

Possible Termination in Sight For Police Answering Service

Unless contracts for 24-hour telephone answering service are signed in the near future by officials of Dallas Borough and Kingston Township, the service for the police departments of the two municipalities will be discontinued by Dallas Township, whose facilities have been used in the past by all three communities.

Board of Supervisors, Dallas Township, agreed on the proposed termination at their meeting Aug. 3. Board chairman Philip Walter stated he had tried to contact several officials of the two municipalities, on the matter, but was unable to do so. He said secretaries of Dallas Borough and Kingston Township will be contacted and if contracts to share costs of telephone operation are not signed, service will be discontinued immediately.

The board concurred in changing officially the name of the police department from Back Mountain to Dallas Township Police Department. The telephone number, 675-5251, remains the same.

In other action, secretary Glenn Howell was instructed to write letters to Kenneth Rice and Leo Rutkowski, developers of residential areas, informing them that the practice of grading lots down to blacktop roads must cease. Supervisor Fred Lamoreaux, who is also roadmaster, said the developers are not leaving five-foot berms, and water runs out onto the roads.

"These are not private roads but have been taken over by the township," observed Mr. Lamoreaux. "Also large boulders are being placed on the rights-of-way."

If conditions have not been rectified by Aug. 15, zoning officer Fred Dodson will be instructed to cease issuing building permits to the two developers.

John T. Appel and James L. Gruver were appointed regular policemen, subject to a six-months probationary period. Named as special officers were Albert Hoover and Walter Davis. The resignation of Frank Garris, school crossing guard, was accepted. A guard replacement will be sought by the township. Hourly rate of pay is $2.

Solicitor Frank Townend presented copies of resolution for adoption by board. Resolution confirmed zoning hearing board of Dallas Township, as official agency of the Board of Supervisors, "to approve, modify or disapprove any development plan in the Township of Dallas".
