Have your taste buds ever gone on a world tour in one night? Those of 200 lucky people did last Tuesday evening when the Future Teachers of America Club of Lake-Lehman sponsored the school's first "International Night," a buffet dinner. Guests were delighted with the variety of tasty cuisine and wildly exotic atmosphere.

Amidst a springtime motif of daffodils and greenery, student waitresses modeled originally-designed foreign costumes, foreign music was heard, and international decor was attractively displayed in the cafeteria.

The dishes, a representative of some 20 different corners of the world, ranged from a Pennsylvania Dutch casserole of simplicity to a Pakistani entree of extravagance. Local connoisseurs were kept busy sampling as many novelty dishes as tummies could hold and recommending specialties to their friends. As a special treat, 35 different foreign desserts and 10 different breads were also offered, much to the delight of all in attendance. The dishes were donated and prepared by people of the community as well as by high school students and faculty.

Co-chairmen were senior Sandy Ashton and sophomore Theresa Derwin. Florence Worth, faculty member, served as finance chairman and co-ordinator, while Helen Rood headed the enthusiastic kitchen volunteer crew comprised of students and other school personnel. The purpose of International Night was to raise funds to enable Lake-Lehman's FTA to host 18 students and a faculty advisor from Ramapo High School, Spring Valley, N.Y., in an especially gracious manner. The students of both schools are participating in an exchange program; earlier in March, 18 Lake-Lehman students were hosted by Spring Valley students and their families. Although the club is comprised of only 20 active members, the scope of the affair was a large one and proved so successful that the dinner may well become a tradition at the local high school.

Stanley Szela, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were James MacDonagh, and Patrick Ranich, cousin of the bride. Joseph Malsky was ring bearer.

Mother of the bride wore an aqua dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias with blue ribbon. Mother of the bridegroom wore a powder blue dress with bone accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

A cocktail hour and dinner reception was held at Ciampi's Supper Club, West Pittston.

Mrs. Szela was graduated from Wyoming Area High School and Wilkes-Barre Business College. She was employed as secretary to the personnel director of Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

Mr. Szela, an alumnus of Central Catholic High School and West Side Vocational-Technical School is with the U.S. Air Force stationed in Anchorage, Alaska. After returning from their wedding trip, the couple will leave for Anchorage, Alaska, where Sgt. Szela will complete his tour of duty.

Concetta Hreha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Hreha, 216 Sullivan St., Exeter, was married to Ronald D. Szela, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Szela Jr., 47 Harris St., Fernbrook, May 15 at 11 a.m. in St. Anthony of Padua Church, Exeter.

The Rev. Lawrence Pio performed the double ring ceremony at a Nuptial Mass.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta trimmed with Venice lace, and a cathedral-length veil of silk illusion attached to a circle headpiece edged with Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of majestic daisies with a center of white roses and dracena leaves.

Joan Gilroy was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Christine Pisaneschi and Anne Hekl, cousin of the bride. Christine Malsky was flower girl.

The attendants wore identical gowns of violet chiffon over taffeta trimmed with Venice lace. Their picture hats were of violet horsehair with cascades of fabric flowers. They carried bouquets of majestic daisies with orchid streamers.

Lou Goeringer Predicts "13" Will be Lucky for Theatre 3

The bad luck superstitions traditionally surrounding the number "13" will reverse themselves this year, according to Lou Goeringer of Dallas, 1971-72 general chairman for College Misericordia's Theatre 3 organization. This year will be the organization's 13th year of presenting top entertainment in Wyoming Valley and will prove to be a lucky one for everyone who appreciates good entertainment.

Over the past 12 years, Theatre 3 has brought many internationally famous performers to the Valley, according to Mr. Goeringer. Some of the more memorable presentations were the French pantomime artist Marcel Marceau, the world famous Arthur Feidler and the Boston Pops Orchestra, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Mantovani, and the exciting piano team of Ferrante & Teicher.

For the 1971-72 entertainment season beginning next fall, Theatre 3 will present the popular singer John Gary, the 100-piece Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and the dynamic Young Americans, a group of young collegians who have sung and danced their way to international fame.

The Theatre 3 organization is also looking to this year to be a lucky one in terms of benefactors. The annual campaign for benefactors will begin June 2 with the annual President's Dinner at College Misericordia. The dinner traditionally honors past benefactors and serves as the starting point for the new year's campaign.

To become a benefactor, a person contributes $100 to Theatre 3 for use in the growth and development of College Misericordia. The contribution entitles the benefactor to two reserved seats for each of the three Theatre 3 performances.

Robert J. Gower, college coordinator for College Misericordia's Theatre 3, sees the benefactor's benefits from the contribution as twofold.

"Besides the obvious benefit of having two reserved seats for some of the best entertainment in Wyoming Valley, benefactors also have the reassurance that they are sharing in the furtherance of higher education and the dissemination of culture within the community," Mr. Gower said.

The 1971-72 Theatre 3 campaign goal will be 300 new benefactors.

Ramapo Students Are Lake-Lehman Guests

Eighteen high school students from Ramapo Senior High School are expected to arrive today for a five-day stay with students of Lake Lehman High School and their families. The visit represents the second part of an exchange program in which members of Lake-Lehman's Future Teachers of America have participated.

While in the Back Mountain community, the Ramapo students will enjoy a full round of special activities planned for them. These activities will include an all-day picnic at Ricketts Glen; dinner at a fine local restaurant, a visit to the Fine Arts Fiesta in Wilkes-Barre; viewing of Little Theater's production, "Sweet Charity"; and a bonfire-picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ashton.

The guests will attend classes at Lake-Lehman School during their stay and participate in panel discussions set up in various classes.

Following their arrival at the high school today, a coffee and doughnut hour will be held to acquaint the host families and students.

