Carverton group to meet Feb. 13 with highway men

A group of Kingston Township property owners, the Carverton Road Project Association, will meet at the Kingston Township Municipal Building Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m. According to W.G. Moss, secretary, the association is interested in delaying the rebuilding of Carverton Road until alternate routes can be checked to determine the best method of handling anticipated traffic to and from the Frances Slocum Park.

A representative of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department, two members of the highway department of the Wyoming Valley Motor Club and Representative Frank O'Connell Jr. are expected to attend the meeting.

Members have already met with attorney James L. Brown who is representing the organization. Residents who belong to the Carverton association are entitled to vote on propositions that are in the interests of the organization.

LAKE-LEHMAN HIGH SCHOOL

by MILLIE WEISS

District Band

Lake-Lehman's prize winning band has broken another record, but this time it was their own! Twelve students were chosen to perform at Pittston Area High School in district band, more than ever before.

All interested band members in this district auditioned individually at Abington Heights High School and the best and most competitive were chosen.

These students traveled to Pittston Area High School Feb. 5 and remained there for three days. They stayed at the private homes of families who volunteered to keep them and be responsible for their transportation to and from the school. During these days the band members learned music for the concert they put on for the public Saturday and auditioned for state band. The first chair of each section went on to state competition.

Well-deserved congratulations are extended to Betty Zbick, Sandy Ashton, Carolyn Edwards, Marcia Niemczyk, Jane Niezgod, David Haines, Ken Austin, Joan Evans, Sharon Leinthal, Pam Calkins, Theodore Scouten and Cindy Culver. John Miliuskas is the band director at Lake-Lehman.

Scholastic Band

WAZL, a radio station in Hazelton, has invited Lake-Lehman to participate in a College Bowl type contest. Three outstanding seniors and one alternate will make up the team but they haven't been chosen yet. These students must be exceptionally talented in social studies, language arts, science or math and current events. The first meeting will be Feb. 20 at Central Catholic High School. Leonard Thresten will serve as the coach.

Track and Field

New to LLHS's sports curriculum are track and field, all boys in grades nine through twelve being eligible. The first official practice will be March 2. The boys who feel they are eligible must meet the requirements and pass a physical examination. Wayne Thomas and Edmund Narkiewicz are the coaches.

National Poetry, Art, and Essay Contest

An invitation has been extended to all students of LL, grades seven through twelve, to participate in the annual anthology of high school poetry, art, and essay. The closing date for the submission of manuscript is March 25. Students interested in participating should consult with their English and art teachers.

Matmen Rank Second

LLHS's fabulous wrestlers have recorded three wins and two losses, which place them second in the conference. The team itself is made up of seniors Brent Steele, wrestling at 112; Joe Nixon at 120; Jack Davis, 127; Jay Remley representing the 133 pound class; Bill Spencer at 145; Tom Kehler fills the 154 pound spot, while Charlie Haczewski is at 165. Rick Wagner at 103 is the sole junior on LL's team. Jim Cook at 95, John Rogoski at 138 and Jeff Smith wrestling 180 represent the sophomore matmen. John Oliver is the coach while George Curry serves as his assistant. Jack Davis and Bill Spencer are the captains.

Turkey Supper

A turkey supper will be served by the Lake-Lehman Band Sponsors Association Feb. 28. This affair will be held at the Jackson Township Fire Hall. The public is invited, so why not attend? The supper will be served family style with lots of delicious food. Albert Ashton is the Band Sponsors president.

Earl Nulton aboard Tidewater

PO 3. C. Earl L. Nulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Nulton, RD 5, Shavertown, is serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater in the Caribbean. The ship, which is homeported in Norfolk, Va., is participating in the Navy's annual operation "springboard."

question on taxes asked Dallas board

At the regular monthly meeting of the Dallas School Board Monday, John LaBerge, president, inquired of the board why Dallas School District did not receive a share of the property transfer tax as several other school districts do. Solicitor John Valentine said that nothing could be done this year but in the future if the board wished it could demand a fair share from the municipal subdivisions in the area. The matter will be investigated as a source of additional income.

