visiting golfer dies after attack at Irem

A foursome enjoying a game of golf on the Irem Temple Country Club course ended it on a tragic note last Wednesday at 11:54 a.m. The group was on the sixth fairway when one of the party, Stanley Stith, Valley Stream Apartments, Landsdale, suddenly dropped to the ground in pain.

Coming up just behind was another foursome which included Richard Disque, deputy coroner, and his son, Richard, Dallas. The Disques saw the man on the ground and hurried to the site to offer assistance.

will be added evening division students taking courses on a credit and non-credit basis, plus graduate students, swelling the overall student body to over 5,000

The first official function will take place Sept. 8, at 2 p.m. when President Michelini extends a welcome to the parents of new students in the Wilkes College gymnasium.

This will be followed by conferences with the deans and the parents. George F. Ralston, dean of student affairs, will speak to the parents of the men students, and Jane K. Lampe, dean of women, will address the parents of the women students.

On Wednesday there will be the opening conference for the class of 1974 with remarks by William Kaye, chairman, Freshman Orientation Committee, and Dean Ralston, as well as an address by Dr. Robert C. Riley, chairman of the Wilkes Department of Psychology, on "Counseling and You."

Registration will begin at mid-day Wednesday and continue through Thursday with a break on this latter day for a freshman luncheon in the gymnasium. President Michelini will make a special address to the Class of 1974 at this time.

Conferences with advisers and students orientation concerned with campus organizations will be held through Friday during the day with special evening dinners and social events for the new students.

On Saturday at 10:30 the freshmen will be transported by special buses to Fair-Lea, farm owned by Chancellor and former President Eugene S. Farley, for the traditional freshmen picnic.

"how-to" books at local library

Anybody can learn to do anything, or so it would seem after looking over the dozens of "how-to-do-it" books listed in the card catalog at the Back Mountain Memorial Library. There are many cards in the catalog beginning with the magic words "how to," and each card represents a book on the library's shelves.

Books on how to make a will, adopt a child, lose weight, earn money, plan for retirement, learn a foreign language, and carry on a conversation are listed with others on how to stop drinking, live with a teen-ager, add years to your life, get more for your money, tempt a fish, and travel without being rich.

Home building and remodeling is a favorite field for "how-to" books. There are books on how to build a garage, install plumbing, remodel a house, lay linoleum and tile, make built-in furniture, paint and wallpaper, and plant your home garden.

For hobbyists, there are "how-to" manuals on how to paint landscapes, do wood carving, refinish furniture, make ceramics, use hand tools, arrange flowers, take pictures, tie flies, make mobiles, and sell your handicrafts.

The businessman and executive will find books on how to manage a small business, be a successful leader, write better business letters, solve management problems, train supervisors, read the financial news, invest wisely, chart data, and increase executive effectiveness.

Patrons can also receive help on how to run for office, bowl better, buy a used sports car, repair appliances, write for television, hold a better meeting, enjoy ballet, build and race hot rods, speak well in public, get into college, apply for a job, conduct a perfect wedding, get the breaks, and conquer fears and worries. And do nothing with nobody all alone by yourself.

"Musical Places" Youth of Christ first rally guests

Lester and Grace Place, the well-known "Musical Places," will be special guests for the first rally of the fall season of Youth For Christ. The rally will be held Sept. 12, at 7:45 p.m. in the Youth For Christ Building, 206 Parrish St., Wilkes-Barre.

On many previous occasions the Places have been in the valley and are well-known for the variety of musical instruments they play.

One time owners of a very successful hosiery business which they gave up to tour the country, they play their Gospel music to many receptive audiences.

School of Mission held at Sky Lake

The Wyoming Conference of the United Methodist Church will conduct a "Weekend School of Christian Mission" at Sky Lake, Windsor, N.Y., Sept. 11, 12 and 13. The theme will be "An Encounter with Life."

Rachael Morris, dean of the school, has said that leadership development and new dimensions of the United Methodist Church and women's societies will be stressed; also the need for missions, motivation, and involvement.

The school is open to all local church chairmen, Task Force personnel, chairman of the council on Ministries, members of the Women's Society and Guild, local district and conference officers, young people and all persons interested in the ministry and mission of God's church.

Courses of study will be "How the Word Gets Around," "The Americas"; "How Many Worlds," and "Out of the Depths: The Psalms."

Discussion groups on Inner City Churches; Country Churches, Small Town Churches, Suburban Churches, Summer and Winter Resort Churches will be conducted.

Dr. Lois Miller, associate general secretary of Joint Commission on Education and Cultivation of the Board of Missions will be the resource person.

Registrations should be sent to the Rev. Arthur W. Dean, 2 Ceperley Ave., Oneonta, N.Y., 13820. Time of registration is 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 11. Closing session will be 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Sept. 13. All registrants are requested to bring their Bible, notebook, pencil, bed clothing and towels.

winter hours for library

The Back Mountain Memorial Library in Dallas will resume winter schedule of hours Sept. 14.

The main building will be open Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The children's annex will be open Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday from 12:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.
