ice brings rash of car wrecks

A slick ice-covered road was blamed for a chain of freak accidents Sunday night which left four cars with damages totaling $3300. No injuries were reported.

According to Dallas Township police records, a car operated by William A. Cannon, John Street, Wyalusing, was heading south on Route 309 one mile north of Dallas Borough when it went out of Control and, after skidding about 200 feet, catapulted over an embankment.

A second motorist, Ed Herritt of 11702 De-Marco Drive, Philadelphia, was traveling north on Route 309 at the time of the accident and pulled to the brim of the road to render assistance to Mr. Cannon.

While parked on the shoulder of the highway, Mr. Herritt's automobile was hit from the rear by a car operated by Edward Dombroski, 162 Pierce St., and from the front by yet another vehicle operated by Ben Gritzen, 39 Fairview Ave., West Wyoming.

Both Mr. Dombroski's and Mr. Gritzen's cars were proceeding south at the time of the crash and, following impact with Mr. Herritt's automobile, plowed 200 feet off the highway into the yard of one Mrs. Mosier. Before coming to a halt, Mr. Gritzen's car crashed into Mr. Dombroski's vehicle.

The investigation was conducted by Dallas Township patrolman Carl Miers, Dallas patrolman Ray Titus, Lehman Township police chief Lionel Bulford and special patrolman William Rich of Dallas Borough.

A one-car accident early Wednesday morning in Lehman killed one man and severely injured another. Police reported that the dead man was identified as Donald J. Shephard, 41, of 1262 Murray St., Forty Fort. The injured man was Frank Drazba, 32, of 43 Manhattan Ave., Ashley.

Police Chief Lionel B. Bulford reported the fatal vehicle was heading west on Route 118, approximately one mile from the Route 415 intersection, near the Lehman Horseshow Grounds when it went out of control. The vehicle veered left crossing the east bound lane and hit a guard rail, totally wrecking the car. Chief Bulford was assisted in the investigation by Patrolman Leon Wentzel and Volunteer Patrolman Chet Lamaroeux.

Mr. Shephard and Mr. Drazba were transported to Nesbitt Memorial Hospital by the Lehman Township Ambulance. Deputy Coroner Edward T. Edwards pronounced Mr. Shephard dead at 7:50 a.m. He said the cause of death was a cervical vertebrae fracture and a transection of the spinal cord.

Mr. Drazba was admitted to the hospital in "guarded" condition and has now been transferred: to Geisinger Medical Center, Danville, for treatment of multiple injuries.

Mrs. T. M. B. Hicks, editor emeritus of The Dallas Post, has returned to her home on Pioneer Avenue, Dallas, after undergoing surgery to her left eye at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, Kingston. Mrs. Hicks was admitted to the hospital, Nov.

She has had the bandage removed from her eye and is wearing a patch which she claims makes her look like a pirate. She is able to see from the eye but things still look slightly hazy.

Mrs. Hick's daughter, Mrs. R. M. Harding, Herndon, Va., arrived in Dallas Saturday night to see her mother. She returned to Virginia Tuesday.

Keeping Mrs. Hicks company this week is her granddaughter and greatgranddaugher. Mrs. Donald Promish and Stephanie, of Philadelphia. "Hix" is already "manning" the typeby Ruth Belles Sizemore We thank God for a friend like Viv, Never was there such a thoughtful person to live, She had the Gift of Life for her fellow man, She held that gift in the palms of her hands. Throughout the neighborhood she helped in time of sickness, death or the care of a child. She was a worker throughout each ambitious mile. She was an angel in disguise, Spreading sunshine and always a surprise. She loved one of nature's Forget-me-nots, Which we all know were flowers. For a wedding, she once picked wild ones by the hour. At her home you were a special guest. Vivian, Our Friend, lived life with a driving zest. They say-Wonders never cease, How true it'll be with our friend. For she gave that Gift of Love over and over again. She knew much suffering, but now she is where there is peace. In each heart, she'll always be remembered. It is with sweet sorrow we part with Our Dear Friend, on this, the 26th of November.
