Carl Hanks' Circle Eighthers were among the host clubs at the Dallas Senior High School Saturday when 200 couples gathered for a full day of square dancing.

square dancers whirl at Dallas High School

Two auditoriums were needed to accommodate 200 couples at the Dallas Senior High School Saturday for an afternoon and evening of relaxed square dancing sponsored by the Penn-York Square Dancing Association.

Caller Carl Hanks and his Circle Eighthers, a group of dancers from Wyoming Valley and the Back Mountain Area, played host along with the Abington Allemanders, Pioneer Promenaders, Rare Squares and the Saints and Ain'ts. Mr. Hanks, joined by Dick Jones, Long Island, N.Y.; Harry Lackey, Greenboro, N.C.; Red Correll, Waymart, and Dot and Murray Truax, did the calling. One room was used for round dancing and one for challenge dancing.

A western roast beef dinner was catered in the school cafeteria.

Members of the Penn-York Square Dancing committee are: LaRoy Ziegler, Louise Furman, George Williams Jr., Laceta Williams, Margaret Lane, Isabelle Mannear and Charles H. Mannear.
