

Jackson Twp.

If you should hear bells ringing Dec. 18 around 7 p.m., you can be sure it will be old Saint Nick himself on his way to the Jackson Township Fire Hall. Every year at this time he arrives to meet and greet all the children of our community under 12. He brings them a candy-filled stocking and joins in their carol singing. The women of the auxiliary will serve cookies and cold drinks to all who attend. Carl Aston is chairman of arrangements this year.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Jackson Fire Company held its annual Christmas party at the Fire Hall Dec. 8. The men of the fire company presented all the women who are life members of the auxiliary with a box of candy in appreciation for the cooperation they have given throughout the past year. It was announced that a profit of $220 was realized at the recent Christmas bazaar. Individual Christmas tree favors were made by Mary Hughes for each of the 24 members who attended. Gifts were exchanged. The Brownies of Troop 658 will hold their Christmas party at the Jackson Fire Hall Dec. 18 from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Cory Askew, leader, has announced that "Chickie," a member of the local popular musical group known as "Chickie and the Relations" will entertain the Brownies. "Chickie," otherwise known as Bernard Hrabowski of Oak Hill, will use an electric guitar and amplifiers to accompany the girls in their carol singing. Gifts will also be exchanged and refreshments served. Mrs. Bernard Hrabowski is assistant troop leader.

Mary Ashton, who resides with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ashton, is spending the Christmas holidays with her daughter, Jessie Wossner in Norristown. She has a surprise in store upon her return. There will be two handsome deer heads ready to mount and a lot of venison in the freezer. Her daughter-in-law, Charlotte

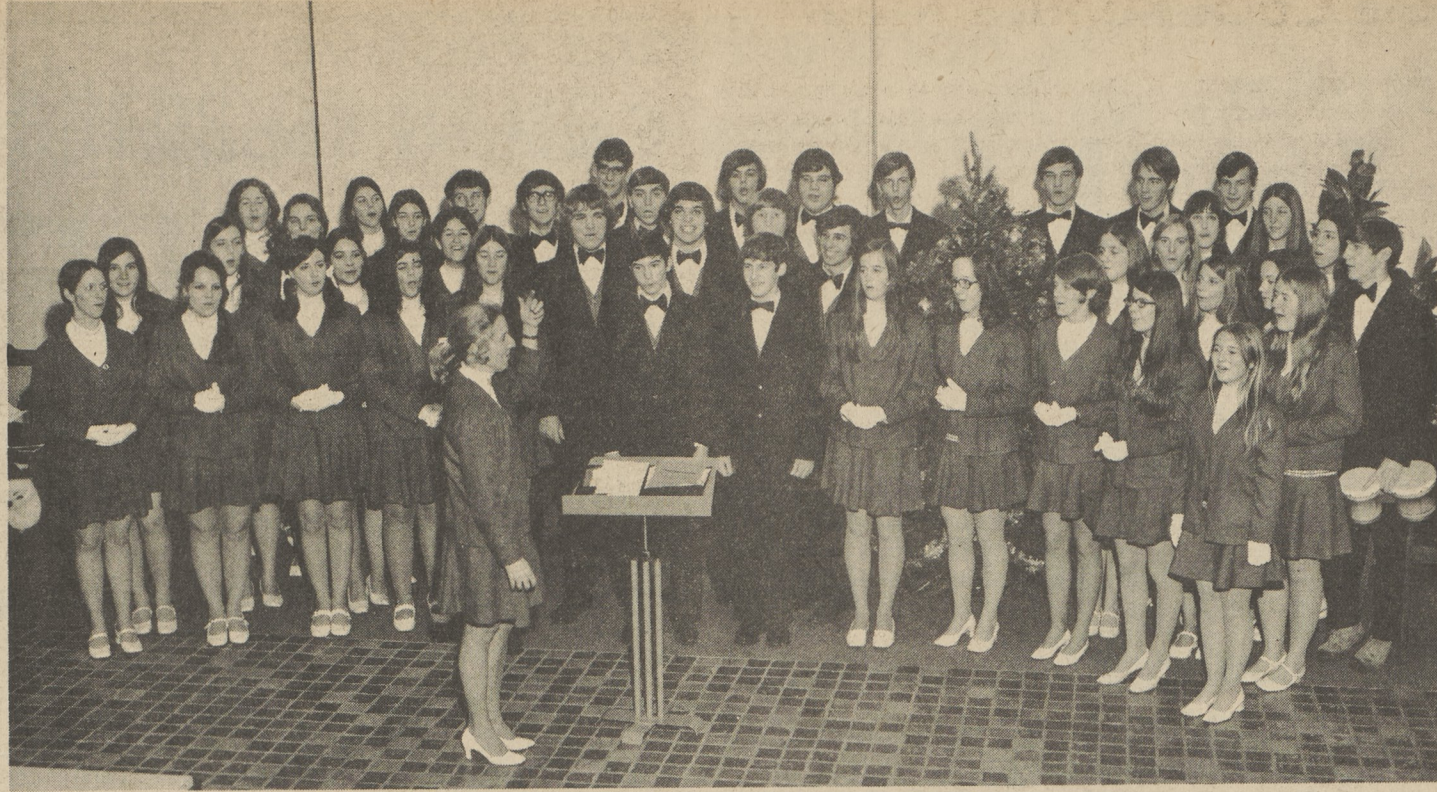

Ashton, shot a three-point buck the opening day of the season. Not to be outdone by his wife, Albert brought home his trophy, a six-point buck, about 10 days later.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lamoreaux were honored at a dinner recently on the occasion of their 36th wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris of Stevensville. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weaver of Dover, N.J.