Two representatives of H.A. Berkheimer Associates were present at the meeting to answer questions about the 1 percent earned income tax collected in the area. Half of this amount goes to the Dallas School District.

The school board approved resolutions to permit the Dallas United Methodist Church Cub Scout pack to hold its annual Blue and Gold dinner in the Dallas Senior High School cafeteria and to use the stage and auditorium Feb. 20 at 6:30 p.m. The cafeteria staff will prepare the dinner and the Girl Scouts will act as hostesses.

Permission was also given for the Dallas Neighborhood of Girl Scouts to use the senior high auditorium March 15 from 2:30 to 4:15 for an ecumenical service in observation of National Girl Scout Week which will take the place of annual ingathering.

Dallas Junior Woman's Club also received permission to hold its fourth annual Easter egg hunt at the senior high school football and athletic fields March 21 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. In case of inclement weather the gymnasium will be used for the event.

Dallas Kiwanis Club was granted approval to use the auditorium and rehearsal rooms of the senior high school for its Festival of Music auditions Sunday afternoons, March 1 and 8 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Thomas Carr, guidance counselor, will be permitted to serve as a member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools' committee scheduled to visit the Mifflinburg Area Junior-Senior High School-March 9 to 11.

A resolution was approved to permit the following Dallas Senior High School students to attend the King's College newspaper workshop April 4: Sheryl Beard, Dal-Hi editor-in-chief; Fern Carkhuff, asst. editor, and Phil Scott, sports editor.

The following College Misericordia students were granted permission to practice teach in the schools of the district: elementary, Kathleen Mongeluzzi, Jean Seber, Maureen Burke, Mary Beth O'Connell, Joanne Chabak; junior high school, Carmelina Corallo, English; Nancy Meehan, English; Patricia Hosey, history; Theresa Miecias, history; Kathryn Conway, art; senior high school, Dorothy Ann Moore, biology; Mary Jean Lubrecht, English; Mary Therese Muller, English; Diane Schuelkins, English; Deborah Dougherty, business education, Maureen Murphy, Business education.

Catherine Wegawas employed as a substitute for the Saturday morning basketball program for the elementary school children and Laura J. Novajovsky, Harveys Lake was approved as a housekeeper.

A number of questions were raised by the 17 parents of children in the school district who attended the meeting. One question was as to why the physics course is mandatory for all students. Dr. Robert Mellman explained that it is required for entrance to some colleges and necessary for math and engineering degrees. It was stated by the parents that many other schools did not require it and Dallas is the only school district in Wyoming Valley that makes every student take the course.

The board in official action had resolved to borrow $200,000 from United Penn Bank for payroll and current bills for February and a parent questioned why, if the board is that short of money, it is advertising bids for closed circuit TV. It was explained that the money for this is already included in the school bond issue and cannot be used for anything but TV.

A parent questioned why a math coordinator had not been appointed this year between the junior and senior high schools. Dr. Mellman replied that it was a matter of priorities and the board had decided against it for the present.

The question of a computer for the West Side Area Vocational Technical School was brought up. The Dallas School District has applied for federal funds available only for vocational equipment and will attempt to have the money allocated to the vocational school for the computer if the grant is approved and if the other school districts also comply. It was brought out that 57 students from Dallas attend the school and Dallas pays a proportionate amount of the expenses for the school. It is estimated that $900,000 a year is required and Dallas pays 18 percent. A portion of this money is reimbursed by the state making Dallas' share approximately $40,000.

How many policies does it take to insure everyone in your family?

Just one.

If all of your children are under 18 years of age, your whole family can be covered under Prudential's Family Policy. Even new arrivals are automatically insured — as soon as they are 16 days old. Call me and I'll come over with the facts and figures.
