, writes from the Pacific Northwest that she's sold solid on coastal Oregon, with its beautiful rose gardens, but that they can give Arizona back to the Indians, for all of her. She's heading back this way in a few days, intending to spend a few days in New York after her cross-continent flight.

homemade confections are Auction specialty

"Sugar 'n spice 'n everything nice," that's what the Dallas Junior Club Women use in the tasty confections they sell at their candy booth each year at the Library Auction.

This year will be no exception to that tasty rule, and Back Mountain residents can look forward to another sweettooth satisfying experience when the Auction convenes on July 10.

Two of the many sure-fire candy recipes used by Club members are given below for ambitious cooks. Less talented sweets-lovers may order fudge from any Club member or purchase it at the Auction. But don't wait too long; they always run out of homemade candy!

Easy No-Fail Fudge
 4½ cups sugar (equal to 2½ lbs.)
 ½ lb. butter
 1 can cream (evaporated)

Stir in pan until mixture boils over medium heat. Then boil mixture five additional minutes and remove from heat.

Add:
 3 packages semi-sweet chocolate bits
 3 ounces semi-sweet Bakers chocolate

Stir until chocolate is melted.

Add:
 8 ounce jar marshmallow whip
 ½ lb. walnuts
 2 tsp. vanilla

Stir well and pour mixture in wax paper lined pans. Refrigerate for 8 hours. This makes five pounds of fudge.

Peanut Butter Swirl Fudge
 2 cups sugar
 2/3 cup milk
 ½ of a 7 ounce jar marshmallow cream

1 cup smooth or crunchy peanut butter
 1 tsp. vanilla
 ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate bits, melted

Combine sugar and milk, bring to a boil and cook at a boil to soft ball stage (234 degrees on a candy thermometer). Remove from heat and stir in marshmallow cream, peanut butter and vanilla. When smooth and blended, spread evenly into 8 inch square pan. Spoon melted chocolate over fudge and swirl into fudge. While still warm, cut into one inch squares. Cool until set and then separate into pieces. Makes about 2 pounds.
