

Odd Fellows to offer report on equipment

The Ben L. Jenkins chapter, Odd Fellows Welfare Bureau of Pennsylvania, will hold a regular meeting in the Odd Fellows Temple, 21 S. Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre, Saturday, Jan. 17, at 2 p.m.

A report of all equipment in use and all blood dispensed is on the agenda. A recommendation for the purchase of additional equipment will be presented for approval.

The annual report for the year 1969 will be submitted and sent to the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Harrisburg, for inclusion in the Journal published each year and circulated throughout the state.

Mrs. Pollack, Scranton, president, will preside over the meeting which is the first of the new year.

milkman injured when roof caves

Carl Roberts, 120 Tunkhannock Highway, Dallas, a milkman for Dallas Dairy, was injured Friday at 11 a.m. while making a milk delivery in Ashley.

Mr. Roberts was struck on the head when a porch roof of the dwelling collapsed under an accumulation of ice and snow, causing him to strike his forehead on an iron railing. He was taken to Mercy Hospital for X-rays and stitches to close a wound above his left eye. He is presently recuperating at home.

Birth's Esso may reopen

Clyde Birth's Esso Service Station, Main Highway, Dallas, The Post learned this week, closed since Mr. Birth's untimely death early in December, may reopen within the next two weeks. Mr. Philip E. Gilbert, Esso representative in this area, is in the process of hiring a manager for the station.

Mr. Gilbert expressed "regret for the inconvenience to the people in the area since the station has been closed." He added that, "all parties concerned are working together to find the right man to serve the people as soon as possible."

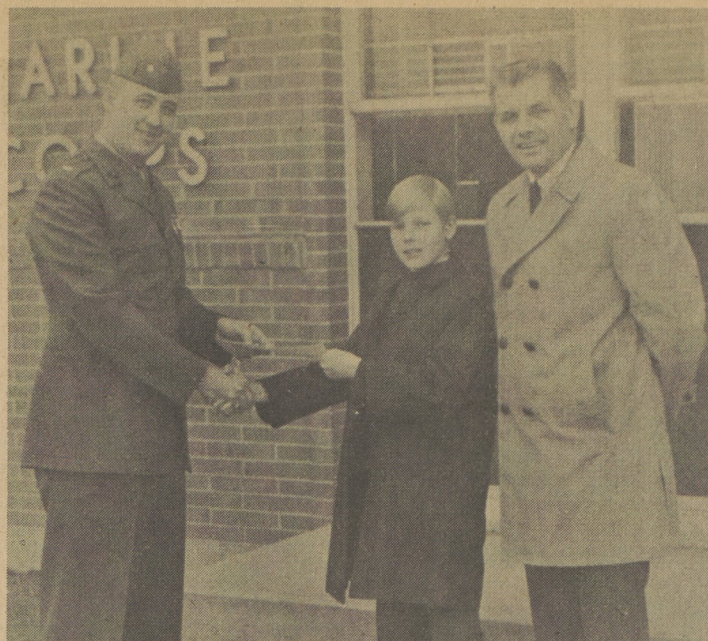

Scranton minister speaks at WSCS

The WSCS of Trucksville United Methodist Church met recently in the Educational Building.

Mrs. Charles Gommer was in charge of devotions and introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Harold Craig, minister of Court Street United Methodist Church, Scranton. Mrs. Harold Croom presided at the business meeting.

Cook books published by the society are now ready for sale and can be obtained from Mrs. Harold Croom, Mrs. George Gaylord and Mrs. Fred Whipple.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Williams, chairman; Mrs. Byron Shorts, Ruth Reynolds, Mrs. Edward Richards, Mrs. William Strausser, Mrs. Norman Stookey and Mrs. Lewis Wilcox.

Bobby Baird presents a check to Maj. Fred Pope, executive officer of the Marine Wing Motor Transport Squadron-5, Wyoming. The check represents contributions made by people of this area through the telethon recently conducted by WNAK Radio for "Toys for Tots." At right is Bobby's father, Bob Baird, sales manager of WNAK Radio.

WNAK presents check to Marines

A local radio station, WNAK, recently conducted a telethon to help raise funds during the "Toys for Tots" campaign. As a result a check representing contributions of area residents was presented to Major Fred Pope, executive officer of the Marine Wing Motor Transport Squadron-5, Wyoming. Bobby Baird, son of Bob Baird, Trucksville, sales manager of WNAK Radio, made the presentation. Bobby is a student at Dallas Junior High School.

The money contributed was used to buy new toys for needy children. This is the first year the Marine Reservists have endeavored to solicit new toys or cash donations and the public responded favorably.

The "Toys for Tots" drive is conducted each year by the Marine Reservists in order to assure needy children of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties they will have something from Santa Claus on Christmas Day.

lake residents buy S. Beach

New owners of Sandy Beach at Harveys Lake are enthusiastically planning a complete renovation of the property they recently purchased for $100,000 from previous owners Sam and Alice Slomowitz as soon as the snow melts.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix V. Vallone, new owners of the recreation spot and residents of Harveys Lake for the past three years, anticipate reopening the dance pavilion located on the beach and plan to hold dances with live bands for teenagers during the coming summer. Bingo will also be a featured attraction, and the Vallones hope to construct cabanas on the beach "sometime in the future," according to Mrs. Vallone. A penny arcade will also be added to the attractions.

In addition to summertime plans, the Vallones note that they are seriously considering keeping the beach facilities open on a year-round basis. Ice skating and other winter sports could very well become highlights of the winter season at the lake if adequate facilities for eating and "just plain getting warm" were available to the public, they believe.

No "immediate" plans are underway to resurrect the outdoor movie screen which was blown down two years ago, Mrs. Vallone said, but they do not "rule out the possibility of its being replaced in the future."

According to a deed filed at the office of the Recorder of Deeds, the property purchased by the Vallones included a stone cottage, all structures, improvements, riparian shore rights, privileges and easements as well as the restaurant, boating facilities and large hall.

research project conducted

The Dallas School District has been included in a project conducted by the Institute for Research on Human Resources to study the effects of environment on pre-school children. All first grade pupils in the district during the 1968-69 school term were included in the study.

Their homes were visited and parents were interviewed concerning various aspects of their child's experiences, childhood diseases, prenatal problems or any environmental variations.

During the second year of school the same children are being studied.

Under the direction of Dr. Lei Hu of the Pennsylvania State University, Dr. Morgan V. Lewis, the project psychologist, held a training session in the Westmoreland Elementary School Materials Center. The teachers were briefed on the administration of the S.R.A. Primary Mental Abilities Test.
