dance club, the Circle Eighters, of which John Butler, Shavertown, is president. Mr. Hanks is recognized throughout Northeastern United States as a smooth singing, personable caller, fastly acquiring knowledge in this All-American, sociable and colorful activity.

Carl has been calling in most of the eastern states and cities as guest caller and returns to his home club to teach and call almost every night of the week. The Circle Eighters assist with the lessons at any age dancing couple.

National Square Dance Week, recognized throughout the world, is Sept. 7 through Sept. 13. The local club will highlight the week with a guest caller of National prominence, Al Brundage of Stamford, Conn., and acceptance of recent class graduates into the club. Interested couples may preview this type dancing and the club activity for the next two Thursdays and Sundays at St. Therese's auditorium, Shavertown, at 8 p.m. Information concerning lessons can be obtained from Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, or Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farley. John Butler is the president of the Circle-Eighters.

Mary Lee Burke's summer buffet again

The recipes of Mary Lee Burke published in The Dallas Post July 23 contained several errors. For the benefit of the many area cooks eager to try her Fried Chicken, Twenty-four Hour Salad, and Fragrant Strawberry Shortcake, we reprint Mrs. Burke's Summer Buffet.

Beat egg with fork in double boiler. Stir in lemon juice, sugar and salt. Cook over hot water, stirring for five minutes or until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and cool. Fold in cream, marshmallows, fruits. Refrigerate overnight. Before serving fold in almonds.

Fragrant Strawberry Shortcake

- 1 qt. strawberries, hulled and washed
- 2 c. sifted flour
- 4 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tblsp. grated orange rind
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 c. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/3 c. sugar
- 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/3 c. butter
- 1/3 c. milk

Put the hulled and washed strawberries in a bowl, reserving a few for garnish. Crush strawberries in bowl slightly, sprinkle one cup of sugar over them and let stand in bowl one hour before serving time.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, grated orange rind, cinnamon and nutmeg into a bowl. Cut the butter into the mixture with a blender until it resembles corn meal. Combine egg and milk and add to mixture.

Twenty-four Hour Salad

- 1 egg
- 2 tbs. lemon juice
- 2 tsp. sugar
- pinch salt
- 1 c. seedless grapes
- 8 maraschino cherries
- 1/2 c. heavy cream, whipped
- 1/2 c. miniature marshmallows
- 1 c. pineapple tidbits, drained
- 1 c. mandarin oranges
- 1 c. sliced bananas
- 1/2 c. slivered almonds.

Pat dough into two greased and floured eight inch cake pans. Brush with melted butter. Bake in 425 degree oven until golden brown, about 12 minutes. Spread strawberries between layers and on top. Serve with 1 cup heavy cream whipped or light cream. Garnish with strawberries.

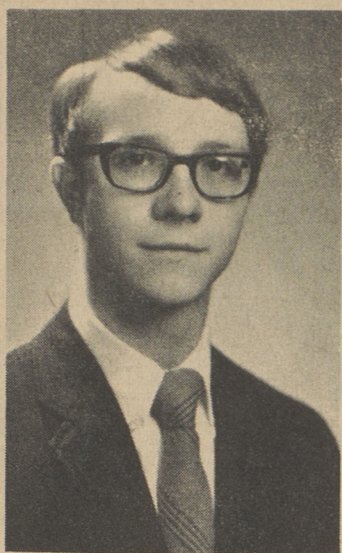

U. of Iowa black culture institute attracts 125

Sister Marie Turnbach, chairman, sociology and anthropology, College Misericordia, and Anthony Mussari, asst. professor of history, King's College, were among the more than 125 educators gathered at the University of Iowa campus to gain further understanding of the culture of black America Aug. 10-21.

The keynote address was delivered by Arna Bontemps of Yale University, who participated in the 1920's in what is now called the "Harlem Renaissance." A novelist, some of his best known books are "Story of the Negro," "100 Years of Negro Freedom" and "American Negro Poetry."

Organized by Prof. Robert Corrigan, executive secretary of the U of I Afro-American Studies program, the two week meeting featured lectures from colleges and universities throughout the country speaking on a variety of subjects connected to the theme "The Harlem Renaissance."

peak at Rose Gardens for Pa. Dutch Days

A traditional feature of the annual Pennsylvania Dutch Days celebration in Hershey each year is the working arts and crafts displays in the Hershey Sports Arena.

According to the Bureau of Travel Development of the Dept. of Commerce, the old-time artisans will again be performing crafts learned in their youth during the 22nd annual Dutch Days celebration from Aug. 25 through Aug. 30. The craftsmen can be seen in action daily from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

There also will be the customary Hershey chocolate plant tours, free movies in the Little Theatre in the Community Center and the music of seven top concert and strolling bands that will offer their melodies in and around the town.

An outdoor Farmarama display will be among the features of the six-day event as will "performances" by a blacksmith, an old-time traction engine threshing wheat and an extensive display of old farm equipment.

A special treat will be the performance of the Pennsylvania State Police Rodeo in Hershey Stadium Aug. 27. There will be plenty of famed Pennsylvania Dutch foodstuffs on sale throughout the community to satisfy even the most ravenous appetite.

As a bonus feature for the many visitors to the Pennsylvania Dutch Days celebration, officials expect the famed Hershey Rose Gardens and Arboretum to be at their second peak of bloom featuring more than 1200 varieties.

Cdt. J. J. Van Jura Jr.

"Dr. Dolittle: a Trip to Africa" will appear on film to be shown at the pre-school story hour at the Back Mountain Memorial Library Sept. 2 at 10 a.m. It is an episode from one of Hugh Lofting's beloved books for children about the doctor who like animals better than people and even learned to understand animal language.

Illustrated by Lotte Reiniger's animated silhouettes, the story tells what happens when the doctor sets out for Africa after receiving a message that all the monkeys are sick.

The second feature of the day will be "The Circus Baby," a story about a circus elephant's futile efforts to teach her baby manners.
