The Dallas Post (SAFFIAN)

Chuck LaBerge, Dallas pushes up and away for points in the first quarter of the Dallas-Lake-Lehman game last week.

Dallas and Knights take top in basketball league

by Dale Sponseller

The Dallas Mountaineers captured the first half title of the B Division of the Wyoming Valley basketball league by downing rival Lake-Lehman, 79-70 in overtime. The game was held before a capacity crowd estimated at 1400 in the losers' gym. Approximately 500 disappointed fans were turned away.

Sponseller tapped in a shot by Dickinson for the Knights as the buzzer sounded to knot the contest at 68 a piece and send the two teams into overtime. Led by lanky Dave Jones, Dallas outscored the Knights 11-2 in the extra period as Lake-Lehman failed to hit the open shot.

Dickinson led all scorers with 29 points while LaBerge was high for Dallas with 24. Jones and Lefko contributed 19 and 16 respectively to aid the winners' cause.

Both teams fought courageously throughout the entire game. The Mountaineers were ahead 38-34 at halftime and held a six point advantage going into the final minute. But Lake-Lehman quickly closed the gap and the hometown crowd erupted when Sponseller's goal split the cords.

Gate of Heaven cagers chalk up two more wins

The Gate of Heaven basketball team won two games and lost one during the past week. The varsity team downed St. John's last Sunday in overtime, 35-34. Walter Babetski's point from the foul line after the whistle blew won the game.

The junior varsity beat a previously undefeated St. John's, 13-6.

The local boys came back Thursday to defeat Pittston Catholic, 67-33. Coach Pete Kozachak said he was pleased he could use all varsity players. The junior varsity's also had a 38-7 victory that day.

Sunday's victory went to Wyoming Seminary, 57-47. Ed Onzik tallied 22 for the Gate of Heaven and Thomas Kupstas had 14.
