Food Shopping Habit Many foodshoppers don't realize how costly it is to wheel a shopping cart to the parking lot and leave it to be hit or damaged by a car. Each of these shopping carts costs the store owner $35 to $50, possibly more, says Harold E. Neigh, extension consumer economics specialist at The Pennsylvania State University. Carts are part of the cost of doing business and when shoppers wheel them away the cost of business goes up. These losses can result in higher food prices for every foodshopper.
