

state funds necessary for borough recreation

It seems that political pressure is needed to acquire state funds for the proposed recreation program in Dallas Borough. In a report made to Dallas Borough Council at a meeting Jan. 20, councilman George Thomas stated that the matter comes up in Harrisburg in February and that he had been advised the borough would have to fight to get the matching $14,000 state funds expected.

For the second winter plans for skating facilities and further development of the Burndale Road site have fallen short. The facilities will not be available until the state appropriates the money. Local funds are on hand and plans have been approved by the state.

Mayor Steve Hartman told council he had received a letter and clippings from Arizona regarding the Valley Paperback Co. He indicated his concern. Police Chief Russell Honeywell said he had also received clippings regarding the alleged pornographic literature published by the company. Solicitor Charles Lemmond Jr. recommended that no action be taken at this time as this is pre-judgement of the company.

Robert Jones, a resident of Reservoir Road, appeared at the meeting to issue a complaint concerning the condition of Reservoir Road. Mr. Jones said that not only is snow removal inadequate, but that he felt the road had deteriorated because it was not oiled last summer. Andrew Parrento, road supervisor, stated that he was unable to obtain oil at that time. Council decided that 3,000 gallons of oil will be specified in bids for road materials this year.

Bids were received and a contract was awarded to L.L. Richardson, Dallas Dodge dealer, for a new four-wheel drive truck with a removable tapered snow plow. The truck lists for $11,528.89, but discount and trade-in on the old truck amount to $2,828.89, making purchase price for the borough $8,700.

Report of final tax collections for 1969 was submitted by tax collector Thomas E. Reese. The amount of $32,856.14 was accepted and Mr. Reese was commended by council for doing a good job.

The borough voted to renew membership in the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs at a yearly fee of $91. Solicitor Lemmond strongly advised council to join the organization. He said he felt they gave good representation in Harrisburg and offered the additional service of having a resident doctor in government available to give advice when problems arise.

Discussion was held on the necessity of acquiring a new police radio. The present one belongs to the fire and ambulance companies and will be moved during the remodeling of the borough building. A suggestion was made by a member of council that there should be a base set with hooks up to the cruiser and snow plows. Councilman William Berti said that the base set authorized for the proposed merged police communications service will be in the Dallas Township building and will hook up only there and to the courthouse. A committee will study the matter and estimate costs and report back to the council.

A letter was received from Dr. Hugo Mailey, director of the Institute of Regional Affairs at Wilkes College, telling of a new course in borough government which will be held at the school in conjunction with the Public Service Institute. The ten week course which is recommended for councilmen will be held Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. beginning Feb. 10.

A letter was received from Commonwealth Telephone Company stating that some telephone numbers in Dallas Borough will be changed in September 1970.