Funds with which to entertain the exchange students were raised at an "International Night" held at the high school May 11.

Students Enjoy Annual Picnic

The annual College Misericordia student-faculty picnic was held on campus Wednesday evening, despite the unseasonably cold, rainy weather. Sponsored by the student government of the college, the picnic traditionally fetes members of the faculty, administration, and staff and their families as the end of the academic year draws near.

Persons attending were treated to picnic lunch provided by the College Misericordia food services personnel. Later, the children attending participated in a series of games conducted by the students with prizes awarded to all the winners. A scheduled softball game between the students and faculty was cancelled due to rain.

Nesbitt Hospital Festival Plans Announced at Annual Luncheon

Plans for the 10th annual festival to be held June 16 were announced at the recent annual luncheon meeting of the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Frederick Eck, Lehigh Street, Shavertown, presided at the meeting held in the Nurses' Home, Kingstons. The festival will be open at 11 a.m. on the grounds of the Nurses' Home. Fire engine rides, a baby ride, an art exhibit, entertainment and activities are on the agenda day and evening.

The plant and floral arrangements for the luncheon were done by James Hutchison in memory of his late wife because they used to assume this responsibility.

Mrs. Charles Perkins, chairman of public relations, presented each member with a wallet-size card containing facts about the hospital. It was reported that since organizing, members have earned $200,000; operate the snack bar and hospitality shop; man the hospital cart; do hospital sewing; make puppets which are given to all children admitted; deliver mail; staff information desk; and carry on fund-raising projects.

Announcements were made of presidents elected at the April meetings of each of the eight branches. Mary Emmanul is president of the Rural Auxiliary and Mrs. William Austin is president of the Shavertown Auxiliary. Mrs. George Henderson and Pearl E. Gilroy are outgoing presidents of these branches.

Mrs. Perkins conducted the election. Slate of officers elected were Mrs. C. H. McCracken, president; Mrs. Howard Y. Harris, president-elect; Mrs. Durrell Seip, vice president; Mrs. Harold Davenport, secretary; Mrs. Leon Beisel, treasurer; Mrs. John Roberts, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Progress report meetings for the festival will be held May 25 and June 8.

Mrs. C. H. McCracken announced appointments to her board for the coming year.

Mrs. Abram Nesbitt, Lake Catalpa, was greeted upon her return after a long absence. Past presidents of the board in attendance were recognized: Mrs. Harold Shappelle, Mrs. William Newhart, Mrs. Robert Peters, Mrs. Charles Perkins, and Mrs. Calvin Seward.

Susan Ellen Tippett Engaged to Surgeon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Tippett, 120 Frangorma Drive, Westmoreland Hills, Trucksville, announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan Ellen, to Dr. James Morrow House, son of Mrs. James Morrow House 3rd, Fort Myers, Fla., and the late Mr. House.

Miss Tippett was graduated from Wyoming Seminary Day School and is a cum laude graduate of Wyoming Seminary. She will be graduated in June from Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. She has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa national honor society.

Dr. House was graduated from the University of Kansas undergraduate and medical schools. He served his internship at the Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital, Cooperstown, N.Y., and served one year at the Massachusetts General Hospital as a resident in general surgery and a three years' residency in surgery at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. He is a teaching fellow at Harvard University Medical School.

A late summer wedding is planned.

Elva Elston read the scripture lesson and Jennie Miers read the meditation and prayer. Members voted to give a $10.00 contribution to the Tri-County Migrant Committee.

After the meeting the hostesses, Agnes Elston and Elva Elston, served refreshments to the following: Dorothy Dodson, Ella Brace, Ann Weaver, Anna Maude Landon, Jennie Miers, Winifred Stompler, Dorothy Henney, Sylvia Brace, Dorothea Heinen, Naomi Ashburner, Doris Harrison, Arline Updyke and Mildred Lutes, who is visiting relatives and friends in the Back Mountain area.

WASHINGTON—Perishable fruits and vegetables produced in the winter gardens of Florida, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and California are quick-frozen to preserve their flavor and texture, and trucked all over the country at zero temperatures in refrigerated vans.

Misericordia Student Speaks on Transplants

Abby Jones, daughter of Natalie Jones, Tunkhannock Highway, Dallas, recently spoke to the seventh grade class of Mrs. Stanley Knapich at the Bennett Street School of Wyoming Valley School District.

Miss Jones, a senior biology major at College Misericordia, spoke on "The Mechanics of Heart Transplants." She used color-coded drawings to illustrate the progressive steps in the delicate operation.

The Dallas resident will graduate from College Misericordia this month. At college she has served as a biology lab assistant and is an active member of the Biological Society.

Miss Jones did her student teaching at Dallas Senior High School. Following graduation she plans to teach biology or chemistry.

CM Adds Art Courses To Summer Sessions

The summer session division of College Misericordia has added two new art courses to the selection of courses being offered this year, according to Edmund O'Neill, director of summer sessions at the college. The two new courses are applied art and printmaking.

Both courses are valued at three credits each and will meet Monday through Friday, June 28 to July 30. Applied art will be offered from 8:45 to 10:15. The class in printmaking will meet from 10:30 to 12. Sister Mary Flora Mulherin, RSM, assistant professor of art, will instruct the course.

In addition to the two art courses, 32 other courses will be offered at College Misericordia during the summer session. A complete list of courses being offered is available by contacting the director of summer sessions at the college.

The first day of class will be June 28. Registration will be held at the college from 9 to 4, June 22 through June 25. A special evening registration will be held June 23 from 6 to 9.

College Misericordia students enjoy a picnic lunch on the patio of Merrick Hall on campus during the annual student-faculty picnic. The picnic was later moved inside due to inclement weather.