The Newberry Estate will be the setting for a bridge luncheon to be held Dec. 21 at 11:30. The hostesses are Mrs. Jack Banks, Mrs. Joseph Brennan and Mrs. Oliver Troup Jr.

Rachael Williams of Allentown recently visited her cousins, Betty Jones, Janet Hogg, and Ed Fielding at their home on Follies Road.

Mrs. Guy Zerfoss Sr. has returned to her home on the Chase-Hillside Road after having been a patient at the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital.

Last Friday evening, customers at the Dallas Village Office of The First National Bank of Eastern Pennsylvania enjoyed a program of Christmas music presented by the Dal-Hi Choristers of the Dallas Senior High School. Directing the choristers, above, is Mrs. Robert Sherwood.

Students To Read Literary Selections

Part two of a two-part presentation on the oral interpretation of literature will be held in Kennedy Lounge at College Misericordia today, according to Assistant Professor of Theatre Arts, Muriel Slaff, with four College Misericordia students participating.

The presentation will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will be open to the public. Refreshments will be available.

The students participating in the presentation will read selections from poetry, prose, and drama. Reading will be Kathy Warner, Acton, Mass.; Yvonne Hager, Wilkes-Barre; Andrea Renna, Old Forge; and Sandy Valentine, Victor, N.Y.

Martha Robinson, Elmcrest Drive, Dallas, is a patient in Geisinger Medical Center, Danville.

Mrs. William Bicking, RD, Dallas, has returned home from Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, where she was a medical patient.

Christine Bolinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bolinski, 124 Lehman Ave., Dallas, is a medical patient in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

William Bicking, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bicking, Memorial Highway, Dallas, who has been a surgical patient in National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, will return home this weekend for the holidays. Mr. Bicking will re-enter the National Institute of Health about Jan. 15 to undergo further surgery.

Back Mountain Career Women held their Christmas party last Saturday at the home of June McClosky and Blanche Thompson. Freda Hughey and Alice Yapple were in charge of the Christmas program.

Members of the Wyoming Seminary Faculty Wives Club met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Meeks, Pinecrest Avenue, Dallas, to package and wrap Christmas cookies. The group carries out the project each year and distributes the Christmas cookies to older local alumni of the school, some of whom are shut-ins. The members decorate cans with festive holiday trimmings and fill the containers with cookies which they have packed. Co-chairman for the project were Mrs. Edward Shafer and Mrs. Philip Post.

Thomas Reese, Dallas Borough, and Daniel Richards, Dallas Township, tax collectors, will close their books Dec. 18.

After that date all 1971 taxes will have to be paid at the courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frantz, RD Dallas, will entertain their son, Rick and his wife Nan, their grandson Christian, as well as their daughter, Melanie, over the holidays. Melanie is a student at Wellesley College.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rodda, Pioneer Avenue, Dallas, will entertain their neighbors at their annual Christmas gathering this Sunday at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Maturi, Demunds Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ruggles, Orchard View Terrace, entertained at a pre-Christmas party Dec. 11, at the Maturi home.

Mrs. Gavin C. Barr, outstanding junior member of the National Society, DAR, for 1971 was guest speaker at the December meeting of the Wyoming Valley Chapter held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George A. Butler, Huntsville Road, Dallas. Mrs. Dudley Weiss presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Barr is a resident of Bethlehem. She is the wife of a physician and mother of four children. She is a member and past vice regent of the Liberty Bell Chapter. Her topic was "Is the DAR for You, Young Lady."

Dallas Woman's Club Chorale under the direction of Mrs. David Wojciechowski, entertained at the annual Christmas party of Wilkes-Barre Quota Club Monday night in the Adams Room of Hotel Sterling. Mrs. Walter Steltz was accompanist for the program.

REST OF DEER SEASON The Game Commission again appealed to deer hunters to exercise utmost restraint and caution between now and the end of the deer hunting season. On the first day of the small game season 98 hunting accidents were recorded, although most were of the "one pellet" variety—that is, minor in nature. Last year there were five fatalities for the first week of the antlered deer season. This year there have been three recorded thus far. In 1970 there were three fatal hunting mishaps during the second week of the buck season and during the two-day antlerless deer season. Game Commission officials are hopeful that none will be registered this year. Safety experts again appeal to all deer hunters to wear fluorescent orange—at least caps and vests. The few dollars invested for a cap and vest might save a lot of worry and misery and could very well even save a life. WIN a one-year subscription to the Dallas Post by entering Daring's "First Baby of the Year Contest."
