glee clubs to present public concert at C.M.

The College Misericordia Glee Club will combine with the Glee Club from St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia to present a public concert at College Misericordia, April 23, it was announced by Sister Eric Marie Setlock, RSM, director of the College Misericordia group. The two glee clubs will present the free concert in Walsh Auditorium on campus at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend. For the concert, the combined clubs will present Joseph Haydn's "Te Deum" in its entirety and will follow with selections from "South Pacific".

Following the combined selections, each club will present a series of classical, religious, and popular selections.

popular beverage

Tea drinking, which rose sharply during the sixties, will continue upward in the seventies, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Accounting for this upward trend is the popularity of instant tea products. Less loose tea is being used and more tea bags, instant crystals, and mixes are taking its place. Prices of tea bags are no higher now than in 1960.
