third accident on Dallas curve

An accident occurred Saturday night on Main Street, Dallas, in exactly the same location as two previous accidents within the past year. Once again, the property of Joseph P. Brennan, 191 Main St., was damaged when a car went out of control while negotiating the curve in front of his home.

Dallas Borough Police report that the vehicle, driven by Carl Steven Monahan 21, RD 4, Dallas, went out of control, striking a lighted name post and knocking it down. Special patrolman Ted Montross investigated the accident and arrested Mr. Monahan for failure to identify himself, a charge stemming from the fact that he left the scene without reporting the damage to the property owner. Assisting in the investigation was special patrolman Jack Berti and Dallas Township patrolman Les Tinsley.

The first accident which destroyed the Brennan's front steps as well as several trees took place June 13, 1969; the second accident occurred April 25, and totally destroyed a vehicle parked in front of the residence. The state department of roads, which has jurisdiction over Main Street, has been requested to paint traffic lines down the sides and the middle of the road and to provide a guard rail to prevent future accidents at this dangerous curve.

New Goss Manor home owners meet

The New Goss Manor Home Owners Association amended its by-laws to increase the yearly dues to $4 at a meeting last week. An exception to the rule will be made in the case of senior citizens whose dues will remain the same as in past years.

New officers were elected. Ed Riefenstahl took office as president; Fred Rullo, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Martin, secretary-treasurer. Outgoing officers were Jim Thomas, president; Leon Adessa, vice president; Marie Martin, secretary-treasurer.

Dallas Legionnaires clean, paint, fix-up

Members of Dallas American Legion Post 672 turned out in their working clothes late in May to do their bit in the paint-up, fix-up, clean-up campaign. The men were out to give the Legion Home a "face-lifting" and started with the north end of the building, painting that and most of the east end facing Memorial Highway. A spruce-up job was done on the flag pole and the framework of the legion sign.

Auxiliary members and friends were on the inside giving the interior a new look with new drapes. Refreshments were served to all workers at the end of the day.
