

Members of the College Misericordia Alumnae Association Executive Committee met with College Misericordia president, Sister Miriam Teresa, RSM, to discuss plans for the college's 14th annual Homecoming Weekend. Homecoming will be the first weekend in October. L-R. Sister Miriam Teresa, RSM; Mrs. Willard Garey, Director of Alumnae Affairs at the college; and Attorney Grace Powers Monaco, Washington, D.C., President of the Alumnae Association.

Misericordia Plans Homecoming Weekend

The 14th annual Homecoming Weekend at College Misericordia has been set for Oct. 1, 2, and 3, according to director of alumnae affairs, Mrs. Willard Garey, with plans for the three day reunion finalized at a recent meeting of alumnae association officers. The officers met on campus to set the agenda for the series of workshops, seminars, and festivities to be held during the weekend.

College Misericordia graduates and their husbands will begin arriving for Homecoming Friday evening and will have the opportunity to meet with other alumnae at an informal reception in Kennedy Lounge. Saturday will consist of a series of meetings designed to reacquaint the graduates with the growing College Misericordia community and to explore possibilities for greater participation of the alumnae in college affairs. Homecoming Weekend will conclude on Sunday with a Communion Breakfast in Merrick Hall.

During the weekend, several classes will be feted as "reunion classes." Classes marking landmark years are 1931, 1936, 1941, 1946, 1951, 1956, 1961, 1966, and 1970. Representatives from all nine reunion classes are expected to attend.

The chairman for the 1971 College Misericordia Homecoming is Sandra Della Croce of Levittown. She will be assisted by Kathleen Eberhard Appert, also of Levittown, and by a committee of class agents. The honorary chairman of Homecoming is Attorney Grace Powers Monaco of Washington, D.C., president of the College Misericordia Alumnae Association.

Summertime is camp time and so many local youngsters have spent their vacations at a variety of interesting camps. Jay Troup, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Troup of Shrine View and Guthrie Conyngham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Conyngham on Pioneer Avenue, jetted all the way to our 49th state to attend the Alaska Outdoor Educational Camp located about 100 miles south of Fairbanks, Alaska. They found it the most exciting experience of their young lives.

Delta Junction was the site of their base camp and from there they took such expenditures as a trip to Mt. McKinley, explored a glacier, and a 60-mile all-day mini-bike hike. Camp food was a far cry from the usual run of camp food. The boys dined on such exotic things as fresh salmon, caribou meat and rabbit cooked cowboy style. Jay was awarded the prize for being the Champion Eater and professed to really like both rabbit and caribou. Guthrie was given the Best Fisherman award and found snagging salmon his true sport.

The boys were given instructions in the use of all types of guns and bows and arrows and lessons in geology but they never had time to pan for gold. The weather stayed in the 70's during most of the day. Although one day it did reach 90 and one night was extremely cold. They saw a wide variety of wildlife, caribou, moose, blond grizzly bears, black bears and Dall sheep. However their favorite was the Parkie which is a type of gopher or prairie dog. The Parkies are tame and love to play and be fed by curious boys.

Jay was amazed by the large number of lakes and the vast wealth of the state of Alaska. Schools were modern and all education, even college, is cheap for the residents because of the state's aid. But only two state troopers were needed to cover the 150 miles of mostly dirt roads around the Delta Junction area. The eskimos they saw all lived in log cabins. Experiencing 22 to 24 hours of daylight for the first time, they reported no difficulty in going to sleep.

On the far eastern tip of the "lower 48" states, Jock Conyngham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conyngham of Sutton Road, has been attending Camp Chewonki in Maine. He was one of eight boys to take a five-week canoe trip down the Allagash River in the Maine wilderness. Only making one rendezvous for mail and supplies, this is a true experience in surviving under the most difficult conditions.

Camp letters have been the subject for books and articles but our young friends can add their share. Ann Troup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Troup, Jr., Sutton Road, wrote her family in the philosophical vein - "A smile makes the heart feel good." Ann and Jennifer Maslow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maslow, Sutton Road, attended Brownledge Camp in Burlington, Vt.

Jack Hogoboom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hogoboom who attended Camp Susquehannock wrote his father to inquire "How is the house?"

But the most humorous was that of Debbie Schalm, who in response to her dad's request to drop him a few lines, did just that. Her letter read, Dear Dad, ——— Love, Debbie Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schalm III of Huntsville Road, and she has been attending Camp Rock Run in Pottstown where horseback riding is her specialty.

Other girls from this area also attending Camp Rock Run are Sarah Conyngham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conyngham of Sutton Road; Joan Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vivian of Lehman Road; and Kim Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner Jr., of Orange.

Julie Paterson, daughter of Mrs. John Shane of Sutton Road, and Alison Conyngham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conyngham of Sutton Road, selected the Betsey Cox Camp in Rutland, Vt., for their summer fun.

Closer to home, Charles Umphred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Umphred of Sutton Road, enjoyed his two-week sojourn at Camp St. Andrew near Tunkhannock.

Best wishes for a happy 44th wedding anniversary Aug. 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bertram of Huntsville Road, Chase.

Stolen $1,000 Calf Returned to Owner

A newborn calf weighing approximately 90 pounds was stolen from its maternity pen July 28 and returned the following night, according to the owner, Ralph Sands, RD 3, Wyoming.

Mr. Sands said the 5-day-old calf, a registered Holstein, was taken from his barn in Carverton sometime during Wednesday night, but he was unable to determine the exact time. However, it was placed back in the barn Tuesday night.

"I suppose the thief or thieves realized they were going to be in deep trouble," declared Mr. Sands.

A value of $1,000 was placed on the calf by the owner, who said it was the granddaughter of the former Pennsylvania State Champion, Lochinvar Fond Nig (Ex. 92).

Institute Registrations At C.M. Nears Deadline

Although out-of-state registration for College Misericordia's Third Annual Institute on Sacred Scripture officially ended July 20, area residents have until the time of the first session Aug. 16 to register, it was announced by institute director, Sister Marianna RSM. The previous registration deadline was for persons who desired to reside on campus during the institute. Persons commuting to the institute may still register.

The institute is open to both members of the clergy and of the laity, according to Sister Marianna, and is designed to offer a week of concentrated study of the scriptures conducted by scripture experts. This year's guest lectures will be the Rev. Joseph A. Fitzmyer, University of Chicago; the Rev. Eugene H. Maly, Mt. St. Mary's of the West; and the Rev. Roland E. Murphy, Duke University.

The institute will begin Monday evening, Aug. 16, and will continue through Saturday morning, Aug. 21. There is a tuition fee for the entire institute, but individual lectures may be attended on a fee per day basis.

Interested persons should contact Sister Marianna at College Misericordia.