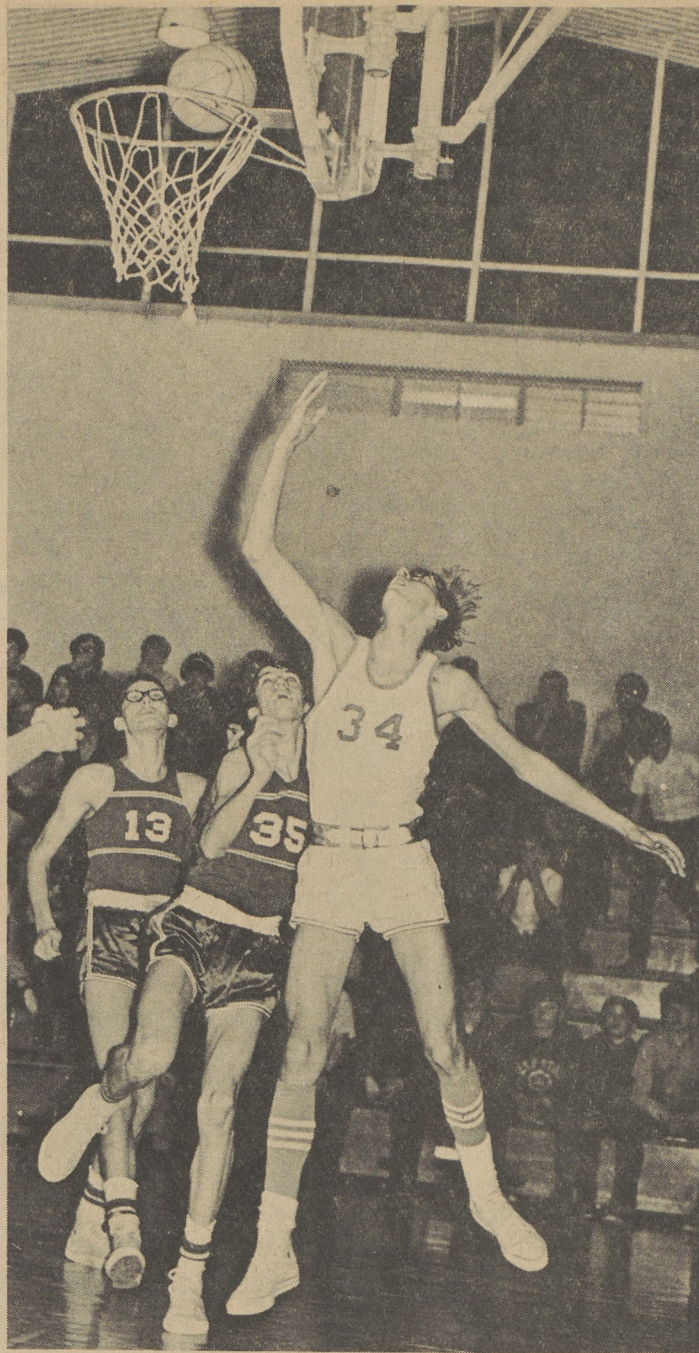

Joseph A. Wright Company who is doing the mechanical work on the borough building requested additional insurance coverage for the amount of their contract. Secretary Ralph Garris stated that he had been advised by the council's insurance agent that the coverage is adequate but that he will check the matter with Donald Smith of Smith, Miller & Associates, architects for the remodeling project.

Council voted in favor of a $100 donation to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Police Chief Russell Honeywell reported that the society had picked up five dogs in the month of December and came to Dallas whenever it was needed.

Mayor Hartman stated that legally the borough has no special policemen at the present time. Three from last year, Jack Berti, Charles Lamoreaux and Ted Montross were re-appointed. Other applicants will be considered at a future date. Pay will remain at $1,75 an hour subject to review.

Councilman Jerry Machell inquired about bringing borough ordinances up to date. Solicitor Lemmond said there is a professional firm which specializes in ordinance clarifications. Council will request a representative to attend a meeting, explain the procedure and give an estimate of the costs.

A bill for a tractor brought on a decision to meet to try to iron out problems with it. Councilmen are not satisfied with the piece of equipment.

David Jones, no. 34 for Dallas, rips the cords during the game with Wyoming Seminary Friday. Dallas won 75-48.

Fashion Show

Each junior and senior seamstress of LLHS has been busily searching for that special pattern and the unique and bright material that would be just right for her coat and dress ensemble or pants suit. They are all preparing for the annual fashion show that will be held Mar. 5 at the Lake Elementary building. Sponsored by the Harveys Lake Woman's Club, ribbons for first through fourth place will be awarded. The girls will be judged on the sewing of the garment, how it's put together, and the amount of poise with which they model it. The winner of this district competition will go on to regionals and then to state. The girls will model these same outfits at a spring assembly, to be held around Easter. Mary Alice Lukasavage and Martha Phillips are home economics teachers.

Hot Chocolate and Donuts Anyone?

Lake-Lehman now not only supplies the students with lunch but also breakfast! Between 8 and 8:15 a.m. the cafeteria tables are filled with the population of LLHS nonchalantly munching donuts and sipping hot chocolate. Well, after fighting the biting wind and icy snow surrounding the walls of the high school, nice hot chocolate is a welcome sight and the students really appreciate this added courtesy.

Lake Lehman on Komotion

The student council of LL is sponsoring Komotion this year, which will be filmed Monday, Feb. 9 at Avoca Airport. Student council representatives will speak on the function of this organization. A few lettermen plan on giving the sports side of LLHS and the cheerleaders will psyche everyone up with a cheer. See LL on TV Saturday, Feb. 14.

"This is My Country"

An essay contest is being sponsored by the Harveys Lake American Legion Auxiliary Unit 967. The title is "This is My Country." This essay is limited to 500 words and must be handed in to Francis Wilczewski, who is in charge of the program, by Mar. 1. All students of Lake-Lehman grades 7-12 are eligible.

Donkeys at LLHS!

The most rollicking and hilarious sports event that ever took place in LL's gym occurred Friday, Jan. 23. This basketball game was sponsored by the lettermen, who challenged 12 male faculty members to a friendly little contest. The rules of a regular basketball game were slightly altered. No one could shoot for a basket unless he was astride his donkey. There was only one hitch—the donkeys were specially trained to do the opposite of what their riders demanded! The faculty members involved were Big Lennie Threston, Johnnie Z, Psycho Race, Cotton Jenkins, George Francis Peter Curry Jr., E. J. Narke, Davie Happy Harris, Easy Ed Ladamus, Kenny Boy Maciak, Wild Wayne Thomas, Jaguar John Oliver, and Sparky Sharok. All senior lettermen participated.

As a preliminary to the donkey game, the girls' varsity basketball team played the boys basketball team. The boys had one very small disadvantage—they had to wear boxing gloves!

The chaperones for the affair were Carol Ann Oliver, John Andrusis, Martha Phillips, Jane Morris and Florence Finn.

Cheerleading Contest

The cheerleaders of LLHS traveled to the Catholic Youth Center, S. Washington Street; Wilkes-Barre, yesterday. The girls participated in a cheerleading contest and did an excellent job of representing the spirit of LL. Wilma Schierer is the coach and Debbie Rinken and Colleen Wandel are co-captains of the squad.

"Where is the Mayor?"

Since last year's production was such an overwhelming success, LL's chorus decided to sponsor another musical entitled, "Where is the Mayor?" A romantic comedy, this play will be held April 3 and 4. The female lead will be played by Barbara Derwin.

Suicidal death

An 86 year old Noxen man, Edward D. Williams, died Jan. 21 of a self-inflicted gun shot wound. Police report that he shot himself in the head with a 22 caliber rifle in the living room of his home at approximately 5:10 p.m.

The death was ruled a suicide by Wyoming County Coroner Bryce Sheldon. Dr. Lester Saidman pronounced Mr. Williams dead. It was reported that he had been despondent for the past week.

Investigation was conducted by troopers Francis Boback and Dean A. Johnson, Pennsylvania State Police, Tunkhannock sub-station.

Mr. Williams resided at the Noxen residence with his wife, the former Elizabeth Schooley. He is also survived by three children; John, Roselle, N.J.; William, Santa Ana, Calif., and Ruth Ferrioli, Linden, N.J.

cite mine draining contingent on federal funds. The senator directed the successful drive for the bill placing veto power into the hands of county commissioners to prevent dumping of solid waste into abandoned mine strips.

The senator co-sponsored the measure lowering the voting age to 19 and making this a majority age for all other legal purposes.

Indicating Senator Wood's influential position on Capitol Hill was his early appointment to the chairmanship of the powerful finance committee, and his assignment to the Pennsylvania Crime Commission Advisory Council.

The senator is one of three Senate members appointed to the bi-partisan joint legislative-executive liaison committee on the state budget.

His appointment to the chairmanship of the bi-partisan five-member Senate committee investigating the unrest on college and university campuses indicates the rewarding recognition of his unparalleled legislative achievements.

Nomination petitions to have Senator Wood's name placed on the Republican primary ballot will be placed in circulation Feb. 17, the first day to secure signatures.
